PREFATORY NOTE.

THIS book contains the remaining portion of volume IX of the Public Records of the Colony of Connecticut, from page 447, and also pages 1 to 310, inclusive, of volume X of the same series.

It is not known that the Journals of either House of the General Assembly are extant for any of the six years covered by this publication. The Journal of the Governor and Council has also disappeared.

Appended is the book of Reasons why the British Colonies in America should not be charged with Internal Taxes by authority of Parliament, to which reference is made on pages 256 and 299 of this volume. Governor Fitch was the principal compiler and draughtsman of it, as Mr. Ingersoll informs us. The original edition was of five hundred copies, and Mr. Ingersoll took one hundred and twelve with him to England.

Comm. Hist. Soc.

After 1762, it does not appear that the General Assembly appointed a committee to hear the records read off and to see them signed by the Secretary as perfect and complete. It is evident that considerable portions of the record were not compared with the original bills, and this may account for various errors and omissions. The editor has endeavored to supply the omissions from the files, and what has been supplied is enclosed in brackets.

Resolved by this Assembly, That the Secretary be directed with the assistance of the attorneys concerned, or otherwise as he shall think best, to take an account of the several petitions and memorials that are of a private nature between party and party, which are entered for hearing at this Assembly, and allowing one, two, or more as he shall judge convenient, to be heard on each day successively; that he enter and put down the same in a list or docket accordingly, assigning such certain number to each day as aforesaid; and his Honor the Governor is desired to call on such petitions and memorials to [500] be heard according to such list or docket, || and in the forenoon of the respective days assigned as aforesaid, unless for want of time any should remain unheard in the forenoon then the same to come on the next succeeding afternoon, or as soon after as may be; and that all pleas in abatement shall be made in writing and delivered to the adverse party or his council the day before the same is assigned for hearing: Provided nevertheless, that if the parties concerned in any cause shall mutually consent to have the same come on at any other time than here specified, and acquaint his Honor the Governor therewith, and it be found that the same may be done consistently with the other business of the Assembly, in that case his Honour will permit the same to be done, if he shall think proper.

Whereas his Excellency Sir Jeffery Amherst, Commander-in-Chief of his Majesty's forces in North America, by his letter to his Honor the Governor, dated 15th April last, hath represented that he hath undoubted proof of the enemy being supplied with provisions from almost every port on the continent of North America, and the necessity of putting an effectual stop to such infamous practices, particularly at a time when there is the greatest demand for provisions to supply the King's troops, and requesting that such merchants who have quantities of provisions in store for exportation be obliged to deliver what they have in their stores to persons that are appointed to purchase the same for the crown, that the King's service may be carried on and may not suffer for want of that most essential article; and by an another letter, dated 5th instant, hath represented that several persons belonging to this Colony practice a most iniquitous trade, which is not only infamous in itself but occasions great difficulty in procuring the necessary supply for carrying on his Majesty's service, by sending off their vessels on cruising voyages, supposed to be with provisions, and keeping great quantities of provisions in store which they will not sell, owing it is presumed to their expectations of getting a higher price by sending it to the enemy, which they can easily do since the restraint already laid on the ports has but little effect, as vessels do go out daily without any clearances at all: Which representations deserve the public attention and diligence to search after and discover the truth and circumstances of the matters complained of, that the mischiefs and difficulties attending such infamous practices may be prevented and redressed, as well as to set in a true light such things as may have been misrepresented to the injury of the inhabitants of the Colony and of the characters of particular persons within the same: It is therefore resolved by this Assembly, that his Honor the Governor be and he is hereby desired to enquire after the truth of the matters of complaint mentioned in said letters, relative to the practices of any of the inhabitants of this Colony, that such as are iniquitous and illicit may be prevented and punished; and wherein he finds any of them misrepresented, to set them in a true light before the General. And also, that the King's service may not suffer for want of the barrel-pork which may be had in this Colony and the General hath employed persons to purchase here, his Honour the Governor is hereby desired, (if he shall judge it necessary, and on proper application made to him therefor,) to give a warrant directed to some suitable person to impress such barrel-pork as is or may be found in stores or already put on board any vessel or vessels and kept by the merchants on purpose for exportation and is wanted to supply the King's troops; and that he nominate and appoint in and by the same warrant three or more judicious and disinterested merchants that shall under oath apprise the same by the barrel, and the value at which such barrel-pork is set and apprized being first paid to the owner or owners thereof, order the same to be delivered to the persons employed to purchase it for the supply of the King's forces, and may be transported out of this Colony accordingly.

[501] Whereas there is a scarcity of wheat, indian corn and rye in this Colony for the support of its inhabitants, and also a demand for barrel-pork and beef for the supply of the King's forces in North America, whereby an embargo is rendered necessary: It is resolved by this Assembly, that his Honor the Governor be and he is hereby desired to issue and send forth his proclamation, thereby to prohibit and forbid the transporting or shipping on board for transportation out of this Colony, barrel-pork, beef, wheat, indian corn and rye, that the same may be retained for the use of the inhabitants of this Colony: excepting what may be wanted for his Majesty's service. That this prohibition be extended and continue in force until the 15th day of July next.

Whereas it is represented to this Assembly that some provisions, principally grain, some time since have been purchased in this Colony for the supply of the pressing necessities of people belonging to some of the neighbouring governments and are now ready for transportation and prohibited by the present embargo: Resolved by this Assembly, that on proper application and satisfactory representation thereof made by the owner of such provisions or master of such vessel on board whereof the same may be laden, to his Honor the Governor, he is hereby desired to grant his permit for the transportation thereof to such place or places for which the same was designed.

Whereas this Assembly at a sessions in March last enacted that whatever money granted by Parliament for the services of this Colony in the years 1759 and 1760, that is not already appropriated for sinking and discharging bills of credit emitted in March, 1758, March, 1759, and March, 1760, should be appropriated for sinking the bills of credit emitted in May, 1759, and so far as it would go towards sinking the bills emitted in February, 1759, and the further direction concerning the same was referred to an after consideration: Whereupon it is considered, that sufficient provision is made at this time for sinking the bills emitted in May, 1759, with part of the money granted for the services in the year 1759. And as no provision is now made for sinking any part of the bills emitted in February, 1759, so the Treasurer is hereby directed to send forth his warrants for collecting the whole of the tax of five pence on the pound made and ordered for sinking and discharging the last mentioned bills.

To the Hon^{ble} the General Assembly of the Colony of Connecticut now sitting in Hartford :

The committee appointed by your Honours to consider and report what further provision is necessary to be made for the soldiery in the service of this Colony who are ordered to the southward beg leave to report it as our opinion, that a sum not exceeding four hundred pounds in silver or gold, (if to be had) otherwise in bills, be delivered into the hands of General Lyman, and that he be directed to deliver the same out [502] according to his discretion for the necessity, comfort or refreshment of the troops under his command during the campaign ; and what he may so deliver out to any other than the sick, to be delivered in such manner as that the receiver shall be accountable for what he shall so receive as part of wages ; and that the said General Lyman on his return render his account of the disposition of said money and settle the same with the Committee of the Pay-Table. All which is submitted by your Honours humble servants. 21st May, 1762.

Signed per order, JABEZ HAMLIN.

And the Treasurer is hereby desired to call upon the several king's attorneys and agents for the government who have received such bonds and credits for their accounts of their doings thereon.

Whereas this Assembly in some late sessions have had before them under consideration a bill for a law relative to Bankruptcy, committed the same to Jonathan Trumble, Esqr, desiring him to inspect and correct the same as propriety should require, and this Assembly being informed that such amendment is not compleated: This Assembly do hereby further desire the said Trumble to proceed and compleat said bill in order for its passing into a law, and lay the same before this Assembly in October next.

[509] An Act for raising by Voluntary Enlistment two hundred and twenty-six effective Men including Officers for garrisoning the several Forts on this Continent and for the Protection of the Frontiers and keeping up the necessary Communication through the Country during the ensuing Winter and until the first Day of July next.

Whereas his Honour the Governor has communicated to this Assembly a letter from his Excellency General Amherst of the 4th of August last, therein requesting the continuance of a number of the troops in the pay of this Colony during the ensuing winter, for the protection of the several forts and country in general: This Assembly being sensible of the importance of the service aforesaid and desirous to promote the same,

It is therefore resolved and enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That there be proper encouragement given for the new enlisting two hundred and twenty-six able-bodied men, including officers, viz: two captains and four lieutenants of the troops now in the pay of this Colony,* or others in case such are not to be obtained, to continue during the ensuing winter and until the first day of July next, (unless his Majesty's service will admit of their being released sooner. And for the encouragement of such inlisting, each non-commissioned officer and soldier shall have a bounty of three pounds, which with one months advance pay shall be paid him upon enlistment; and that each commission officer shall also have advanced one months pay upon his being commissioned or appointed for said service; which advance pay for both officers and soldiers shall be the same as in the present campaign with the addition of forty shillings per month to each captain, and twenty shillings per month to each lieutenant, to commence from the first day of December next and to continue during the service.

And his Honour the Governor is desired, in such manner as he shall think proper, to inform the troops of this Colony now in camp at Crown Point the purport of this act and order, and direct the principal officer to use his influence with the soldiery to encourage the inlisting aforesaid, and generally to do everything necessary to carry this act into execution.

* The officers who served were, Capt. Thomas Pearce, Lieutenants Levi Wells and David Rumsey, in one company, and Capt. Joseph Hait with Samuel Mott and Moses Smith as lieutenants in the other company. Ebenezer Jesup served as surgeon. War, X, 175, 179, 188.

This Assembly having determined to encourage the new enlisting two hundred twenty-six men, including officers, for garrisoning the several forts on this continent and for the protection of the frontiers during the ensuing winter,

It is now resolved by this Assembly, That the Committee of the Pay-Table be directed, and they are hereby directed, to draw orders on the Treasurer of this Colony to pay and deliver to Captain Thomas Pierce of Col. Whiting's regiment the sum of fourteen hundred pounds in bills of this Colony, to be by him delivered over to Col. Nathan Whiting at Crown Point, out of which sum the said Col. Whiting is hereby directed to pay to the officers that shall be appointed to stay during the winter &c., and to the soldiers who shall anew enlist for said service, the several sums ordered them by an act of the General Assembly made and passed this sessions, taking proper receipts therefor; and the remainder to be improved by the said Col. Whiting according to his discretion, for the comfortable return home of the regiment under his command. And what money he shall pay out on the last mentioned service he is directed to pay in such manner as that the receivers shall account for the same as part of their wages. And the said Colonel Whiting to account for the whole with the Committee of the Pay-Table on his return home.

Resolved by this Assembly, That the Secretary be directed, with the assistance of the attornies concerned or otherwise as he shall think best, to take an account of the several petitions and memorials that are of a private nature between party and party, which are entered for hearing at this Assembly, and allowing one, two or more as he shall judge convenient, to be heard on each day successively; that he enter and put down the same in a list or docket accordingly, assigning such certain number to each day as aforesaid. And his Honour the Governor is desired to call on such petitions and memorials to be heard according to such list or docket, and in the forenoon of the respective days assigned as aforesaid, unless for [510] want of time any should remain unheard in the forenoon, || then the same to come on the next succeeding afternoon, or as soon after as may be; and that all pleas of abatement shall be made in writing and delivered to the adverse party or his council the day before the same is assigned for hearing: Provided nevertheless, that if the parties concerned in any cause shall mutually consent to have the same come on at any other time than here specified and acquaint his Honour the Governor therewith, and it be found that the same may be done consistently with the other business of the Assembly, in that case his Honour will permit the same to be done, if he shall think proper.

Upon the petition of Ann Morison, widow and relict of Doct. Normand Morison late of Hartford, deceased, and one of the executors of the last will of the said Normand, also late widow and the only surviving executor of Capt. John Smith formerly of said Hartford, deceased, and George Smith, William Smith, Robert Nevins and Mary his wife, all of said Hartford, said George, William and Mary being the only children and heirs of said deceased John, and Daniel Marsh jun. and Ann his wife, and John Walker and Marion his wife, and William Knox and Jennet his wife of said town, the said Ann, Marion and Jennet the only children, and Normand Morison and Margaret Morison grandchildren of said deceased Normand, the said grandchildren being minors appearing by their

guardian the said widow Ann Morison ; representing to this Assembly that the said Normand and Ann Morison as executors of the said deceased John Smith, the said Normand in right of his said wife having had the care and management of divers sums of money and estate belonging to the said deceased John, the said Normand for securing the same had made and executed to Col. John Whiting and George Wyllys, Esq^{rs}, guardians of said heirs of said John Smith, a deed of several pieces and parcels of land and estate in trust to and for the use and benefit of the said heirs for the purpose aforesaid, and that afterwards the said several heirs of said deceased John Smith coming of age had endeavored a settlement of their said portions with the said Normand Morison that had come into his hands and had received considerable sums of him therefor, and thereupon had given the said Morison a general release and discharge of their said parts and portions of said estate of the said John, deceased, and of further demands thereon, but did not in any other way release said lands ; further representing that since the death of said Normand sundry papers had been discovered whereby they, said heirs of said Smith, are induced to think there has been some mistake and oversight to their prejudice in said settlement, and thereupon have claimed said lands and sold the same for their satisfaction in the premises, which lands have been by the said Normand Morison by his last will given and disposed to and among his said children and grandchildren &c., who insist that the aforesaid heirs of said Smith have received what was justly due from the said deceased Normand, for which said lands were secured as aforesaid, which had occasioned law-suits and much trouble and contention ; further shewing, that all the parties concerned are desirous of having said matters settled and quieted and to have right done to each and every one, any omissions or mistakes in the past transactions about those matters notwithstanding, and which it is difficult for the parties to do among themselves, more by reason of the minority of said grandchildren ; praying to have some suitable persons appointed a committee, to look into said matters of difference and claims and report to this Assembly what and how much, if || anything, be further due in equity to said several children of said John Smith or to any of them, and from whom and how and in what manner the same ought to be paid, and further, how and in what manner said land and estate ought to be quieted to the devisees of the said Normand, deceased, and for this Assembly to enforce a compliance therewith &c. ; as by the petition on file may more at large appear. And this Assembly being also further acquainted that, since the preferring of said petition, the aforesaid Marion, wife of the said John Walker, hath died, leaving several children her heirs, all of whom are minors and by their said father and natural guardian as well as by the other parties concerned are desired to be included in and entituled to the relief prayed for by said petition: It is thereupon resolved by this Assembly, that Jonathan Trumble and John Chester, Esq^{rs}, and Doct. Daniel Lotthrop be and they are hereby appointed a committee to look into the several matters mentioned in said petition as aforesaid, and make their report to this Assembly in May next of what they shall find in the premises with their opinion thereon.

D. 1763, and the same action shall accordingly be entered in the docket of said superior court for trial; and all cost shall follow the final issue of said cause.

Upon the petition of John Wooden jun., of New Haven in the county of New Haven, representing that John Hotchkiss, of said New Haven, at the superior court held at said New Haven on the last Tuesday of August, 1762, recovered final judgment against him in an action of trespass on the case, for the sum of £1000 lawful money damage and £5 16s. 1d. cost, and complaining of error in said judgment of said superior court, and praying that said judgment might be reversed and he restored to all the damage he hath sustained thereby, as by the petition on file may at large appear: Resolved by this Assembly, that there is manifest error in said judgment of said superior court. Whereupon it is ordered and enacted by this Assembly, that the said judgment of said superior court shall be, and the same is hereby, reversed and set aside, and that the said John Wooden jun. shall recover for his damage sustained thereby of the said Hotchkiss the sum of three pounds nineteen shillings and three pence, and

[535] We the subscribers, being mutually chosen by the tribe of Indians at Nehantick in Lyme on the one part, and Edward Champlin, Joseph Smith &c. of said Lyme on the other part, to settle and determine a controversy subsisting between said parties, respecting a piece of land lying in said Nehantick commonly known by the name of the upper hundred acres, and is part of a large tract of land formerly granted to Joseph and Jonathan Bull of Hartford, and by them conveyed to Nehemiah Smith, Esq^r, of Groton, wherein said parties agree to be concluded as to the ancient bounds of said tract by our judgment on the bounds mentioned in said deed from said Joseph and Jonathan Bull to said Nehemiah Smith, and that the said land be then equally divided by us for quantity and quality, which settlement when so made by us the parties agree to stand by and acquiesce in and shall put a final end to any further controversy respecting said lands; and having met at said Nehantick on the 8th day of April, 1762, the parties being all present, we viewed said lands and heard all their talks and debates respecting said lands, and agreed to bound and divide the said land as follows, viz: Beginning on the west side at the head of the creek at a spring about one rod northwestward of Indian Joseph's house, from thence east 31 d. south 120 rods a straight line across the neck to a point of rocks on Nehantick Bay, said hundred acres lying on the north side of said line and bounded east on said Nehantick Bay, north on said Champlin's land, and west on the brook which runs into the creek; which piece of land we divide between the parties by a straight line beginning at a cherry tree with stones about it standing under the hill about 30 rods west from said Champlin's dwelling-house and about one rod east of a gate and bars going into Black Point; thence running south $3\frac{1}{2}$ d. west 148 rods, to a heap of stones in the line above described which divides the upper from the middle hundred acres and is about eleven rods westward from the point of rocks above mentioned: the said Indians to have all the lands on the west side this line, and the said Champlin &c. to have all the land on the east side of said line; excepting and reserving to the Indians the perpetual use of their burying place, which is on that part of said tract, to bury their dead. And whereas the highway down to Black Point is on the Indians' part of land in this division, we would signify that a proper allowance hath been made to them in this division therefor. All which we have done according to our best judgment and skill, the rules of equity and justice, and to the general satisfaction of the parties.

An Act for Relief of Insolvent Debtors who are willing to make Discovery of and deliver upon Oath their Estates for their Creditors' Benefit, and to release such Debtors from Imprisonment.

Whereas provisions for the ease and relief of such debtors who shall be willing to satisfy their creditors to the utmost of their power may likewise prove for the benefit of such creditors by preventing such debtors from wasting their estates, which ought to be applied towards payment of their debts, and avoiding many inconveniences that often happen to creditors and debtors in cases of insolvency: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That any person or persons who heretofore have been or hereafter shall be arrested at the suit of any creditor or creditors, or charged in executions for any sum or sums of money and thereon confined in gaol, who is, are or shall be willing to pay and satisfy their creditors so far as they are able, and to give up his, her or their estate or estates for the benefit of his, her or their creditors to be distributed among them in discharge of their debts as far as the same will extend, may exhibit a petition to the superior courts, or to the judges of said court in the vacation, or any two of them, certifying the cause of his, her or their imprisonment, setting forth a just and true account of all the sums of money owing by him, her or them, and of the persons to whom, and also a true and compleat inventory of all his, her or their estate or estates, both real and personal, in law and equity, and books, bonds, notes and securities relating to the same or any part thereof, except the necessary wearing apparel and bedding of such debtor or debtors and of his and their several wives and children, and praying for the relief provided in this act; and thereupon the said court, judges, or any two of them, are hereby empowered to administer to such debtor or debtors an oath to the effect following:

You A. B. do solemnly swear by the Everliving God, that the petition by you presented doth contain a just and true account of all the monies owing by you, of the persons to whom, and of all your estate real or personal both in law and equity, either in possession, reversion or remainder, to the best of your knowledge and remembrance, except the necessary wearing apparel and bedding of yourself, your wife and children, and that you have not at any time before or since your imprisonment, directly or indirectly, sold, conveyed, made over or otherwise disposed of, either in trust for yourself or otherwise than is mentioned in the same account, any part of your lands, estate, goods, stock, money, debts, or other real and personal estate, whereby, to have or receive any benefit or profit to yourself or your family, or with any view or design to deceive, injure or defraud any of your creditors: So help you God.

Which oath being taken by such debtor or debtors, the said court, judges, or any two of them, being satisfied of the truth thereof shall make a rule or order that the creditor or creditors at whose suit such prisoner or prisoners shall stand committed shall be summoned to appear at time and place by said court, judges, or any two of them, appointed for hearing and examining the matter of such petition; and a copy of such rule and order shall be served on such creditor or creditors, or the attorney last employed by him or them, or left at their respective dwelling-houses or usual places of abode, twenty days at least before said day for hearing as aforesaid; and also notice shall thereupon be given by such debtor or debtors to all their creditors, by advertising the same in one or more of the public news-papers, to shew cause by the day appointed as aforesaid, why an assignment of the estate of such debtor or debtors should not be made and the debtor or debtors thereupon discharged from his, her or their imprisonment; at [7] which day if the || creditors do not shew sufficient cause to the contrary thereof, the said court, judges, or any two of them, shall direct a legal grant, conveyance and a short assignment of such debtor or debtors' estate or estates, both in law or equity, to be made by him or them to such persons as the said court, judges, or any two of them, shall appoint for that purpose, and the same shall thereby vest in the assignees so appointed according to the estate and interest the prisoner had therein, and they may take possession and sue for the recovery of the same, and no release of such prisoner, his executors or administrators, or any trustee for him subsequent to such assignment and conveyance, shall be pleadable in bar of any action or suit which shall be commenced by such assignees for any of the prisoner's estate, debts or effects; and upon such assignment and conveyance being executed, the prisoner shall be discharged out of custody by rule or order of the said court, judges, or any two of them; and such rule or order being produced to and copy thereof left with the sheriff or gaoler shall be a sufficient warrant to him to discharge such prisoner.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That such assignees shall have power and authority to sell and dispose of the estate of such debtor or debtors and to execute good and sufficient deeds of the same, to redeem all mortgages and conditional contracts, and to recover all monies, goods, chattels, effects and estates whatsoever, belonging to such debtor or debtors, in their own names, to and for the use of the creditors, and shall have full power and authority to submit any dispute concerning any part of such estate, effects, or any matter or thing relating thereto, or in respect of any debt claimed to be due to such prisoner to the final determination of arbitrators chosen by the assignees and the party or parties with whom any such difference shall be, or otherwise settle and agree the matter as such assignees shall think fit and can agree, and the same shall be binding to all concerned; and the assignees indemnified for what they shall faithfully and justly do in the premises. And in all cases where mutual credit shall have been given between such prisoner and any other person before the delivery of the petition and inventory of such prisoner's estate and effects upon oath as before directed, the assignees shall on their part state and allow an account between them, and nothing more shall be deemed as the estate and effects of such prisoner than what shall appear to have been due and coming to him on the balance of such account; and the assignees shall proceed to convert the estate of such debtor or debtors into money as soon as conveniently may be, and shall within a reasonable space of time, not exceeding twelve months, proceed to make a division of all the money that shall come to their hands out of the estate of such debtor or debtors, first giving sufficient notice of the time and place of making such dividend by advertising the same in one or more of the public news-papers; and shall, in like manner and upon like notice given, make a second dividend of what money may come to their hands or be recovered and received by them after the first division, if the whole estate shall not be settled at that time, and so from time to time until a final settlement thereof and a full, just and equal division made of the whole of such estate.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the assignees shall, before any dividend be made, appoint a day and time at least one month before any dividend be made of such estate, by advertising the same in one or more of the public news-papers, for a general meeting of all such creditors as shall see fit to attend, to examine and ascertain the debts due to each creditor; and in case of any controversy relating to any debt or sum of money due to any creditor, the same shall be settled by arbitrators, not being creditors, and mutually chosen by the assignees and the creditor or creditors with whom such dispute doth arise, who shall finally settle such controversy and ascertain the sum due to such creditor. And in case any creditor upon such controversy arising shall refuse to join in the nomination and appointment of arbitrators, the assignees are hereby impowered to nominate and appoint them.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That such assignees shall, immediately upon the assignment of such debtor or debtors to them made as aforesaid, take an oath, to be administered by the said court, judges, or any one of them, well and faithfully to manage the estate of such debtor or debtors as shall come to his or their hands, and shall for that purpose keep regular books of accounts for their receipts and disbursements of such debtor or debtor's estate, to which every creditor at all seasonable times may have recourse. And the said assignees shall be allowed for [8] their service || such a consideration as the creditors and they shall agree and fix upon or the said court, judges, or any two of them, shall think meet, out of the money received by them, before the division of said estate be made.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That for the more full discovery of the goods, chattels, debts, effects and estate of any such debtor or debtors, the said court or judges, or any one of them, upon application made to them or either of them by such assignees, shall have full power and authority to examine the wives of every such debtor or debtors, and all and every other person or persons whatsoever known or suspected to detain any of the estate or to be indebted to such debtor or debtors, and to summon them or any of them for that purpose; and in case they or any of them refuse to attend upon such summons, having no reasonable excuse, or shall refuse to be sworn, that then it shall and may be lawful for the said court, judges, or any one of them, to commit such person or persons to gaol, there to remain until said person shall submit to be examined in manner aforesaid touching the effects of such debtor or debtors.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That if any creditor or creditors of such debtor or debtors shall neglect or refuse to give notice of and prove his or their debts in manner herein before directed, within the time herein before mentioned for the first dividend to be made, such creditor so neglecting or refusing shall lose his share of such dividend, and the assignees shall be discharged of and from the same by this act; and the whole money shall be divided to and among the other creditors who shall have proved their debts pursuant to the intention of this act. But in case the whole estate of such debtor or debtors shall not be settled and divided at the time of the first dividend, and such neglecting and refusing creditor shall prove and notify the assignees of such debt before the time appointed for the second, then and in such case such creditor shall have his first dividend, or so much money as he would have been intitled unto on the first dividend, if his debt had been proved before any second dividend be made among the creditors; after which second dividend made no creditor shall be permitted to prove any debt in order to entitle to a share of the debtor's estate, but shall by this act be debarred of and from any share of the same.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That every such debtor or debtors giving up his, her or their estates, as aforesaid, and conforming in all things as in and by this act is directed, shall be discharged from all debts owing by him, her or them, at the time of the assignment made; and if he, she or they be prosecuted for any debt due before he, she or they shall be discharged upon common bail, and shall and may plead in general, that the cause of action accrued before his, her or their discharge by virtue of this act; and shall and may give this and the special matter in evidence; and if a verdict pass for the defendant, or the plaintiff become non-suit, or judgment be given against the plaintiff, the defendant shall recover his cost.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That if such prisoner shall deliver a false or untrue account, or shall designedly conceal and not insert therein any books, papers, securities or writings relating to his estate or estates, with intent to defraud his creditors, and shall be thereof convicted on any indictment found against him, he shall suffer the pains and penalties of wilfull perjury.

Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That all and every sum and sums of money which are and shall be due and owing from such debtor or debtors to the Governor and Company of this Colony, or to the Treasurer thereof for taxes or duties, shall not be subject and liable to a distribution as in cases of other creditors, but the whole of such debt, sum and sums of money shall be first paid by such assignees out of the estate of such debtor or debtors before any dividend shall be made thereof, and the overplus after deducting such debts, as also after deducting all such cost, charges and expences as shall be necessarily laid out and expended by the said assignees, together with their allowances for the care and trouble therein, and all cost of suit, prison and gaol fees against such debtor or debtors, shall be divided and distributed to and among the creditors of such debtor or debtors, in due and equal proportion to their respective debts to them due and owing, in which distribution and division no preference shall be given to debts due by specialty, or to any judgment entered against such debtor or debtors.

[9] Provided always, and be it hereby enacted by the authority aforesaid, That if any person or persons shall be sued or prosecuted by any action, bill, plaint or information, for anything done and to be done by him or them in prosecution of this act, it shall and may be lawful to and for such person or persons to plead the general issue and give this act and the special matter in evidence.

Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That in case the estate of such debtor or debtors shall be more than sufficient to pay all his or their debts and all costs and charges attending the assignment of the same in pursuance of this act, that then the remainder of the money or estate, after payment of the creditors and all cost and charges as aforesaid, shall be paid by the assignees to such debtor or debtors, his, her or their executors or administrators.

Provided nevertheless, That if it shall appear upon such inquiry by said court, or any two of them as aforesaid, that any such debtor's estate shall not be sufficient to answer more than at the rate of fifteen shillings upon the pound of his debts, and the creditor or creditors shall desire to have such debtor in service, it shall be in the power of said court, or any two of them, at their discretion to make an assignment of such debtor to his creditor or creditors, to serve for such time and term as shall be thought just and reasonable for satisfaction of his debts, not exceeding seven years; which assignment and binding shall be sufficient in law for holding such debtor in service; anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding.

That this act shall continue and be in force for the term of two years from the rising of this Assembly, and no longer:

Provided notwithstanding, that the same shall continue and be in full force as to the powers and authorities in all cases that shall be begun within said two years until a full and final settlement and division shall be made according to the true intent and meaning of this act.

An Act in Addition to an Act entitled An Act for the equal Division and Distribution of Insolvent Estates.

Whereas it is in the second paragraph of said act (among other things) provided, that the judge of probate shall allow six, twelve or eighteen months, for the creditors to bring in their claims and prove their debts; and whereas it often happens that not only that the estates of persons deceased are found to be very small, but their dealings also to have been very small and contracted, so that little time is needed to settle them,

It is thereupon enacted, That the judges of probate in their respective districts within this Colony may hereafter appoint and limit for such purpose such shorter time, (not less than two months,) as the circumstances of the case may admit of; said former act notwithstanding.

An Act in Addition to an Act entitled An Act for preventing, punishing and removing Nuisances in Creeks, Rivers and Water Courses.

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That no seine shall be drawn in Windsor Ferry River within one mile from the mouth thereof, nor within a quarter of a mile below the mouth thereof, only in the day time between the rising and setting of the sun. And every person or persons that is convicted of the breach of this act shall forfeit the sum of ten pounds, the one half to the complainer who shall prosecute to effect, and the other half to the county treasurer where the offence is committed. This act to be in force three years next after the rising of this Assembly, and no longer.

An Act for repealing one Part or Paragraph of the Law entitled An Act in Addition to the Law of this Colony entitled An Act for forming and regulating the Militia and the Encouragement of Military Skill for the better Defence of this Colony.

Whereas in said act it is enacted that the chief officer in every troop shall cause the arms and ammunition of all under his command, and the chief officer of every company of foot shall cause the arms and ammunition of all under his command and also all others dwelling within the limits of his company, to be viewed not only on the first Monday of May, as in said act is already provided, but also in the same manner shall cause the same to be viewed on the first Monday of [10] October annually: || It now being thought not necessary to view the arms and ammunition of those obliged to keep arms &c. oftner than once every year, except in case of special order from the colonel or chief officer of the regiment to which they belong,

Be it therefore enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority thereof, That the said paragraph or such part thereof as relates to the viewing of arms and ammunition on the first Monday of October annually be repealed, and the same is hereby repealed and made void.

Whereas the exigences and emergencies of government at this time, for payment of the officers and men for their service in the last campaign, and other expences of the Colony, require a speedy and considerable supply of the treasury : Therefore,

And for providing and establishing an ample and sufficient fund, to call in, sink and discharge the aforesaid sum of ten thousand pounds, according to act of Parliament made in the twenty-fourth year of the reign of his late Majesty King George the second, entituled An act to regulate and restrain paper bills of credit in his Majesty's Colonies of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, Connecticut, the Massachusetts Bay and New Hampshire in America, and to prevent the same being legal tenders in payment of money,—a tax of two pence on the pound is hereby granted and ordered to be levied on all the polls and rateable estate in this Colony according to the list thereof to be brought into this Assembly in October, 1763, with the additions ; which shall be collected and paid into the treasury of this Colony by the last day of December, 1764 ; which tax may be discharged by paying the bills emitted by this act or lawful money, and no otherwise ; and the Treasurer is hereby directed to send forth his warrants accordingly.

Be it further enacted, That a rate or tax of one penny on the pound be and is hereby granted and ordered on the polls and rateable estate in this Colony according to the list brought in to this Assembly in October last with the additions, to be collected and paid by the last day of December next in lawful money or bills of credit of this Colony ; and the Treasurer is hereby directed to send forth his warrants accordingly.

This Assembly do appoint and empower Richard Jackson of Inner Temple, London, Esq^r, Agent and Attorney for the Governor and Company of this Colony, to receive all such money as is granted by Parliament and is or may be distributed and ordered to be paid this Colony on account of the services done in obedience to his Majesty's command in the year 1761, and accordingly give his receipt therefor. And it is hereby ordered, that a proper instrument of procuration or letter of attorney be made in the name of said Governor and Company, under the public seal and signed by the Governor and Secretary of this Colony, fully empowering said Richard Jackson, Esq^r, for the purposes aforesaid.

Resolved by this Assembly, That Richard Jackson of Inner Temple, London, Esq^r, Agent for this Colony, who is empowered to receive all such money as is granted by Parliament and is or may be distributed and ordered to be paid this Colony on account of the services done in obedience to his Majesty's command in the year 1761, be and he is hereby directed on receipt of the same to lodge it in some secure bank in London for safety, in the name and for account of this Colony, to be drawn out by the Agent or Agents for this Colony for the time being, and by the first good opportunity to inform thereof. And he is further directed, to pay out of the same all such bills of exchange as may be drawn on him by his Honor the Governor in favour of any person or persons whomsoever.

[11] The Hon^{ble} William Pitkin, Esq^r, John Chester and George Wylls, Esq^{rs}, are hereby appointed a committee, they or any two of them, to sell the money granted by Parliament which is or may be distributed and ordered to be paid this Colony on account of the services done in obedience to his Majesty's command in the year 1761, as soon as certain intelli-

Whereas some recruiting officers and recruits in his Majesty's regular forces were the last winter sent into this Colony by order from his Excellency Sir Jeffry Amherst, and recommended by his Honor the Governor of this Colony to the civil authority, requiring their aid in billeting &c., which party have been billeted on the tavern-keepers in the respective towns where they have been, with an expectation that such tavern-keepers would be entituled to receive three pence lawful money per day out of the Colony treasury over and above what is paid by such officer and soldier, agreeable to an act of this Assembly made in October, 1759, which act was a limited act, and was to continue and be in force until the last day of November, 1760, and no longer; which said act has not been since revived, and the Treasurer cannot answer any orders drawn on him for said three pence per day,

It is therefore enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That any person in this Colony on whom any non-commission officer or foot-soldier belonging to any recruiting party of his Majesty's regular troops has been billeted by any magistrate or justice of the peace on any tavern-keeper or householder in this Colony during the last winter and until the rising of this Assembly shall be entituled to receive out of the treasury of this Colony the sum of three pence lawful money per diem for each non-commission officer and soldier billeted as aforesaid; and such Assistant or justice of the peace who gave such billet with another Assistant or justice of the peace be and is hereby impowered to make up and allow such accounts and draw on the Treasurer of this Colony for the payment thereof.

Upon the memorial of Barnabas Baldwin of New Haven, preferred to this Assembly in October last, shewing that he gave a bond to the Governor and Company of this Colony, dated in April, 1741, conditioned for payment of £32 10s. 0d. in new tenor bills of this Colony, so called, or gold equivalent, which bond being afterwards put in suit judgment had been rendered thereon by the superior court held at New Haven in February, 1748, for the sum of £34 9s. 2d. lawful money; representing that that sum was much more than was due according to the laws and regulations in this Colony respecting those new tenor bills; praying for relief &c.: upon which memorial John Whiting and Thomas Darling, Esqrs, were appointed a committee to look into said matter, and who have reported to this Assembly that they are of opinion that £13 7s. 8d. L. money ought to [be] accepted and allowed as an equivalent to said sum of £32 10s. 0d. new tenor, and that the sum now due, viz: on the 13th day of instant May, according to that rule, computing the interest of the monies due and deducting a certain payment made of part, is £14 7s. 0d. lawful money, and that that sum ought to be paid and received in full discharge of a certain bond which Elihu Hall, Esqr, the Colony's agent for collecting said debt, received and took from Barnabas Baldwin jun. and Jonathan Atwater jun., conditioned for the sum of £56 13s. 6d. for securing said debt; as by said report at large may more fully appear, which report hath been accepted: Whereupon it is resolved and ordered by this Assembly, that upon the said Barnabas Baldwin jun. and Jonathan Atwater jun. their paying upon said bond the said sum of fourteen pounds seven shillings lawful money with the lawful interest of that sum from the 13th day of instant May until the same shall be paid, that the same be accepted and received by the Colony's said agent in full discharge of said bond, and that the same bond be accordingly thereupon delivered up and cancelled.

Whereas George Smith of Hartford and the rest of the children and heirs of John Smith formerly of said Hartford, deceased, and Normand Morrison of said Hartford and the rest of the children, grandchildren and heirs of Doct. Normand Morrison late of said Hartford, deceased, and Ann Morrison his widow, joined in a petition preferred to this Assembly in October last, representing that certain difficulties had arisen among them touching the rights of the parties respectively to the estate of the said deceased Smith and Morrison, and that by reason of some particular difficulties the said matters could not be settled and right be done by suits at law, and praying to have committee appointed by this Assembly to hear, examine and a settlement make of their said claims; upon which petition John Chester and Jonathan Trumble, Esqrs, and Doct. Daniel Lothrop were appointed a committee for the purpose aforesaid, and to make their report to this Assembly at this time: And whereas the aforesaid widow Ann Morrison hath died since the said appointment and before a hearing of the cause before the commissioners, and the surviving parties still standing in need of the same thing being done and declaring before the Court by their respective attornies and guardians (William Tiley of said Hartford being guardian to said Normand and Margaret Morison, two minors formerly under the guardianship of the said Ann, deceased,) that they are desirous of having said matters concluded and determined according to the tenor of the appointment in October aforesaid: It is therefore resolved and ordered by this Assembly, that the said surviving parties to said petition be held to and concluded by the decree and sentence that shall be made of and concerning the premises in pursuance of the report

Whereas upon the petition of Jesse Squire of Cornwall, against David Ingersol, late of Sheffield now of a place called Spencer Town in the Province of New York, preferred to this Assembly in October last, representing that the said Ingersol had obtained judgment against him before the superior court held at Litchfield in August last, for one thousand pounds damages besides costs, on a certain bond given for his, said Squire's, conveying and passing over to said Ingersol [17] his, || said Squire's, homestead in said Cornwall, consisting of a dwelling-house, barn &c., and about fifty acres of land, and that said contract was an agreement to exchange said homestead for a certain right of land by said Ingersol sold to said Squire at a place called Nobletown in the Province of the Massachusetts Bay, and that the said Squire had not been able to obtain said right ; further alledging and charging that said agreement was on the part of said Ingersol fraudulent and collusive &c. ; praying to have commissioners appointed to look into said matter and for relief in the premises ; as by the petition on file, on which petition Messrs. Benjamin Cowles, Moses Lyman and Josiah Stoddard were appointed a committee for the purpose aforesaid, and have made their report to this Assembly, that they find the said contract on the part of said Ingersol to be fraudulent, and that said Squire hath not been able to have any benefit of said supposed right of land, the said Ingersol not having had any title thereto ; and that of the sum of £66 0s. 0d. including a note of £10 0s. 0d. of said Ingersol's, which he, the said Ingersol, had advanced and paid to said Squire as the difference between said estates proposed to be exchanged as aforesaid he, the said Squire, had upon an after agreement to throw up said bargain repaid back to said Ingersol the sum of £51 10s. 6d., and that the remaining sum of £14 9s. 6d. was equitably due to said Squire for his trouble and loss of time in attempting to obtain said right of land &c. ; further giving it as their opinion, that said judgment so obtained against said Squire ought not to be enforced, and he, the said Squire, to return to said Ingersol the pretended conveyance received from him of said supposed right ; as by the report at large may more fully appear, which report hath been accepted : Whereupon it is enacted and resolved by this Assembly, that there be a perpetual stay of the execution of the said judgment of the su-

Whereas upon the petition of Jonathan Fowler of Guilford, against Titus Culver of Wallingford, preferred to this Assembly in May, 1761, complaining of fraud in a certain bargain of lands, said originally to belong to one Metoxon an Indian native, praying to have a judgment of New Haven county court in April, 1761, on a certain note of £10 0s. 0d., given for a right in said land, set aside &c., Messrs. the petitioners, then gave his note of forty pounds money to the said Aaron, to be in force in case the petitioners should not fulfill said bargain and compleat said deed in a short time afterwards ; that said deed was afterwards compleated and by false and feigned pretences of the said Aaron he obtained the same and caused the same to be entered on the records of said Windsor without ever fulfilling on his part or paying or securing the price of said land ; and that the said Aaron had also fraudulently obtained a judgment on the forty pound note, to the great wrong and injury of the petitioners &c. ; praying for a committee &c. : Resolved by this Assembly, that Josiah Bissell, Esq^r, and Capt. Upon the petition of Daniel Welles and Blackleach Wells, both of said Hartford, shewing to this Assembly that they were owners of a certain lot of land in Hartford containing about five or six acres, which hath been derived down to them from their ancestor Mr. Thomas Welles, who lived in the year 1654, which was bounded south on land of Thomas Hosmer, who also lived in the said year 1654, which said Thomas Hosmer was ancestor to Joseph Hosmer of said Hartford, to whom the said Thomas Hosmer's lands were derived, which said Joseph held the same in the year 1761; that the said Thomas Wells and Thomas Hosmer in their lifetime made an agreement in writing under their hands respecting their said adjoining lands, by which, for certain considerations therein mentioned, the said Thomas Hosmer undertook to keep and maintain the whole fence between their aforesaid lands, which instrument or writing was entered on the records of said town of Hartford; that in consequence of such agreement the said Thomas Hosmer and all under him from the said year 1654 until the year 1762 have kept and maintained the whole of said fence between their aforesaid lands and the lands of the said Thomas Wells, and have held and enjoyed the land granted to the said Thomas Hosmer by the said Thomas Welles as a consideration therefor: yet nevertheless, the said Joseph holding the said lands derived to him as aforesaid sold and conveyed the same to Isaac Sheldon of said Hartford sometime about the latter end of the year 1761, and that he, the said Isaac, afterwards refused to maintain the whole of said fence, and upon his application to the selectmen of said Hartford they, said selectmen, on the 5th day of April, 1762, set out the one half of said dividend fence to be maintained by the petitioner, and the other half to said Sheldon to be maintained by him, which doings of said selectmen were entered on the records of said town of Hartford, and the said Sheldon applied to the fence-viewers to make and erect the one half of said fence, which was set out to the petitioners as aforesaid, which said fence-viewers accordingly did, and afterwards had writs of distress against the petitioners to levy double cost for erecting said fence, to the amount of ten pounds money; and praying the interposition of this Assembly for relief, and that this Assembly would order and decree that the doings of said select-

Provided nevertheless, That if the state and circumstances of said undertaking by any means hereafter become so altered as in the opinion of said last-mentioned committee to render the further prosecution or support of said affair impracticable or doubtful whether it may answer the good end and design, in such case they are hereby directed to desist drawing as abovesaid, and by the earliest opportunity to advise this Assembly thereof, to the end such further order in the premises be taken as the present emergencies may recommend: Always provided such monies be ultimately and wholly applied to the pious design of propagating the gospel among the heathen.

And touching such worldly estate as it has pleased God to bless me with in this life, I give, demise and dispose of the same in the following manner and form, after my just debts and funeral charges are paid.

Imprimis, I give and bequeath to my dearly beloved wife Mary, the use and improvement of the west end of my now dwelling-house in Pomfret, to her sole use and benefit during her natural life. Item, I give my two grandchildren, the children of my daughter Ann Cummins, deceased, five hundred pounds in old tenor bills of credit or silver money equal thereto at three pounds five shillings per ounce, to be paid to them in one year after the decease of my wife by my executors; and if either of the said children shall die before she has received her legacy, the surviving child to have the whole. And my will is that the said five hundred pounds aforesaid be let or put to use by my executors to and for the benefit of my said grandchildren till they shall come of age or be married, and then to receive the same.

Item, I give my grandson Ephraim Tucker, the son of my son Joseph Tucker deceased, my gun and sword and best hat.

Item, I give my son in law Joseph Lawrence one large plow, one chain and one iron bar; and my will is that my daughter Mary Lawrence, wife of Joseph Lawrence of Killingly, and my grandson Ephraim Tucker aforesaid shall have my live-stock of all sorts, horses, cattle, sheep, or swine, and to be equally divided between them the said Mary Lawrence and Ephraim Tucker after the decease of my said wife. Also I give to my said daughter Mary Lawrence all my household goods within doors, excepting two of the best pewter platters, which I give to my two grandchildren aforesaid, the children of my daughter Ann Cummins, deceased. And I do hereby constitute, make and ordain Deacon Sumner and Mr. Gershom Sharp, both of Pomfret in the county of Windham, my sole executors to this my last will and testament. And I hereby utterly disallow, revoke and annul all other and former wills and testaments by me in any wise made or named, ratifying and confirming this and only this to be my last will and testament.

An Act for limiting certain Provisions in a Law of this Colony intituled
 An Act for licencing and regulating Retailers and for granting and collecting an Excise on distilled Spirituous Liquors and to enforce the Collection of the Excise already accrued by Virtue of said Act.

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That the town-clerk of each and every town in this Colony respectively, before the 21st day of March next shall certify to the Treasurer of this Colony the names of the persons duly appointed collectors of excise for their towns in each and every year since November, 1755, and the year for which each collector was chosen, and also the deficiencies of such towns in not duly appointing collectors from time to time as said statute directs.

And every Assistant and justice of the peace that have taken bonds of retailers according to said statute in any towns where no collectors were duly appointed are hereby authorized to take such retailer's account upon oath according to the condition of such bonds, and collect the monies thereon as the collectors by said statute are directed in case such retailers shall so account within six months after the rising of this Assembly: but if no such account be had in said term, that then such Assistants and justices shall deliver such bonds to said Treasurer, taking his receipt therefor and lodge the same with the Secretary; which bonds and also all such deficiencies and neglects of any town in not comporting themselves according to said statute that are by law correctable shall by said Treasurer be put into the hands of the King's Attornies, to be by them transacted with as said attornies are directed to do in case of negligent collectors, ac-

[41] cording to the provision || of the law of this Colony intituled An act in further addition to the law of this Colony intituled An act for licencing and regulating retailers and for granting and collecting an excise on distilled spirituous liquors. And such King's Attornies from time to time as they shall receive monies for this Colony shall pay the same to said Treasurer, and shall lay the accounts of all the credits and duties put into their hands, and of their transactions about the same, and the whole state of the Colony's business and affairs in their hands, of what nature soever, before the General Assembly to be held in Hartford in May next, and also to every session of this Assembly in October and May in every year for the future, so long as they shall have any of the Colony's credits and business in their hands and under their care.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That that part of said act first referred to, respecting the laying the excise of four pence per gallon on every gallon of distilled spirituous liquors, granting licences to retailers and choosing collectors of excise, shall be of force till the rising of this Assembly, and no longer.

An Act in Addition to the Law of this Colony intituled An Act for the Direction of Listers in their Office and Duty.

Whereas in said act it is provided that all traders, tradesmen and artificers shall be rated in the list proportionable to their gains and returns: whereupon doubts have arisen, whether persons licenced to keep houses of public entertainment are included in said act; which may occasion difficulties and inequalities in the lists of different towns: Which to prevent,

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That all persons licenced to keep houses of public entertainment shall be rated in the list proportionable to their gains, according to the best judgment and discretion of the listers.

An Act for reviving an Act of this Assembly made and passed in their Sessions in May Anno Domini 1761, intituled An Act in further Addition to the Law intituled An Act providing in Case of Sickness.

Whereas it was resolved by this Assembly at their sessions in October last, that the aforesaid act should continue in force until the rising of this Assembly, and no longer: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That the said act, intituled An act in further addition to the law intituled An act providing in case of sickness, be revived, and the same is hereby revived, and shall continue and be of force until the rising of this Assembly in May next.

This Assembly do appoint and empower Richard Jackson of Inner Temple London, Esqr, Agent and Attorney for the Governor and Company of this Colony, to receive all such money as is granted by Parliament and is or may be distributed and ordered to be paid this Colony on account of the services done in obedience to his Majesty's command in the year 1762, and accordingly give his receipt therefor. And it is hereby ordered, that a proper instrument of procuration or letter of attorney be made in the name of said Governor and Company, under the public seal and signed by the Governor and Secretary of this Colony, fully empowering the said Richard Jackson, Esqr, for the purposes aforesaid.

Resolved by this Assembly, That Richard Jackson of Inner Temple London, Esqr, Agent for this Colony, who is empowered to receive all such money as is granted by Parliament and is or may be distributed and ordered to be paid this [42] Colony on account of services done in obedience to his || Majesty's command in the year 1762, be and he is hereby directed, on receipt of the same to lodge it in some secure bank in London for safety, in the name and for account of this Colony, to be drawn out by the Agent for this Colony for the time being, and by the first good opportunity to inform thereof. And he is further directed, to pay out of the same all such bills of exchange as may be drawn on him by his Honor the Governor in favour of any person or persons whomsoever.

This Assembly, being advis'd by his Honor the Governor of a difference much in our disfavour between the numbers of our troops in service, 1761, as transmitted to England by his Excellency Sir Jeffry Amherst and the number computed by the Pay-Table in settling the pay-rolls for said campaign, and being also by the committee now to that purpose appointed advised of sundry facts most probably conducive to such difference and in support of the larger number contained and allowed in said pay-rolls,

Do thereupon resolve, That Colo. Eleazer Fitch be and he hereby is appointed, authorized and instructed, to repair to General Amherst [and] in the name of this Assembly of his Excellency beg leave to lay said matter before him for his further consideration, and requesting that on discovery of any new light thrown upon said affair in favour, he'd be pleased thereupon to make such representation home as that the Colony remain not a sufferer in its interest or reputation by failure of many of their troops being mustered at Albany, which might, and we are advised actually did, so happen from matters so merely casual as clearly not only to exculpate not only the Muster-Master-General there, but the Colony also.

Whereas this Assembly at their sessions in May last granted a brief for a contribution throughout this Colony in favour of the Indian charity school under the care of the Reverend Eleazer Whelock of Lebanon, which having been published in some few congregations the collections have been but small, which is probably owing to the rupture since said grant broken out among the western Indians; and as most of the ministers, apprehensive of the ill success of that charitable design under the present situation of the Indian nations, have suspended the publication of said brief, and sundry of said ministers having requested his Honor the Governor that they may have the advice and direction of this Assembly relative to their publishing said brief: Resolved by this Assembly, that such of the ministers of this Colony as have not published said brief be and they are hereby advised and directed to suspend the publication of said brief until further orders from this Assembly.

We your Honors' committee appointed to inspect the accounts of Messrs. respective accounts, they informed us the articles were delivered for the use of the hospitals agreeable to orders from the Commander-in-Chief of our troops there, as by the direction of the director of the hospital; but as several articles are in large quantities, and they not being prepared to avouch their accounts at this time, our opinion is that they lay their accounts before the Committee of the Pay-Table, and upon their producing usual and proper evidence as to the delivery of such articles as aforesaid, they proceed to settle and adjust said accounts, making proper deduction for those articles delivered in large quantities and for all other articles overcharged or not found to have been justly charged, and give orders on the Treasurer for payment &c.

Whereas his Honor the Governor hath laid before this Assembly a letter lately received from the Right Hon^{ble} the Earl of Halifax, one of his Majesty's principal Secretaries of State, dated October 19th, 1763,* signifying his Majesty's pleasure relative to the insurrections of the Indian nations, and another from his Excellency Thomas Gage, Esqr, Commander-in-Chief of his Majesties troops in America, demanding the number of five hundred men from this Colony to assist in carrying war into the Indian country, in order to punish the savages who have been guilty of perfidious and cruel massacres of the English: And altho' this Colony is not exposed by its situation, nor to be accounted most able by its circumstances, yet ready to yield obedience to his Majesty's commands and according to our ability promote his Majesty's service and contribute to the general purposes of defence and of annoyance of the savages, in order to put a speedy end to the great mischiefs occasioned by them:

This Assembly do therefore enact and resolve, and it is hereby enacted and resolved, That all necessary provision be made for levying, cloathing and paying two hundred and sixty-five able-bodied and effective men, officers included, to be raised by inlistment with all possible dispatch within this Colony, none to be inlisted who are not between twenty-one and fifty years of age, to march to such place or places in North America as his Majesty's Commander-in-Chief shall judge proper. That the said two hundred and sixty-five men, to be raised as aforesaid, shall be formed into one battalion and commanded by a field-officer of the rank of major, and to consist of five companies, and each company to consist of a [65] captain, two subalterns and fifty men. || And the Governor or Commander-in-Chief is desired as soon as may be, to give orders to the several inlisting officers to raise by inlistments with the utmost dispatch the levies for the purpose aforesaid. And to induce both officers and men chearfully and speedily to engage and enlist in this service, this Assembly do resolve and grant, that each enlisting officer shall receive, for every able-bodied man by him enlisted who shall pass muster, the sum of five shillings as a reward for that service and expence therein; and that every able-bodied man, as well non-commisioned officer as private soldier, who shall voluntarily enlist for the service aforesaid and shall provide himself with suitable cloathing to the acceptance of the muster-master, shall on his being mustered be entituled to and receive four pounds in bills of this Colony. And for a further encouragement to both officers and soldiers, they and each of them shall receive a blanket and knapsack suitable for the service, and shall have one months pay advanced before they move out of this Colony.

And be it further enacted and resolved, That the pay of both officers and private soldiers shall be the same as was fixed and stated in the year 1762, according to the ranks they shall severally sustain: such pay to begin on the day of their engaging and enlisting in the service, and to continue during the time they shall continue therein; and that they shall be discharged as soon as his Majesty's service will admit, and not holden beyond the first day of November next. And his Honor the Governor is desired to issue his Proclamation for acquainting them with the several encouragements given for inducing men to engage and enter into this important service for their King and country.

And whereas a sum of money will be necessary for the purposes aforesaid, which the public treasury is in no wise (at present) able to supply,

Be it therefore further enacted, That there be forthwith imprinted the sum of seven thousand pounds in bills of credit on this Colony equal to lawful money, of suitable denominations from nine pence to forty shillings as the committee herein appointed shall direct, and of the same tenor of the late emissions of bills of credit of this Colony, with interest at £5 per cent. per annum, payable at or before the eighth day of March, A.D. 1768, and dated the day of the sessions of the Assembly. And the said committee shall be sworn to a faithful discharge of their said trust. And the said Treasurer is hereby directed to pay out all the aforesaid bills with the interest computed thereon according to the orders of this Assembly.

And for providing and establishing an ample and sufficient fund to call in and sink and discharge the aforesaid sum of seven thousand pounds, according to an act of Parliament made in the 24th year of his late Majesty's reign, intituled An act to regulate and restrain paper bills of credit in his Majesty's Colonies of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, Connecticut, the Massachussetts Bay and New Hampshire, in America, and to prevent the same being legal tenderies in payment of money,

Be it enacted, That a tax of one penny three farthings on the pound be and is hereby granted and ordered to be levied on all the polls and rateable estate in this Colony according to the list thereof to be brought in to this Assembly in October, A.D. 1766, with the additions; which shall be collected and paid into the treasury of this Colony by the last day of December, 1767; which tax may be discharged by paying the bills emitted by this act or lawful money, and no otherwise. [102] An Act for restraining Tryals in Cases of Adultery to the Superior Court only.

Whereas through a different construction of the law disputes have arisen, whether the superior or the county court hath jurisdiction in cases of adultery, and each of said courts have taken cognizance and held plea of the same: Which doubts and disputes for the future to remove and prevent,

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That the superior court only shall have cognizance of all pleas that relate to the crime of adultery, and shall hear and determine the same, by a jury or otherwise, according to law; any law, usage or custom to the contrary notwithstanding.

An Act to oblige the Town Clerks in the several Towns in this Colony that have not yet certified to the Treasurer of this Colony the Names of the Collectors of Excise that have been chosen in the respective Towns according to the Tenour of an Act of this Assembly passed in October last requiring the Same speedily to certify said Treasurer of the Matters expressed in said Act to be certified.

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That it be the duty of each and every town-clerk of the respective towns in this Colony that hath not as yet certified the said Treasurer according to what is expressed as his duty in said act, forthwith to certify the Treasurer of this Colony the names of the persons duly appointed collectors of excise for their towns in each and every year since November, 1755, and the year for which each collector was chosen, and also the deficiencies of such towns in not duly appointed collectors from time to time, as the statute of this Colony in that case directs. And that every such town-clerk that shall not on or before the 14th day of May next certify to the said Treasurer, as in this act is directed, shall forfeit and pay a fine of ten pounds money to the Treasurer of this Colony for such his neglect, to be recovered by bill, plaint or information, in any court proper to try the same.

An Act in Alteration of one Law of this Colony entitled An Act concerning Arrests and Imprisonment for Debt, Damage, Fines &c.

Whereas in said act provision is made for disposing of poor debtors in service for the payment of debts, but the power and authority of assigning of such debtors is limited to that court only before whom the judgment against such debtor is obtained, which in some cases is found to be inconvenient: And whereas in the practice upon the said statute it is found that persons sometimes by undue measures obtain an assignment of others for a feigned debt, and sometimes when the person so assigned hath estate sufficient to satisfy the debt for which he is so assigned, to the injury and damage of other just and honest creditors: Which mischief to prevent,

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That no court within this Colony shall in any civil case assign or dispose of any person in service until such court is satisfied, either by the oath of the parties or otherwise, that such debtor hath not estate sufficient to pay the debt for which he is holden, (except such necessities as by law are exempted from execution,) nor until such debtor or creditor, one or both of them, shall have made oath before the court, where motion is made for such assignment in service, that the debt for which he is holden is real and bona fide on good consideration; which being done, the superior court or any of the county courts, within this Colony only, are hereby empowered to assign and dispose of such poor debtor in service, as in said act is provided, whether judgment for which such debtor is holden shall have been obtained before the same court or before any other court within this Colony; anything in said act to the contrary notwithstanding.

An Act to prevent the Obstructing the Course of the Fish up the River Paucatuck.

Whereas it is represented to this Assembly that sundry persons by dams, wears, and constant drawing of seines in the said river, in the spring of the year, greatly interrupt [103] || and [hinder] the passage and taking the fish up said river, which obstructions are very injurious to the public: For the remedy whereof,

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That no person or persons whatsoever shall keep up any dam or dams on said river, (within the limits of this Colony,) without leaving an open free passage of the fish through each dam, at least fifteen feet wide, from the bottom, and keep the same open during the months of March, April and May, in each year; nor shall any person or persons during said months of March, April or May, in each year, erect or keep up any wear or wears on said river, or draw any seine or seines therein, within this Colony, for the taking of fish, but only on four days in each week during said three months in each year: that is to say, liberty is allowed to draw seines therein for the purpose aforesaid on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in each week, but on no other days, during said three months in each year; on pain that every person or persons so offending shall forfeit and pay the sum of five pounds for every such offence, for the use of any person who shall sue for and recover the same; any law, usage or custom to the contrary notwithstanding.

And be it enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the inhabitants of the town of Stonington have liberty, and they have hereby liberty, to choose three freeholders at their annual town meetings, who shall have liberty to inspect the dams and wears that are or shall be made across said river, and shall have power to pull up said dams or wears fifteen feet wide during said three months.

An Act in Addition to an Act entituled An Act for forming, ordering and regulating Societies or Parishes.

Whereas in and by said act there is no provision made for the choosing or appointing Society Treasurers; and whereas persons in many societies have presumed to intermeddle, act and vote, in society meetings, who are not qualified by law to vote in such meetings, to the disturbance thereof and the proceedings therein: Which inconveniences to prevent,

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That the several societies in this Colony for the future in their annual society meetings for the electing and choosing society officers, are hereby authorized and empowered to choose a society treasurer, who shall be under the same regulation and have the same power and authority in said societies as town treasurers have in their respective towns.

And it is further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That if any person, who is not duly qualified according to said act to vote in society meetings, shall adventure to act, deal, or intermeddle, or presume to vote in any society meeting, for the choice of officers, granting of rates, or any other affairs whatsoever, such offender shall forfeit the sum of fifteen shillings for every such offence, to be levied by distress and sale of the offender's goods, one half thereof to the complainant who shall prosecute to effect, the other half to the treasurer of such society wherein said offence is committed.

The Gentlemen nominated by the Freemen of this Colony to stand in Nomination for the Election in May, A.D. 1765.

his Honour the Governor to Eliphalet Dyer, Esq^r, who was chosen an Assistant at the election in May last.*

[104] Whereas this Assembly at their sessions at Hartford in May last, being informed that a bill had been preferred to the Parliament of Great Britain proposing certain Stamp Duties to be laid on this Colony together with the other Provinces in North America, (which it's humbly conceived, if the same should take effect, would be a great grievance to and much dishearten the people of this Colony,) this Assembly thereupon appointed a committee to take said matter into consideration, and preparatory to an address of this Colony to the Parliament of Great Britain, to collect and assign some general as also some more special reasons and objections of this Colony against said bill being passed into an act: said committee having taken said matter into their consideration, prepared and set forth said reasons and objections, which have since been exhibited and printed in a certain book or pamphlet, entituled Reasons why the British Colonies in America should not be charged with internal Taxes &c., and the same have reported to this Assembly, and which this Assembly do hereby, among many others that may be made use of, approve, and hereby order the same to be transmitted to the Colony's Agent in Great Britain, by him to be made use of to the purpose aforesaid. And his Honour the Governor is also desired to prepare an humble and earnest Address to the Parliament of Great Britain, in behalf and in the name of the Governor and Company of this Colony, against said bill for a stamp duty, or any other bill for an internal tax on this Colony passing into an act; and that the same with said Book of Reasons and Objections be, as soon as may be, transmitted to the Agent of this Colony, in order that the same may be humbly presented before said Parliament, and be enforced with all proper zeal in behalf of this Colony.

Whereas Jared Ingersol of New Haven, Esq^r, is now embarked and on his voyage to London, and this Assembly being convinced of his skill, ability, and good disposition to serve the interest of this Colony, do desire his Honour the Gover-

Whereas upon the petition of Joshua Hempstead of Stonington, preferred to this Assembly in May last, against Jeremiah Wheeler of the same Stonington, representing that he was holden to pay said Wheeler large sums of money by notes &c., and that great part of said sums was accumulated by interest and forbearance, and praying for relief, as per petition on file, Messrs. Pygan Adams, Jeremiah Miller and David

Gardner were appointed a committee to examine said matter; which committee have now reported that there is justly due to said Wheeler the sum of twenty-five pounds eleven shillings and one penny and three farthings, lawful money, as per said report on file: Resolved by this Assembly, that the said report be and the same is hereby accepted and approved, and that the said Wheeler shall recover of said Hempstead the said sum of twenty-five pounds eleven shillings and one penny three farthings, lawful money, and that execution issue therefor, and that said judgments and executions, in said petition mentioned and referred to, shall be no further proceeded upon. Cost allowed to petitioner £4 16 10, lawful money. Ex. granted November 2d, 1764.

Upon the petition of James Phelps, of Windsor in the county of Hartford, representing that some time in the month of December, 1762, one Daniel Alderman of Symsbury was indebted to Samuel Talcott of Hartford, Esq^r, in the sum of two hundred and ten pounds York money, and Joseph Remington of Suffield, brother in law to the said Daniel, with him, said Daniel, requested the petitioner to become bound as a surety with him, said Daniel, to said Talcott for the whole of said sum, and to induce the petitioner thereto the said Remington (who did not care for some family reasons to appear immediately concerned in the security to said Talcott) promised the petitioner that if he would become bound, as aforesaid, that then he would become jointly bound with said Alderman to the petitioner for one hundred and fifteen pounds York money, part of said £210 0s. 0d., and that it was further agreed, as an indemnity both to the petitioner and the said Remington, should be made over to them the said Alderman's farm of about forty acres in Symsbury aforesaid, with the buildings &c.; and as a further indemnity, that said Alderman should give to the petitioner and said Remington, jointly, a note of his hand for a large sum; that the petitioner did thereupon consent, and became surety with said Alderman to said Talcott for said sum of £210 0s. 0d. York money, and took a deed of the said farm to himself until said obligation for the £115 0s. 0d. should be given by [to] the petitioner by said Remington and Alderman; that said parties afterwards, viz: on the first day of January, 1763, being together, the said Remington and Alderman did then execute to the petitioner a note of their hands for said £115 0s. 0d., and the said Alderman also executed his note for a large sum for the further indemnity of the petitioner and the said Remington, and that the petitioner stood ready to convey the equal half of said Alderman's farm as was agreed between the petitioner and said Remington that he should have the one half thereof, but was prevented by discovering that said Alderman had before conveyed the said farm to one Joel Hays of said Symsbury; that being afterwards informed by said Hays that the consideration of his deed was no more than twenty pounds ten shillings, and that upon the repayment of that sum he was willing to reconvey said farm, that the said petitioner and said Remington thereupon agreed to pay said consideration money and to take a joint deed of said farm, and appointed a day to go together to said Hays for that purpose; that said Remington failed of attending to said agreement and appointment; that the petitioner thereupon paid the whole of said sum to said Hays and took his release of said farm to himself, and on the same day, viz : on the 22d of October, 1763, he made and executed to said Remington his release to him of the one half of the said farm and premises, and duly acknowledged the same [108] and left it in the hands and care || of the register of said Symsbury, for the use of said Remington; that the said petitioner afterwards brought his action against the said Remington on said £115 note, and then the said Remington brought his action against the petitioner, alledging that the petitioner promised to make and execute unto him the said Remington, a deed of warranty of the one half of said farm and premises in fifteen days after said first of January; that said action was afterwards left to the arbitration of Messrs. John Pitkin, Erastus Wolcott and John Owen, who, on hearing the same and being wholly governed by the evidence of said Alderman, awarded the petitioner in that cause to pay unto the said Remington £94 0s. 2d. lawful money, and cost was taxed at £9 1s. 9d. lawful money. Also representing that from the beginning of said transaction there was a mutual trust; that it always was their mutual understanding that said Remington should pay said £115 0s. 0d. towards the debt of said Alderman; that by said award the petitioner was obliged to pay more than the whole worth of said farm; that said Remington having got into his hands said note by said Alderman given jointly to him and the petitioner kept the same, and that said Remington by means of the aforesaid transactions was entirely discharged from the security for said Alderman's debt, contrary to the understanding and mutual trust between the petitioner and said Remington &c.; praying for a committee &c. to examine the premises &c.: Resolved by this Assembly, that Jabez Hamlin, William Welles and Elisha Williams, Esq^{rs}, be and they are hereby appointed a committee to hear, examine and enquire into the whole transactions and matters referred to in said petition, by such ways and means as they shall think proper, first notifying the parties concerned, and make report of what they shall find to be just, right and equitable to be done between the said parties, to this or the next sessions of this Assembly.

Upon the petition of Jonathan Marsh, of Norwich in the county of New London, representing that he brought his [action] against John Richards, Pygan Adams and Joseph Coit, Esq^{rs}, all of New London in the county aforesaid, to the county court held at said New London on the 2d Tuesday of June, 1762, for that whereas the defendants being appointed managers of a certain lottery, granted by the General Assembly in May, 1759, upon the prayer of Mathew Stewart of said New London, for the sale of certain lands of said Mathew in New London aforesaid; that the defendants undertook said trust and published a scheme &c.; that the petitioner in the drawing said lottery drew and became the possessor and owner of a ticket which drew a certain land prize in said lottery, which according to said scheme was valued at eleven hundred pounds, lawful money; that the defendants in consideration of the premises became liable, assumed and promised the petitioner that they would make over and transfer to him such land prize; that the defendants had not performed their promise and assumption &c., to the petitioner's damage twelve hundred pounds, lawful money, &c.; that said action by divers removes came to the superior court held at New London aforesaid on the fourth Tuesday of September, 1762, when and where the defendants pleaded thereto in bar &c., that although they did undertake &c., yet they before said action brought offered and tendered to the petitioner a good authentick deed of said land under the hand and seal of said Mathew Stewart &c., which the petitioner refused to accept, and that they thereby had fully executed their trust and undertaking aforesaid, that the petitioner therefore ought not to recover &c., in said plea reciting at large the said act of Assembly, the printed scheme of said lottery, and the said deed tendered &c.; that the petitioner replied to said plea that he ought not to be barred &c., for that before the executing and tendering of said deed and before the grant of said lottery, publishing said scheme, and undertaking and promise of the defendants in the form aforesaid, the said Mathew Stewart had sold and conveyed the said land drawn as aforesaid unto Charles Apthorp of Boston, Esq^r, &c., by deed duly executed, compleated and recorded according to law, all which the defendants well knew at the time of granting said lottery, publishing said scheme, and making and tendering of said deed to the petitioner, and that the petitioner was ignorant of such conveyance to said Apthorp &c. at the time of his purchasing of said ticket and drawing of said prize, and that the said Stewart not being vested with any property in said lands at the time of his making said deed to the petitioner and of the tendery made thereof to the petitioner as aforesaid, that said tendery was not therefore a fulfillment or compliance with the engagement and undertaking of the defendants, and that the petitioner was not obliged to accept the same in fulfillment as aforesaid, and thereof prayed judgment &c. ; that said parties joining in [109] a || demurrer to said replication, and the same being removed to the superior court held at said New London in September, 1763, and being heard thereon, the said superior court were of opinion that the said reply of the petitioner was insufficient in the law &c., and rendered their judgment accordingly ; and the petitioner complaining of the said judgment of the superior court, that in rendering the same manifest error hath intervened, praying to have said judgment reversed, and to have liberty of a new tryal &c., as per petition on file more at large may appear : Resolved by this Assembly, that the aforesaid judgment of said superior court is manifestly erroneous, and the same is hereby reversed and made void, and liberty is hereby granted to the petitioner to have another tryal of said action before the superior court to be held at Norwich in said county of New London on the fourth Tuesday of March next ; and the whole cost to follow the final judgment.

Whereas Ebenezer Mix of Hartford has exhibited his petition to this Assembly against John Eliot late of New Haven now of Spencer in the Province of the Massachussets Bay, complaining that said Eliot had overreached and defrauded him in the purchase of certain lands of said Eliot and his wife ; praying for relief &c., as per petition on file : And Whereas the said Eliot in person and the said petitioner by his council appeared and signified to this Assembly that they have agreed to submit the matters of said controversie to be determined and adjusted by Jonathan Trumble, Benjamin Hall, Shubael Conant, Elisha Sheldon and Jabez Huntington, Esq^{rs}, with instructions by the parties agreed upon : It is thereupon resolved by this Assembly, that Jonathan Trumble, Benjamin Hall, Shubael Conant, Elisha Sheldon and Jabez Huntington, Esq^{rs}, be and they are hereby appointed a committee with full power to examine into the whole conduct of the parties, both in making the said bargain and since it was compleated, suffer them or either of them to disclose under oath, and if said committee or any three of them judge that, according to the common course of trading and transacting in bargaining, said Eliot's conduct has been such as justly intitles said petitioner to any consideration, that then said committee, or any three of them, shall order said Eliot to discount so much upon the judgments obtained against said petitioner upon the notes given in consequence of said bargain, (exclusive of that sold to Flagg,) as they think right. But if the said committee judge that the said petitioner is not (upon the principles abovementioned) intitled to any consideration, that then they order said petitioner to pay said Eliot so much for the expence, disappointment and damage which said Eliot has sustained by said petitioner's conduct as they think equitable. And the said committee to report upon the matters aforesaid to this Assembly in May next. And that execution be stayed on said judgments, (exclusive of that obtained upon one of the said notes sold to John Flagg, of said Spencer,) till that time.

Upon the petition of Martha Owen, of Farmington in the county of Hartford, representing that having been begotten with child in fornication by Daniel Miller of said Farmington, and that said Daniel, rather than abide the sentence of law for and towards the maintenance of said child, compounded, agreed and gave to the petitioner sixteen notes of hand, in the whole containing twenty-two pounds lawful money; that the said Daniel afterwards by collusion and deceit desiring to see said notes, and the same being shewn to him by the said petitioner, he took, carried away, and ever since refused to return them to her, and the same being done when and where no witness could be had &c., and praying for relief &c.: It is resolved by this Assembly, that Messrs. Thomas Hosmer, Daniel Webster and Daniel Kellogg, all of Hartford, be and they are hereby appointed a committee to examine and enquire into all the matters referred to in said petition, by the oath of the parties or otherwise; and to make report of what they find, and of their opinion of what is just and right to be done in the premises, to this Assembly at their present or next sessions.

Upon the report of Messrs. Thomas Hosmer, Daniel Webster and Daniel Kellogg, of Hartford, who were by this Assembly appointed a committee to examine and enquire into all the matters referred to in the petition of Martha Owen of Farmington, complaining of Daniel Miller of the same town for unjustly taking and detaining from her sixteen notes of his hand, given to her by him, said Daniel, for and towards the maintenance of her child by him begotten in fornication, amounting to £22 0s. 0*d.* lawful money, &c., reporting that they had heard the said parties and found that said Daniel had so taken and detained and hitherto refused to deliver up the said notes, and that in their opinion the said Martha had been damnified thereby to the value of £28 0s. 0*d.* lawful money, and that he ought also to pay her costs the sum of £7 5s. 4*d.* like money, in the whole being thirty-five pounds five shillings and four pence lawful money; which report is hereby accepted and approved: And it is therefore decreed and resolved by this Assembly, that the said Daniel Miller shall pay unto the said Martha Owen the aforesaid sum of thirty-five pounds five shillings and four pence lawful money, and that execution be awarded accordingly. Ex. granted October 29th, 1764.

[110] On the petition of Ebenezer Fitch, of Wallingford in New Haven county, versus Samuel Smith, of Suffield in Hartford county, representing and alledging that in October, A.D. 1759, said Smith attended with one Johannes Metoksin, an Indian, stiled Indian interpreter and gentleman, offered to sale certain lands in the county of Hampshire and Province of the Massachusetts Bay, falsely pretending that said Indian could invest any purchaser with legal title to said lands, and that Fitch was by such feigned pretences induced to purchase a right of lands in a place called Rands Town, said to be three hundred and sixty acres, bounded east and north on country lands, south on land of Ebenezer Molton, &c., westwardly on Chandler Town, and thereupon said Fitch did pay to said Smith six pounds and also gave and executed two notes of hand for the sum of fourteen pounds, on which judgments have been rendered and executions issued; praying this Assembly would order and decree said Smith to refund said money, and also pay such cost and damages as should be judged reasonable, and that said judgments rendered against him on said notes may be vacated and proceedings thereon, as by his petition on file; and said Fitch having sufficiently proved the matters in said petition alledged: Whereupon this Assembly do order and decree, and it is hereby decreed, that said Samuel Smith shall pay to said Ebenezer Fitch the sum of six pounds, and that the judgments rendered and executions issued in favour of said Smith against said Fitch on said notes shall be and hereby are made null and void; and all suits commenced by said Smith, relative thereto, and now pending, are hereby abated, and the cost thereon shall be paid by said Smith accordingly. Cost allowed petitioner £4 17 8. Ex. granted Nov. 1st, 1764.

Whereas this Assembly in the session at New Haven in October last ordered that the Treasurer pay to the committee appointed by the county of Newhaven to carry on and compleat the building the new State House at New Haven, or their order, the sum of £907 9s. 0 $\frac{1}{4}$ d. in bills of credit of this Colony, for the balance of the one moiety or half part of the sum total of the cost expended in building and compleating said house, which order is endorsed by said committee to pay Mr. Enos Alling, who by his memorial to this Assembly sheweth he hath not been able to obtain payment, since which the Treasurer hath paid and indorsed on said order the sum of £200 16s. 0d.: And for payment of the residue, resolved by this Assembly, that his Honour the Governor be and he is hereby desired to draw a bill of exchange on Richard Jackson of London, Esq^r, Agent for this Colony, for the sum of five hundred and thirty-seven pounds sterling, payable to the said Enos Alling of Newhaven or his order, in full discharge of the said order of this Assembly.

Upon the report of the committee respecting the difficulties subsisting among the Mohegan Indians, this Assembly do appoint Jonathan Trumble and Jabez Huntington, Esq^{rs}, together with the overseers of said Indians, a committee to repair to Mohegan, or some place near thereto, as soon as may be, and convene said Indians, or so many of them as they may think proper, before them, and make due enquiry into the matters of complaint and grievance, and endeavour to reconcile the contending parties or persons, and also proceed thereon as the exigency of the case may require, and thereof make report to the General Assembly at their sessions in October next.

Whereas this Assembly are informed that by the order of the superior court of this Colony, pursuant to the conviction of Abel Buel of Killingworth for altering sundry of the bills of credit of this Colony, the estate of said Abel was seized as forfeited for the use of this government, but no person is appointed to dispose of the same, and that sundry other such altered bills are since found to have been done and uttered by said Abel before his said conviction and are now in the hands of sundry persons who paid a consideration for the same equal to the sum in said bills not knowing the same to be altered &c. : Thereupon this Assembly do appoint and impower Mathew Griswold, Esqr, to make sale by public vendue of such of the real and personal estate that belonged to the said Abel and forfeited as aforesaid by the conviction aforesaid, giving public notice of the time and place of sale, and out of the avails thereof first pay the cost of said Buel's prosecution and then to pay the possessors of such altered bills the sums therein mentioned, in such instances only wherever it appears said bills were altered by said Buel before his said conviction and that such possessor paid a consideration equal to the sum in such bills not knowing the same to be altered ; and that after deducting the charges of sale he pay the residue of said avails to the Treasurer of this Colony and take his receipt for the same accordingly.

Upon the representation made to this Assembly by Increase Moseley, Bushnel Bostwick and Isaac Baldwin, Esqrs, of the probability of their being able to obtain a more full and compleat account of the affairs of the Ousatunnock Lottery than the account they have already taken, which full and compleat account they may most probably be able to return to this Assembly in their next sessions : It is thereupon resolved by this Assembly, that the said Increase Moseley, Bushnel Bostwick and Isaac Baldwin, Esqrs, be further appointed and empowered to inquire into the affairs of said lottery, agreeable to the powers and appointments formerly made by this Assembly, and to report their doings to this Assembly at their sessions in October next.

Whereas in pursuance of different constructions of said acts, very different practices have obtained in granting bills of abatement in the several towns in this Colony, whereby much inequality and injustice hath been and hereafter may be occasioned: Which to remedy and prevent,

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That the several towns in this Colony shall be chargeable and responsible for the full amount of the Colony rates or taxes that may at any time be granted by this Assembly, in proportion to the sum total of the respective lists of said towns, as the same shall be annually made and returned according to law; except such legal abatements made as hereinafter is provided: And that the Treasurer of this Colony shall not accept or allow any bills of abatement for any part of such rates, save only where any persons shall be found (according to the true intent and meaning of said acts) to have been really overcharged or wrong charged on their lists; or unless any persons charged in said lists is deceased, or shall have absconded and departed out of this Colony before the time limited for the payment of such rate to the Treasurer, and hath not left any estate whereon the same may be levied: And in every bill of abatement made in either of the cases aforesaid shall be certified the reasons for such abatement, by the persons who have right by law to make the same, or by an Assistant or justice of the peace.

And when any person shall by any collector of the Colony rate be committed to goal for the non-payment of such rate, and (being thereto admitted) shall have lawfully administered to him the oath by law appointed for the relief of poor prisoners, the town to which such poor persons whose rates are so abated, or to whom such oath is administered, do belong shall be chargeable with the sums at which such persons were charged in such Colony rates, and also with all the cost and charges occasioned by such commitment; and the selectmen shall order the same to be paid to such collector out of the treasury of such town. And for want of a sufficient supply of money in said town treasury to pay the same, the said selectmen are hereby impowered to make and levy a tax on the inhabitants of such town, sufficient || to raise such sums as shall be needful for that purpose together with the charges of collecting the same. And in case the rates so abated are not paid to said collector of the Colony tax within thirty days next after the time limited for the payment of such rate to the Colony Treasurer, such collector shall certify the same to the Treasurer of this Colony, who shall thereupon issue an execution in due form of law to levy the same out of the money, goods or estate of such selectmen.

An Act for reviving an Act of this Colony made and passed in May A. Dom. 1761, intituled An Act in further Addition to the Law intituled An Act providing in Case of Sickness.

An Act for preventing Mischief by Dogs.

Whereas much damage has been occasioned in sundry parts of this Colony by dogs, and of late in divers towns in this Colony they appear to be attended with an uncommon disease indicating madness, by means whereof many people have already sustained much damage, and are greatly indangered and exposed to suffer much more, unless proper measures are taken to prevent the same :

Be it therefore enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That the authority and selectmen of the several towns in this Colony, or the major part of them, or the major part of the selectmen in such several towns with the advice of one Assistant or justice of the peace, shall have full power and authority, and they are hereby authorized and empowered, to make all necessary rules, orders and regulations, whenever they shall judge the inhabitants of the Colony, their persons or properties shall be in danger, for the confining, restraining, killing or destroying of dogs belonging to or found within such respective towns, as they shall judge reasonable for the effectual security of such inhabitants: The same to be published and a notification thereof set up in writing in three of the [137] most public || places in such town wherein such order shall be made, and not less than one in each society therein.

An Act for preventing Fraud in Debtors and for securing the Effects of Insolvent Debtors for the Use of their Creditors and for the equitable Division of the Estates and Effects of such Debtors to and among their Creditors.

Whereas the estate or effects of insolvent debtors have been attached, and actions have been brought against such debtors, or against persons who have had the estate or effects of absconding or concealed debtors in their hands as trustees of such debtors; which estate and effects have been held by the creditor or creditors, at whose suit they were attached, against the other creditors; by means whereof great inequality and injustice has been occasioned and law suits [have been] greatly multiplied: For the prevention whereof for the future,

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That for the future all attachments of any estate, real, personal, or mixed, of any debtor that shall be made at the suit of any one or more of his creditors shall hold such estate against the debtor and his assigns only, but not against any other of the creditors of such debtors. And all attachments [that have or shall be so made, and all summons and attachments]* which shall hereafter be served upon any trustee of any absent, absconding or concealed debtor by virtue of a law of this Colony entitled An act for the recovery of debts out of the estate or effects of absent or absconding debtors, shall enure to the use and benefit of all the creditors of such debtor or debtors, in just proportion to the debts to them respectively due: Provided such debtor shall appear to be insolvent and unable to pay all his just debts, and shall be proceeded with as an insolvent debtor agreeable to the provision hereafter in this act made, and before execution is levied on such estate.

[138] And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for any one of the judges of the superior court, or the judge of the county court in the county wherein such debtor dwells within this Colony, upon application made in writing and also proof of the debt or debts being made on oath by any creditor for not less than twenty pounds, or creditors for not less than forty pounds, of any person or persons who heretofore have been or hereafter shall be arrested at the suit of any creditor or creditors and thereon confined in goal, or who shall appear to the satisfaction of such judge to have absconded or concealed themselves to avoid the arrests of their creditors, to issue a warrant directed to all and every the sheriffs, [their undersheriffs] and deputies, and the constables of the several towns within this Colony, requiring them in his Majesties name, to attach, seize and keep all the goods, chattels and estate, real, personal and mixt, of what nature or kind soever, within their respective precincts, of such imprisoned or absconding debtor or debtors, for the use and benefit of his or their creditors. And any part of such estate which may be taken in pursuance of such a warrant and which shall be of a perishable nature and shall be proved to be actually in a perishing state before the judge from whom such warrant shall issue, shall and may be forthwith sold by the officer taking the same for the most the same will fetch. And notice shall be forthwith given by such judge in one or more of the public news-papers in this Colony, published next after the issuing such warrant, or as soon as may be, and for three weeks successively, that the effects of such imprisoned or absconding and concealed debtor or debtors are directed to be attached, seized and taken, and that unless such debtor or debtors shall discharge his or their just debts, or give security therefor, within three months from the date of such warrant, to the satisfaction of the creditors, for the payment thereof, all the estate ordered to be so attached, seized and taken, will be sold for the benefit of the creditors.

And be it further enacted, That every person whose effects shall be directed to be so attached, seized and taken, be and is hereby declared to have been from and after their imprisonment, absconding or concealing themselves, as aforesaid, incapable of alienating any part of their effects or estate of what nature or kind soever, unless for the necessary support of himself while imprisoned: and all other assignments, transfers, conveyances or alienations afterwards made by such person or persons, except the same be made for the payment of all his just debts or securing and satisfying of all his creditors in just proportion, are hereby declared to be null and void, unless it shall appear that such assignment, transfer or alienation was bona fide made before any estate of such debtor was attached and before public notice was given of the granting such warrant, and that the purchaser was not privy to the absconding or concealment of such debtor. Provided also, that no assignments, transfers, conveyances or alienations, bona fide made before the passing this act, shall be understood to be affected hereby.

[139] And be it further enacted, That if any imprisoned, absconding or concealed debtor or debtors, whose effects or estate shall be directed to be attached, seized and taken, as aforesaid, shall not, before the expiration of three months as aforesaid, discharge their just debts or give security for the discharge thereof to the satisfaction of their creditors, it shall and may be lawful for the judge who shall have issued such warrant, to appoint three of the creditors of such debtor or debtors to be trustees of his or their estate.

Provided always, and it is accordingly enacted, That if any such debtor or debtors shall by writing under his or their hands signify to the judge issuing the warrant aforesaid, his or their willingness to surrender up all his or their effects, and shall desire that trustees may be forthwith appointed, it shall be lawful for such judge forthwith to appoint the same, and the advertisement to surrender shall be thereupon discontinued.

And be it further enacted, That if such debtor, or any other insolvent debtor or debtors who have not so absconded or been imprisoned, are willing to disclose and deliver up his or their estate for the benefit of his, her or their creditors, he or they may, in conjunction with the major part in number and value of his, her or their creditors, exhibit a petition to any two of the judges of the superior court, or to the judge of the county court and one justice of the quorum in the county where such debtor dwells, together with an account in writing of all the sums owing by such debtor, and of the persons to whom, and also a true and compleat inventory of all such debtor's estate, real, personal and mixt, in law and equity, and [all accounts, books, vouchers and securities relating thereto,] praying for the relief provided in this act; thereupon the said judges are hereby empowered to administer to such debtor or debtors an oath to the effect following:

You A. B. do [solemnly] swear by the everliving God, that the petition by you presented doth contain a just and true account of all the monies owing by you, of the persons to whom, and of all your estate, real or personal, both in law and equity, either in possession, reversion or remainder, to the best of your knowledge and remembrance; and if any hereafter come to your knowledge you will as soon as may be cause the same to be added; and that you have not directly or indirectly sold, conveyed, made over, or otherwise disposed of, either in trust for yourself or otherwise than is mentioned in the same account, any part of your lands, goods, estate, stock, money, debts, or other real and personal estate, whereby to have or receive any benefit, or with any view or design to deceive, injure or defraud your creditors: So help you God.

Which oath being taken by the debtor, notice shall be given by the petitioners to all the creditors of such debtor, by advertising the same in one or more of the public news-papers in this Colony, to shew cause, if any they have, by such a day as shall be appointed by said judges, why an assignment of such debtor's estate should not be made and the person of the debtor discharged. At which day, if no sufficient cause to the contrary appear, the said judges shall direct a legal grant or assignment of all such debtor's estate, both in law and equity, to be made by such debtor to the person or persons, being creditors, that may be appointed by such judges to be trustees to receive the same for the only use and benefit of the creditors.

[140] And be it further enacted, That the trustees so appointed [shall,] as soon as may be notify, in one or more of the public news-papers which may most effectually communicate such notice, three weeks successively, the time and place for a meeting of the creditors of such debtors: such meeting to be held within one month from the date of such notification. And it shall and may be lawful for the major part in number and value of the creditors present at such meeting, to approve or disapprove of all or any of [the] trustees so appointed, and to choose others in the room of such as may be disapproved, who shall be vested with all the rights, powers and authority of such former trustees. And the trustees who shall be so appointed or chosen at this meeting shall be sworn before an Assistant or justice of the peace to well and faithfully manage the estate of such debtor or debtors as shall come to their hands; and shall for that purpose keep regular books of account of their receipts and disbursements of such debtor or debtor's estate, to which such debtor and every creditor at all seasonable times may have recourse: And the power of the trustees first appointed and disapproved shall then determine and cease, and the creditors may thereupon give into the trustees their respective claims and demands then due and payable, or which may become due at a future day, upon or against the debtors. And upon such debtor's producing to said judges a certificate under the hands and seals of the trustees, executed in presence of two witnesses, that he or she has legally granted, conveyed, assigned and delivered up, for the use of the creditors, all his or her estate, real or personal, both in law and equity, and all the books, vouchers and securities relating to the same, they shall discharge such debtor, if in prison, from his imprisonment.

And be it further enacted, That the person of such debtor giving up his or her estate as aforesaid, and conforming in all things as in and by this act is directed, shall not for the future ever be liable to any arrest or imprisonment, either on mean process or execution, for any debt due or contracted by him or her before the assignment of his or her estate as aforesaid. Provided nevertheless, that the future estate, real or personal, of such debtor, which may thereafter be had, acquired, gotten, or descended, (excepting such necessary articles as shall be allowed him agreeable to this act,) shall be liable to and answerable for the remainder of said debts to all intents and purposes as though such debtor or debtors had not been discharged as aforesaid. And pending such petition the bodies of such debtors shall be free from any arrests, as also pending any examination before the trustees from time to time as may be necessary.

And be it further enacted, That the trustees so appointed and sworn shall be and are hereby authorized and empowered, to receive from the sheriffs, under-sheriffs or deputies, and constables, and from all other persons whatsoever, all the effects and estate of every kind of such debtor or debtors, and also all their books of accounts and all papers necessary for discovering [141] the state of the business and || dealings of such debtor or debtors, and also to settle and adjust all matters and accounts unsettled, between such debtor or debtors and any of their debtors, and in their own names, to commence and prosecute to final judgment and execution any action or actions in the law for the recovery of any debts, effects or estate whatsoever, of such debtor or debtors, as fully to all intents and purposes as he or they might have done if this act had not been made and passed: And with the consent of the major part of the creditors in number and value present at any meeting duly notified, to submit to arbitration any matters in dispute between such [debtor or] debtors and any one of his or their supposed debtors, and with the like consent to compromise or make abatement upon any claim or supposed debt.

And be it further enacted, That all the goods, chattels and lands of such debtor, before any disposition thereof be made, shall be appraised by two or three sufficient freeholders mutually chosen by the trustees and such debtor, or appointed by said judges, who shall be sworn to appraise the same at the just value thereof in money; and a true and perfect inventory thereof shall be made, under the hands of the said appraisers, and also of the said trustees, and exhibited to said judges; and such debtor shall be allowed for such estate by the creditors toward the payment of his debts due to them the price set in said inventory.

And be it further enacted, That before any disposition of such debtor's estate be made, such debtor shall be allowed out of the same such necessary wearing apparel and bedding for himself, wife and children, and tools, arms, and other implements of his household necessary for the upholding of life, as such debtor and the major part in number and value of the creditors shall agree to, or the judges to whom the petition is presented shall think reasonable and order. And [that] all the remainder of such debtor's estate may be converted into money as soon as may be, for the use and benefit of the creditors, where the major part in number and value of the creditors do not agree to apportion and divide the same or any part thereof among themselves, which they are hereby enabled to do, the said trustees are hereby authorized and impowered to make sale of every part thereof, and also to grant, bargain, sell and convey to any person or persons whomsoever, any lands, tenements or hereditaments whereof such debtor or debtors are or shall be seized in possession, reversion or remainder, as of an estate in fee simple or an estate for life or years, and to execute good and sufficient deeds therefor.

And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for an Assistant or justice of [the] peace, upon application made to him for that purpose by the trustees, to convene before him the wife or any one of the family of any such debtor or debtors, or any other person or persons suspected of concealing or embezzeling any part of such debtor's effects, or of being privy or knowing to any concealment or embezzel-[142] ment thereof, or to any private trade or || dealing of such debtor or debtors; and such Assistant or justice of peace (the said trustees and one or more of the creditors being present) shall examine such person so convened upon oath touching all matters respecting the effects or estate, the trade or dealing of such debtor or debtors, and shall take down such examination in writing and cause the person so examined to sign the same; and if any such person shall refuse to submit to an examination or to sign the same, such Assistant or justice is hereby impowered to commit such person to prison, there to remain until he or she shall comply or shall be discharged by the consent of the said trustees.

And be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the trustees aforesaid, in the execution of their trust, by warrant had from a justice of the peace directed to the sheriff, his under-sheriff or deputy, to cause to be broke open and entered the dwelling-houses, shops, warehouses, or other houses of any such insolvent, imprisoned, absconding or concealed debtor or debtors, and to cause to be opened any trunks or chests, or other close or locked places, where any part of their goods or estate shall be or be reputed to be. Provided always, that the body of such debtor, in their own houses, shall not by or in consequence of the execution of such warrant be liable to any arrests of the creditors.

And be it further enacted, That the trustees aforesaid shall by advertisement in one or more of the public news-papers three weeks successively, seasonably notify another meeting of the creditors of such insolvent debtors, to be held at such time and place as they shall appoint, not exceeding six months from and after the first meeting aforesaid; at which meeting any creditors who have not given in their claims before may then exhibit the same. And the said trustees are also empowered from time to time to call other meetings of the creditors in like manner, or to continue any meetings with the consent of the major part in number and value of the creditors present, by adjournments, as there may be special occasion therefor.

And be it further enacted, That the said trustees shall within a reasonable space of time, not exceeding twelve months after their appointment, proceed to make a division of all the money that shall come to their hands out of the estate of such debtor or debtors, first giving sufficient notice of the time and place of making such dividend, by advertising the same in one or more of the public news-papers, and in like manner and upon like notice make a second dividend of what money may come to their hands, or be recovered and received by them after the first division, if the whole estate shall not be settled at that time; and so from time to time, until a final settlement thereof and a full, just and equitable division be made of the whole of such estate. And in case of any controversy relating to any debt or sum of money [143] due to any creditor, || the same shall be settled by arbitrators, not being creditors, and mutually chosen by the trustees and the creditor or creditors with whom such dispute doth arise, who shall finally settle such controversy and ascertain the sum due to such creditor. And in case any creditor, upon such controversy arising, shall refuse to join in the nomination and appointment of arbitrators, the trustees are hereby empowered to nominate and appoint them.

And be it further enacted, That the powers by this act given to trustees shall and may be executed by any two of them, and shall be construed and understood in all cases accordingly. And any person being of the people called Quakers may and shall be allowed, when any oath is required by this act, to make solemn affirmation instead thereof.

And be it further enacted, That if any creditor of such insolvent debtor or debtors shall neglect or refuse to give notice of and prove his debt before the first dividend be made, such creditor shall be ever after debarred from receiving his debt of such trustees, unless the whole of the estate shall not have been received and divided, and unless such creditor shall, before the second dividend be made, prove his debt; and in such case such creditor shall, before the second dividend be made, have the sum he would have been intitled to on the first dividend, or so much thereof as shall be in the hands of the trustees; and if more than one creditor shall have so neglected, and there shall not be enough in the hands of the trustees to pay to all of them the full of their dividend, each shall be paid in proportion.

Provided always, and be it further enacted, That before any dividend be made of such debtor's estate, all and every sum and sums of money which are and shall be due and owing from such debtor or debtors to this government shall be fully paid by the trustees out of such estate, and also all such cost, charges and expences as shall be necessarily laid out and expended by the said trustees, together with a reasonable allowance for their trouble and care therein, the same being first allowed and taxed by the judges who have had cognizance of the proceedings in such case; and also such sum as three fourth parts in number and value of the creditors shall agree to allow to the debtor or debtors who shall have appeared and surrendered up their effects and taken the oath required by this act, not exceeding in any case five per cent. on the whole estate: and the overplus of such debtor's estate and effects, after deducting the debts, charges and allowances aforesaid, shall be divided and distributed to and among the creditors of such debtor, in proportion to the debts to them respectively due, in which distribution and division no preference shall be given to debts due by specialty, or on any judgment entered against such debtor.

And be it further enacted, That if any person shall be convicted of wilfully affirming or swearing falsely in any case where an affirmation or oath is required or allowed by this act, the person so offending shall suffer as in case of wilful perjury. And in case any debtor, who shall take the oath required by this act and shall thereupon be admitted to take the benefit of being freed and exempted from arrests and imprisonment thereby, shall be convicted of concealing any part of his estate or effects, or any books, securities or papers relating thereto, with an intent to defraud his creditors, he shall suffer as in case of wilful perjury, and also from and after such conviction his body shall be liable to be arrested and imprisoned at the suit of [his] creditors, or any of them, for any of the debts by him contracted before the assignment of his estate; anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding.

Be it further provided and enacted, That in case it should so happen that the estate of any such debtor or debtors, according to the appraisment thereof in the inventory made as aforesaid, shall surpass the amount of his or their debts and the cost and charges attending the assignment and distribution of such estate and the proceedings thereon in pursuance of this act, that then all the overplus of said estate shall by the said trustees be returned, delivered back or reconveyed to such debtor or debtors, or his or their heirs, executors and administrators. That this act shall continue [and be in force for the term of two years from the rising of this Assembly, and no longer: Provided notwithstanding, that the same shall continue] and be in full force as to the powers and authorities in all cases that shall be begun within said two years, until a full and final settlement and division shall be made, according to the true intent and meaning of this act.

This Assembly being informed that Jonathan Atwater, late constable and collector of the Colony tax in the town of New Haven, fell greatly short in his payment of said tax into the treasury of this Colony, and to secure the payment of the arrearage of said tax he, the said Atwater, in his life-time made and executed a deed of his dwelling-house and land in said New Haven to the Governor and Company of this Colony, and there being no person appointed by this Assembly to make sale and give and execute a deed thereof in behalf of the said Governor and Company to any person that may purchase the same: Resolved by this Assembly, that Benjamin Hall, Esq^r, and Mr. Joshua Chandler of New Haven be and hereby are fully impowered, to make sale of said house and land for the most the same will fetch, and to make and execute a good deed in the name and on the behalf of the Governor and Company of this Colony to the person or persons that shall purchase the same: and they are hereby impowered to receive the money said house and land may fetch, and pay the same into the treasury of this Colony. And the Treasurer is hereby ordered and directed, on the receipt of said money, to give credit for so much as the same shall amount to; and [in] case house and land shall sell for more than is due to this Colony for the payment of said taxes, the overplus shall be returned to the heirs of said Atwater.

Whereas it hath been certified to this Assembly by the listers of the town of Pomfret for the year 1763, that through [145] mistake they undercast the list of || said town for the year aforesaid the sum of £742; and also it hath been certified by the listers of the town of Plainfield for the year 1763, that the additions on the list for the said town of Plainfield for this said year have not been returned, which additions amount to the sum of £202 9 0: It is thereupon resolved by this Assembly, that the Treasurer of this Colony be and he is hereby ordered and directed, to issue out his warrants to the collection of the Colony rate in said town of Pomfret, to collect of the inhabitants of said town of Pomfret so much as arises on said sum of £742, in their lists of estate for the year aforesaid, and to the collector of the town of Plainfield to collect of the inhabitants of the said town of Plainfield so much as arises on said sum of £202 9 0, in their lists of estate for the year aforesaid, in addition to the sums which the said collectors of said towns are already by the Treasurer's warrant impowered to collect; and the said collectors are accordingly hereby ordered to conform themselves to such warrants as the Treasurer may prove fit in pursuance of this resolve.

On the memorial of Daniel Benedict jun^r, and other inhabitants of the first society in Danbury, representing the divided circumstances of said society and praying as per memorial on file: Resolved, that it be and it is hereby recommended to the memorialists and the rest of said society, with forbearance, condescension and charity, to unite and mutually agree in the choice of a council to be convened sometime before the sitting of this Assembly in October next, to hear the parties, heal their differences and divisions, and restore peace, harmony and union among the inhabitants of said society; that in the meantime and during such propos'd procedure, no distress or lawsuits be made and prosecuted against the memorialists for any society rate or other matters relative to their divisions and contentions.

On the memorial of Tom Shermon and his wife Eunice Shoron, and Sarah Shoron, Indian natives of Poquonuck in the town of Stratford, preferred to this Assembly in October, 1763, representing that they, together with many other Indians long since dead or dispersed into other places, were lawfully seized of about eighty acres of land at a place commonly called Golden Hill, in said Poquonuck; that they for many years enjoyed the same till some few years past, when said lands were all except about six acres thereof taken from them, and they thereof unjustly disseized by Gamaliel French and sundry others, and that in August, 1763, one Richard Hall had also unjustly entered and disseized them of said remaining six acres, to their grievous wrong and injury; thereupon praying relief &c.: Benjamin Hall, Jabez Hamblin and Robert Treat, Esq^{rs}, were appointed to repair to said Poquonuck, and to hear and examine into said matters, and thereof make report &c.; which report being accordingly made to this Assembly in May, 1764, come to this time by sundry continuances: And now, on consideration thereof had, || this Assembly do not approve the same, and do thereupon further resolve and order, that Jabez Hamlin, Elisha Sheldon and Robert Treat, Esq^{rs}, be and they are hereby appointed a committee with full power and authority, to examine into and discover said matters of grievance; and of what they find, with their opinion of what may best be done to relieve the same, to make report to this Assembly as soon as with convenience may be. And that, in order thereto, said committee by the easiest and most effectual means find out who and where are the claimants of said lands in their several dispositions and them notify of time and place to be by them appointed for said business, as also that such claimer or pretended claimer must be prepared in some satisfactory manner to shew their right to their said lands; that they summon in all parties, persons and witnesses, on reasonable request, and them hear and examine touching the premises on oath or otherwise, and by all probable and reasonable measures to discover and find out the truth and right of the matter, and as well to make as to hear all probable and practicable proposals for quieting said controversy, either by some equivalent or compensation in whole or in part by other lands or otherwise.

Upon the memorial of Timothy Rose and others, shewing that upon representation made to this Assembly in October, 1762, that a highway might be made without great cost from the court-house in New Haven through the society of Oxford to the meeting-house in the society of Southbury in the town of Woodbury, which would be shorter and much better than the road now used by Darby neck; this Assembly appointed Benjamin Stiles, Stephen Upson jun^r, and Roger Sherman a committee, to view and mark out the best place for such highway and report to this Assembly their opinion of the necessity and convenience thereof, which committee made their report to this Assembly in May, 1763, that they were of opinion that a good road might be made from said court-house to said meeting-house with but little cost and charge, which will be much better than the road now used by Darby, and about three miles shorter, allowing the same to go by Darby upper bridge &c., and that the same would be of common conveniency and advantage, which report was not then accepted; praying that the same may now be accepted and approved by this Assembly, with some alteration, and that a committee may be appointed to lay out said highway &c., as by their memorial on file: Resolved by this Assembly, that John Fowler, Messrs. Stephen Upson jun^r and Joseph Hall jun^r be and they are hereby appointed a committee to lay out said highway, and they are hereby directed particularly to mark out and bound the same by some notable and durable monuments in all those places where it is intended to alter or vary from the highways already laid out, and [147] that said committee lay out the same || where they shall judge most convenient for the publick and least prejudicial to any particular persons, and as near as may be with conveniency agreeable to the following description viz: From said court-house in the highways already laid out and used to Joshua Speary's dwelling-house; from thence in the most convenient place to the top of the great hill, so called, in New Haven; then in the road leading to Waterbury to Isaac Ford's dwelling-house; from thence in the best and most convenient place to the highway on the south side of Bladens Brook, near where the same crosses the west line of New Haven township; from thence in the roads already laid out and used by said Bladens Brook and over the said upper bridge in Darby, and by the meeting-house in said Oxford to Nathan Buckingham's dwelling-house, which is within the bounds of the town of Darby; then turning on the north side of said Buckingham's house west 26 degrees north on said Buckingham's land 46 rods; then north 40 degrees west 172 rods; then north 43 degrees west 86 rods to Woodbury line southward of Joseph Towner's dwelling-house to an old highway; then in or near said old highway to John Towner's dwelling-house; then leaving said old highway northward of said John Towner house and running west six degrees north 84 rods; then west 31 degrees north 100 rods; then north 36 degrees west 54 rods to an old highway near Ebenezer Brownson's dwelling-house in said old highway; from thence by Charles Strong's dwelling-house into the country road leading to said Southbury meeting-house from Darby.

And it is further enacted and resolved by this Assembly, That the respective towns within whose bounds said highway is to be laid out shall pay the charges of laying out the same and all the damages which any particular persons shall sustain in their lands or property thereby as the selectmen of said towns and the parties interested may agree, or otherwise as the same shall be apprized by said committee; and that said committee make return of their doings in the premises to this Assembly in October next.

Upon the report of John Chester, Elisha Williams and James Wadsworth junr, Esqrs, a committee appointed by this Assembly on the memorial of the selectmen of Middletown in Hartford county, Moses Bush, Jeremiah Goodrich, David Sage, Nathaniel White, Daniel Shepard, and others of the third society in Middletown, and by Samuel Ashpo, an Indian, for himself, and agent for sundry Indians, proprietors of land in Middletown at a place called Wongunk, shewing to this Assembly that the town of Middletown, in the year 1675, granted and recorded to twelve Indians, to them and their heirs forever, three hundred acres of land at or near a place called Wongonk, which said land is situate near the center of said society, and the meeting-house being placed about the middle of said land, and the land so situate is a great disadvantage to the settlement of said society, and that the present owners and claimers to said land, men, women and children, were but about forty in number, and they had dispersed themselves and lived in diverse places all of them, except one squaw and two or three children that lived on said land, and one old blind squaw, the widow of Cushoy a late sachem, and she not being able to help herself is supported by said selectmen, and that said Indians many of them are civilized and christianized, and are settled in other places, and have leased out some of the land, and some encroachments made on it &c.: Said report being read, on which it appeared to this Assembly that the said three hundred acres granted as aforesaid has part of it, about seventy acres, been formerly bargained and sold with the liberty of the town of Middletown by the Indians for the settlement of a minister and building place for a meeting-house, and highways that are needful to accommodate travellers, and that the Indians had sold and conveyed several small pieces of land, and that what remains is now about two hundred acres, and what has been by them sold there has no disputes arisen about the sale thereof, and the number of those that at present claim to have a right in said land is about thirty, and the Indians have bought and sold to one another and given deeds well acknowledged by the civil authority, and that the selectmen have already for the support of said blind squaw expended twenty-one pounds fifteen shillings and tenpence half-penny, and that one Tom-Cushoy, deceased, who was an agent and proprietor of said [148] land, was justly indebted || to Doctor Aaron Roberts, who took care of and did for him in his last sickness, to the sum of five pounds two shillings, and that this Assembly had apparted to an Indian called Dick Ranney ten acres of said land; and the said committee were of the opinion that it would be most for the benefit of said society and for the interest of the Indians that said remaining part should be sold by a committee appointed by this Assembly to ascertain the proportion each one ought to have, and that the avails of said land should be laid out for the benefit of said Indians claiming to be owners thereof, (the debt due to the town of Middletown and the said Roberts being first paid,) in equal shares or proportions, in such way and manner as said committee shall judge most for advantage and most agreeable to those of them who are in some degree able to judge for themselves, unless it should be thought that some part thereof be held in the hands of said committee until it be known whether any other owner or owners should hereafter appear and make out his or their claim; and some of the chief of said Indians with divers others appeared before this Assembly, and by a writing under their hands praying that said report may be accepted and a decree thereon made, as may appear: Whereupon this Assembly accept and approve of said report, and thereupon by the desire of said Indians it is ordered and decreed, that the abovenamed John Chester, Elisha Williams and James Wadsworth jun^r, with William Welles, Esq^r, be and they hereby are appointed a committee with full power, to hear, examine and determine who are the rightful heirs of said remaining land, and how and to whom, and in what proportion, it ought to be disposed of after the aforesaid debts are paid out of the avails of said land, and to join with and assist the owners of said land in disposing thereof, either in part or whole for other lands, as said committee shall see fit; and to save for the use of such of them as incline to live on said land a sufficient quantity thereof for that purpose, and set and sequester the same to them accordingly, and in all respects do what shall appear to be just and right with regard to said Indians and every of them, according to their best skill and judgment in the premises.

Upon the petition of Henderson Inches, of Boston in the Province of the Massachusetts Bay, representing that he brought his action against Freegrace Adams, of Suffield in the county of Hartford, to the county court held at Hartford in said county (by writ of partition) on the first Tuesday of November, 1759, declaring that he together with the defendant as tenant in common did hold a certain tract of land in said Suffield containing in quantity sixty acres &c., demanding partition thereof, viz: the one moiety to be apparted to the plaintiff, the other moiety to the defendant in severalty, &c., which afterwards, per review, appeal &c., came to the superior court held at said Hartford on the first Tuesday of September, 1760, when and where the said parties joined in issue whether or no the plaintiff and defendant did hold the said land in manner and proportion as set forth in the declaration; that at said tryal, to evince that said parties did hold said land in such manner and proportion &c., and especially that the petitioner had derived a title to the one half of said sixty acres from the said Freegrace, (which was the only dispute in the case at said tryal,) the plaintiff produced and exhibited in evidence thereof a certain deed of bargain and sale well executed by one Abraham Adams and the said Freegrace, dated February 20th, 1756, in and by which for the consideration of one hundred and seventy-three pounds, lawful money, they had sold and granted unto the petitioner the one half of said land in common &c.; that the aforesaid deed was acknowledged only by the said Abraham, and that said Freegrace refused to acknowledge the same; that the jury in consideration thereof were of opinion that by said deed nothing was conveyed by said Freegrace to the petitioner, and [for] that reason only found that the plaintiff and defendant did not hold the land whereof partition was demanded in manner and proportion aforesaid, and returned their verdict accordingly, which was accepted by said court &c. and judgment thereon had; that said deed was made and executed for the security of a just debt of one hundred and seventy-three pounds, lawful money, and was made bona fide, and that the said defendant ought to be estopped to say anything against his own deed &c., and that it was his own fault only that he did not acknowledge said deed, and that the petitioner had not by any means forfeited his right to hold said land until said debt and interest was paid &c.; praying the enquiry and equitable interposition of this Assembly, &c.: Resolved by this Assembly, that John Chester, Esq^r, of Weathersfield, William Wolcott, Esq^r, of Windsor, and Samuel Talcott, Esq^r, of Hartford, be and they are hereby appointed a committee to enquire into all the matters referred to in said petition, by the oaths of the parties or otherways, and to make their report of what they shall find in the premises to be just and right, to this Assembly in the present session or to the Assembly at the session in October next.

Upon the report of John Chester, William Wolcott and Samuel Talcott, Esq^{rs}, a committee appointed by this Assembly to enquire into the matters referred to in the petition of Henderson Inches of Boston, representing that he brought his action against Freegrace Adams, of Suffield in the county of Hartford, to the county court held at Hartford on the first Tuesday of November, 1759, demanding partition of a certain tract of land in said Suffield, in quantity sixty acres, viz: that the one moiety thereof should be apparted to the plaintiff and the other moiety to the defendant in severalty, &c., which by review, appeal &c., came afterwards to the [149] superior court held at said Hartford || on the first Tuesday of September, 1760, when and where the said parties joined in issue, whether or no the plaintiff and defendant did hold the said land in manner and proportion as set forth in the declaration; that at said tryal, to evince that the said parties did so hold said land, and especially that the plaintiff, viz: the petitioner, had derived a title to the one half of said sixty acres from the said Freegrace Adams the defendant, which was the only dispute in said cause, the petitioner produced and exhibited in evidence thereof a certain deed of bargain and sale well executed by one Abraham Adams and the said Freegrace Adams, dated the 20th day of February, 1756, in and by which for the consideration of one hundred and seventy-three pounds, lawful money, they had sold and conveyed unto the petitioner the one half of said land in common, &c.; that the aforesaid deed was acknowledged only by the said Abraham, and that the said Freegrace refused to acknowledge the same; that the jury in consideration thereof were of opinion that by said deed nothing was conveyed by the said Freegrace to the petitioner, and returned their verdict accordingly, which was accepted by said court and judgment thereon had; that said deed was made and executed for the securing a just debt of one hundred and seventy-three pounds, lawful money &c.: reporting that having heard the parties, their evidences &c., they find that the said Abraham and Freegrace were justly indebted to the petitioner in the sum of £173, lawful money, as mentioned in said deed, at the time of the date thereof, and the said Freegrace and Abraham then signed, sealed and delivered said deed for the securing of said sum and interest, and the petitioner accepted the same and gave up the other security he had for said debt and interest, and that the said Abraham only acknowledged the said deed, and the [said] Freegrace refused to make such acknowledgement; that the petitioner had not ever been paid any part of said debt and interest, but had by such refusal lost his said security; and that it was their opinion that the said Freegrace ought to pay the one half of said sum of £173, and interest from the date of said deed &c.: It is therefore resolved and decreed by this Assembly, that the said Freegrace shall make, execute and acknowledge, and lodge with the Secretary for the use of the petitioner, a good and ample deed of conveyance (at or before the 28th day of June next,) of the one half in quantity and quality of his said land mentioned in the said petition, exclusive of the buildings thereon, (which were not intended to be included in said first deed;) and on failure thereof execution shall be awarded and issued in due form of law in favour of the said Henderson Inches, against the said Freegrace, for the one half of said debt and interest thereof as aforesaid, being in the whole £134 5s. 7d. lawful money.

Upon the report of Jabez Hamlin, Elisha Williams and William Welles, Esqrs, a committee appointed by this Assembly at their sessions in October last, to examine and enquire into the cause and matters referred to in the petition of James Phelps of Windsor, vs. Joseph Remington junr, of Suffield, then and still depending, relative to the doings of certain arbitrators, who had awarded the petitioner to pay a large sum to the said Remington &c., and that on the first day of January, 1763, they found that Daniel Alderman of Symsbury did by his note under his hand promise to pay to the petitioner and petitionee jointly the sum of one hundred and fifty pounds, New York currency, as an indemnity to them for being bound for him, the said Daniel, which note was in the hands of the petitionee and withheld from the petitioner; and that they also found that at the same time the petitioner promised to give the petitionee a legal and ample deed of the one half of a certain farm of the said Alderman's within fifteen days from said first of January; that an action had been commenced on said promise, and being referred to said arbitrators by rule of court they awarded the petitioner to pay to said Remington for his failure to perform said promise the sum of £94 0s. 2d. lawful money, and cost, and that judgment had passed thereon and execution been granted and satisfied by the petitioner; that said arbitrators did not proceed by a just rule in awarding said sum, and that upon the whole matter it was their opinion that in justice and equity the said Remington should now pay to the petitioner the sum of thirty-five pounds fourteen shillings and five pence, lawful money, and that both the petitioner and petitionee have equal right to the note given by the said Alderman as abovementioned: Whereupon it is resolved by this Assembly, that the said Joseph Remington shall pay unto the petitioner the sum of £34 14 5, and that execution in due form shall and may be granted for the levying the same by the Secretary. And it is further decreed and resolved, that the said Remington shall suffer and permit the said petitioner to have and take the benefit of the one half of said obligation by the [said] Alderman to them jointly executed as aforesaid. Ex. granted June 5th, 1765.

Upon the petition of James Richardson of Stonington, representing to this Assembly that he had a controversy with Benjamin Bancroft of Suffield, relating to their book-accounts, charter of the sloop Gull, as also some goods and merchandize said to be received by said petitioner to sell for said Bancroft at the Havanna in the year 1762, which controversy was referred to the arbitrament of Messrs. petitioner be discharged from his present imprisonment accordingly.

Whereas Nathan Curtiss, of Wallingford in the county of New Haven, brought his petition to this Assembly in October last, representing that his late father, Nathaniel Curtiss late of said Wallingford, deceased, by will gave him a piece of land at Chestnut Ground, so called, and another piece at Plainfield, and the remainder of his estate (besides some legacies) to Nathaniel Curtiss junr, and made them his executors; that said Nathaniel the elder in the latter part of his life failed in his reason and was put under the care of selectmen and afterwards of a conservator, and whilst under such circumstances said Nathaniel junr persuaded him to make deeds of gift of a considerable part of the estate then belonging to him unto the said Nathaniel junr; that said Nathan refusing to meddle as executor in said will, said Nathaniel junr proceeded to make an inventory of said deceased's estate and of the debts, whereby it appeared that the debts considerably exceeded the moveable estate; that said Nathaniel junr pretended to claim the estate so left to him as aforesaid by force of said deeds of gift and refused to put the same into the inventory of his father's estate, whereby said estate appeared to be insolvent, no land being put into said inventory except said land at Chestnut Ground so given to said Nathan; that said Nathan proceeded to sell said land at Chestnut Ground agreeable to the direction of the court of probate; praying that a committee might be appointed, &c.: And whereas upon agreement of the parties to said petition Roger Sherman of Newhaven, Esqr, and Messrs. Macock Ward and Titus Bocket, both of said Wallingford, were appointed a committee to examine and consider the matters and things stated and alledged in said petition, and enquire in what manner and by whom the debts due from said estate should be borne and paid &c., and report their opinion thereon; which committee have made report to this Assembly that some part of the debts ought to be paid out of the estate given to the petitioner in said will, and that the said land at Chestnut Ground, sold as aforesaid, surmounts the petitioner's proportion of said debts the sum of forty pounds; that it will be best that the purchasers hold said land at Chestnut Ground, and that the petitionee pay to the petitioner said sum of forty pounds, and that the petitioner ought to have and hold the other two pieces of land given by said will and the petitionee have the residue of the estate of said deceased and pay all the remainder of the debts due therefrom &c., as per said report on file appears: Resolved by this Assembly, that the said report of said committee be and the same is hereby accepted and approved. And it is thereupon further decreed and enacted, that the said purchasers shall have and hold the said land at Chestnut Ground; that the petitioner shall hold the two other pieces of land given to him by said will, in the same manner as he might have done if said last deed of gift from said Nathaniel the elder to the petitionee had not been made; that the petitionee shall have and hold the residue of the estate of the said deceased and pay and satisfy all the remainder of the debts due from said estate, and also that he pay and satisfy to the petitioner the said sum of forty pounds, lawful money, and his cost, taxed at £22 1s. 10d. lawful money, and that execution issue accordingly. Execution granted May 30th, 1765.

Upon the petition of John Walker, of Hartford in the county of Hartford, one of the executors of the last will and testament of Doctor Normand Morison late of said Hartford, deceased, brought to the General Assembly holden at said Hartford on the second Thursday of May, 1764, against George Wilmot, of Albany in the Province of New York, therein representing that sometime in April, 1763, there being a controversy subsisting between the said executors and said Wilmot relating to the book-accounts of said deceased and said Wilmot, the same was by mutual agreement submitted to arbitration; that before the arbitrators in said case the said Wilmot produced an account containing a charge of large sums by him paid to Philip Livingstone of New York, and in evidence thereof exhibited certain receipts under the hand of said Livingstone and his clerks, acknowledging to have received the same of said deceased by the hands of said Wilmot, which sums were by him alledged and sworn to have been paid with his own monies, with which evidences the petitioner was surprised, said receipts having been in the hands of said deceased and by George Smith, one of his executors, delivered up to said Wilmot and by him produced as aforesaid, and said arbitrators being limited to a certain short period for delivering up their award did not, nor could, give the petitioner time to evince that said monies paid by said Wilmot, for which said receipts were given, were the proper monies of the said Normand and by him remitted to said Livingstone by the hands only of the said Wilmot, for want of which evidence said arbitrators allowed said sums in favour of said Wilmot, and [151] awarded in his || favour the sum of £94 2s. 6d. lawful money, for which sum said Wilmot hath obtained a judgment at law on the note given by the petitioner and said Smith &c. ; praying for a committee &c., as per said petition more fully will appear &c.: And whereas on the petition aforesaid Messrs. Elisha Williams, Erastus Wolcott and Jonathan Welles were, by said Assembly in May aforesaid, appointed a committee with full power to examine into all the matters mentioned and referred to in said petition and make report of what they should find with their opinion &c. ; and whereas said committee, after duly notifying and hearing said parties on said matters referred to, did make their report to said Assembly at their sessions at New Haven in October last, and found that said Wilmot at the time of the decease of said Doctor Morison was justly indebted to said Morison on the account of the sale of six negroes, and on an adjustment of their accounts the sum of one hundred and seventy-one pounds eleven shillings and four pence, lawful money of said Colony, and that said Wilmot never had any right or property in the money contained in the receipts of Philip Livingstone and his clerks, as mentioned in said petition, but that the same came into his hands and were allowed by said arbitrators in way and manner as complained of in said petition ; and they were also of opinion that the doings of said arbitrators mentioned in said petition, and the judgment of court on the note therein specified, ought to be set aside and rendered null and void, and that the said John Walker, in his capacity as executor, ought to recover of said Wilmot the aforesaid sum of one hundred and seventy-one pounds eleven shillings and four pence and his costs &c. ; the consideration of which report of said committee in October aforesaid was continued and referred to the session of this Assembly, and the same being now accepted and approved &c. : It is thereupon resolved by this Assembly, that the doings of said arbitrators and the judgment of court and execution had on the note given as aforesaid, with all the proceedings thereon, be set aside and become null and void, and the same is hereby made null and void ; and that the said John Walker, in his said capacity, do and shall have and recover of him, the said George Wilmot, the said sum of £171 11s. 4d. and his costs, and that execution be granted by the Secretary accordingly. *Cost allowed is £15 12 6, lawful money. Upon the petition of Ozias Goodwin, of Hartford in the county of Hartford, representing that on the first day of June, 1759, he with John Gilman of said Hartford, (since deceased,) borrowed of Peter Mallet of Stratford, (who is also since deceased,) four hundred pounds New York money, two hundred pounds whereof was received for the benefit of the petitioner, the other two hundred pounds for the sole use and benefit of the said John Gilman, and that the petitioner and said John agreed to be mutual securities and sureties one for the other, and accordingly gave their joint obligation to the said Mallet for said four hundred pounds and interest, dated the same first of June, 1759, and it was their agreement that each should pay their equal part of said obligation, and no more; that the petitioner had long since paid his equal half of the whole and hoped and expected that John Bidwell and Josiah Gilman, both of said Hartford, who are administrators on the estate of said John Gilman, deceased, would have paid and satisfied the other half of said obligation as was their duty to do, they having been advised thereof; that the executors of the said Peter Mallet had sued and recovered judgment against the petitioner on said obligation for the sum of £389 11s. 4d. New York money, and costs, and that execution thereon had issued and been levied on the petitioner and he thereby committed to prison and had been held for more than a year &c.; and altho he has paid the whole into about fifty-eight pounds, lawful money, yet he could pay no more, having no further means or estate; and that all the calamity, restraint and trouble he was under had come by the neglect of the said John Gilman, his administrators &c. in not paying their half of said original debt &c.; praying for relief, and that the said John Bidwell and Josiah Gilman might be compelled to pay to the peti-

Whereas this Assembly at their sessions in May last, on the report of their committee appointed to consider, prepare and draw instructions for surveying and drawing a plan of this Colony, resolved that his Honour the Governor should be de-[174] sired to improve Messrs. Asa Spalding of Norwalk, || Moses Park and Samuel Mott, of Preston, to survey, measure and make a Plan of this Colony &c., and that in case it should be needful the said surveyors should give notice to the Representatives of any towns where the course and distance of any line should be needed, that they might, in the cheapest and easiest manner, get the course and distance of said lines so needed and send the same to one or other of said surveyors; and whereas no special provision hath been made for the payment of the charge said Representatives should be at in getting the course and distance of said lines: Therefore, it is resolved by this Assembly, that the several Representatives that have been or shall be so applied to by said surveyors and that have or shall perform said service shall be paid out of the town treasuries of the several towns where they respectively belong, their accounts being first exhibited to and allowed by the selectmen, or the major part of them, of said several towns, who are hereby authorized to receive, examine and adjust said accounts and give orders on the several treasurers for the payment of such sum as shall be by them allowed.

Upon the representation made to this Assembly by Increase Moseley, Bushnel Bostwick and Isaac Baldwin, Esqrs, that one Abner Chandler is lately appointed administrator upon the estate of William Tanner late of Cornwall in the county of Litchfield, deceased, and that they have not had time to accempt with said administrator with relation to said Tanner's management in the Ousatunnuck River Lottery &c.: It is thereupon resolved by this Assembly, that the said Increase Moseley, Bushnel Bostwick and Isaac Baldwin, Esq^{rs}, be further appointed to proceed in their enquiry into the affairs of said lottery, agreeable to instructions formerly given them by this Assembly, and as soon as they can settle the affair of said lottery, and make their report to this Assembly.

Whereas at the special Assembly holden at Hartford in September last Eliphalet Dyer, William Samuel Johnson and David Rowland, Esq^{rs}, were appointed Commissioners on behalf of this Colony to join a proposed Congress at New York, for the purpose of conferring upon a general and united humble, loyal and dutiful representation to his Majesty &c., of the present circumstances of the Colonies and the difficulties to which they are and must be reduced by the operation of the act of Parliament for laying duties and taxes on the Colonies, and to report their doings with the doings of the Commissioners at such Congress to this Assembly for acceptance and approbation: And whereas the said Commissioners have, pursuant to their aforesaid instructions, presented to this Assembly three several petitions: one to the King's Most Excellent Majesty, one to the Right Honorable the Lords Spiritual and Temporal of Great Britain in Parliament assembled, the other to the Honorable Knights, Citizens and Burgesses in Great Britain in Parliament assembled, made at said Congress and signed by Commissioners from several of the Colonies on this continent, for the acceptance and approbation of this Assembly: The same being taken into consideration, this Assembly do accept and approve of said petitions, and hereby authorize and desire the said Commissioners by said special Assembly appointed as aforesaid, to sign said petitions for and in behalf of this Colony. And this Assembly do desire his Honour the Governor to forward said petitions to Great Britain, (in order that they may be duly presented,) together with a proper certificate of the appointment of said Commissioners and the doings of this Assembly thereon.

Sir: The Committees of the several Colonies lately appointed to meet at New York, to consider of the present unhappy circumstances of the Colonies, having agreed upon petitions to his Majesty and both Houses of Parliament, for relief from the grievances they at present labour under, which have been approved by the General Assembly of this Colony, [175] and it being a subject of the last importance to us, || you are desired to prefer those petitions, and to support them with your utmost influence, skill and ability, and leave no probable means unattempted to secure success in so interesting a matter.

The Colony being most firmly persuaded that the power lately exercised by Parliament of imposing taxes on the Colonies without their consent, and extending the jurisdiction of the court of admiralty beyond its ancient limits is inconsistent with the principles and spirit of the British constitution, and an infringement of the essential liberties of the colonists, we can by no means be content that you should give up the matter of right, but must beg you would on all proper occasions claim and firmly insist upon the exclusive right of the Colonies to tax themselves, and the privilege of tryal by jury, and to maintain these principles in the most effectual manner possible, as what we can never recede from. The arguments from inconvenience and the fatal consequences, both to Great Britain and her Colonies, which must flow from this exercise of parliamentary power, are obvious, and will no doubt be also fully insisted upon by you.

You will give a proper attention to all such arguments, hints and materials as may be furnished you by his Honour the Governor, or which you may be able to collect from any other quarter, and make the best use you can of them to place the rights of the Colonies and the inconveniencies of a parliamentary taxation in the most striking point of light.

You are also desired to correspond with the agents appointed by the other Colonies, and unite your utmost endeavours with them in the common cause, for obtaining a repeal of the late acts of Parliament, so grievous to the Colonies.

We request your closest attention to this most important subject, and shall ever retain the most grateful sense of your assiduity and diligence upon this occasion, and wish you all the success that so just a cause fairly demands.

To Richard Jackson, Esq^r, Agent for the Colony of Connecticut.

The House of Representatives of his Majesty's Colony of Connecticut in New England, in General Court assembled, taking into their serious consideration that an act of the Parliament of Great Britain has been lately past, for granting and applying certain stamp-duties &c. in the British Colonies and Plantations in America, find ourselves distressed with the most alarming apprehensions, when we observe that grand legislature to entertain sentiments so different from ours respecting what we ever reckoned among our most important and essential rights as Englishmen. The constitution of the British government we esteem the happiest in the world, founded on maxims of consummate wisdom, and in the best manner calculated to secure the prerogatives of the crown while it maintains the just rights and liberties of the subject. By virtue of which constitution and the royal grant and charter of his Majesty King Charles the second, the inhabitants of this Colony have enjoyed great and inestimable liberties and priviledges, of a civil and religious nature, for more than a century past, and more especially under the auspicious government of the illustrious House of Hanover. That royal house have ever held sacred and inviolable those rights and priviledges of their loyal subjects in this Colony, derived to them as aforesaid. In return for which the princes of that exalted line have ever had from this people their ardent desires of all happiness to their persons and glory to their empire. Inspired with the warmest sentiments of affectionate loyalty and duty, the colonists have been ever ready to sacrifice their lives and fortunes to the service of their King and country; and believing that his Majesty's interest in this Colony cannot be more firmly established and perfectly secured, nor the happiness of the British nation more effectually promoted by us, than in our full possession and continued enjoyment of the rights and priviledges of the British constitution, which we have not forfeited, but ought to hold as Englishmen, and which are, if possible, rendered more sacred and indefeasible by the royal grant and charter aforesaid, which we conceive to stand upon the same basis with the grand charters and fountains of English liberty. And as the aforesaid act tends, (as we conceive,) to deprive us of the most interesting, important and essential of those rights, which we hold most [176] dear and cannot || on any possible considerations be induced willingly to part with, we are, therefore, filled with the most sensible grief and concern, and think it a duty we owe to his Majesty, to the Nation, to Ourselves and to Posterity, to express and declare the sense we have respecting the rights and priviledges which we may justly claim, and humbly hope to enjoy under his Majesty's gracious protection and government; and do therefore declare and make it known in the following Declarations and Resolves.

1. In the first place, we do most expressly declare, recognize and acknowledge his Majesty King George the third to be lawful and rightful King of Great Britain and all other the dominions and countries thereto belonging, and that it is the indispensable duty of the people of this Colony, as being part of his Majesty's dominions, always to bear faithful and true allegiance to his Majesty, and him to defend to the utmost of their power against all attempts against his person, crown and dignity.

2. That this Colony, or the greatest part thereof, was purchased and obtained for great and valuable considerations, and some other part thereof gained by conquest, with much difficulty, and at the only endeavours, expences and charges of our forefathers; and that thereby considerable addition was made to his Majesty's dominions and interest; and that in consideration of such purchase &c., as aforesaid, his Majesty King Charles the second in the fourteenth year of his reign did for himself, his heirs and successors, ordain, declare and grant, unto the Governor and Company of this Colony and their successors, that all and every of the subjects of him, his heirs and successors, which should go to inhabit within the said Colony, and every of their children, which should be born there or on the sea in going thither or returning from thence, should have and enjoy all liberties and immunities of free and natural subjects within any of the dominions of the said King, his heirs or successors, to all intents, constructions and purposes whatsoever, as if they and every of them were born within the realm of England.

3. That the free natural subjects of Great Britain born within the realm of England have a property in their own estate, and are to be taxed only by their own consent, given in person or by their representatives, and are not to be dis-seized of their liberties or free customs, sentenced or condemned, but by lawful judgment of their peers; and that the said rights and immunities were granted to and conferred on the inhabitants of this Colony by the royal grant and charter aforesaid, and therefore are their rights, to all intents, constructions and purposes whatsoever.

4. That the consent of the inhabitants of this Colony was not given to the said act of Parliament, personally or by representation, actual or virtual, in any sense or degree that at all comports with the true intendment, spirit, or equitable construction of the British constitution.

5. That his Majesty's liege subjects of this Colony have enjoyed the right and privilege of being governed by their General Assembly in the article of taxing and internal police, agreeable to the powers and privileges granted and contained in the royal charter aforesaid, for more than a century past; and that the same have never been forfeited or any way yielded up, but have been constantly recognized by the King and Parliament of Great Britain.

6. That, in the opinion of this House, an act for raising money by duties or taxes differs from other acts of legislation, in that it is always considered as a free gift of the people made by their legal and elected representatives; and that we cannot conceive that the people of Great Britain, or their representatives, have right to dispose of our property.

7. That the only legal representatives of the inhabitants of this Colony are the persons they elect to serve as members of the General Assembly thereof.

8. That the vesting an authority in the courts of admiralty, as in said act is provided, to judge and determine in suits relating to the duties and forfeitures contained in said act, and other matters foreign to their accustomed and established jurisdiction, is in the opinion of this House highly dangerous to the liberties of his Majesty's American subjects, contrary to the great charter of English liberty, and destructive of one of their most darling rights, that of tryal by juries, which is justly esteemed one chief excellence of the British constitution and principal bulwark of English liberty.

[177] 9. That it is the opinion of this House, that the said act for granting and applying certain stamp-duties &c., as aforesaid, is unprecedented and unconstitutional.

10. That whenever his Majesty's service shall require the aid of the inhabitants of this Colony, the same fixed principles of loyalty, as well as self preservation, which have hitherto induced us fully to comply with his Majesty's requisitions, will, together with the deep sense we have of its being our indispensable duty, (in the opinion of this House,) ever hold us under the strongest obligations which can be given or desired, most cheerfully to grant his Majesty from time to time our further proportion of men and money for the defence, security, and other services of the British-American Dominions.

11. That we look upon the well-being and greatest security of this Colony to depend (under God) on our connections with Great Britain, which we ardently wish may continue to the latest posterity; and that it is the humble opinion of this House, that the constitution of this Colony being understood and practiced upon as it has been ever since it existed is the surest band of union, confidence and mutual prosperity of our mother country and us, and the best foundation on which to build the good of the whole, whether considered in a civil, military, or mercantile light; and of the truth of this opinion we are the more confident, as it is not founded on speculation only, but has been verified in fact, and by long experience found to produce, according to our extent and other circumstances, as many loyal, virtuous, industrious and well-governed subjects, as any part of his Majesty's dominions, and as truly zealous, and as warmly engaged to promote the best good and real glory of the grand whole, which constitutes the British Empire.

At a General Assembly holden at New Haven 2d Thursday of October, A.D. 1765.

In the House of Representatives: The foregoing Declarations and Resolves were voted and pass'd with great unanimity.* And it is further voted and desired by this House, that the same be entered on the records and remain in the files of the General Assembly of this Colony.

Test. WILLIAM WILLIAMS, Clerk.

In the Upper House: Consented that the foregoing Declaration and Resolves be entered on the records and remain in the files of the General Assembly of this Colony, according to the desire of the House of Representatives.

Test. GEORGE WYLLYS, Secretary.

Whereas the General Assembly of this Colony at their sessions in May last, upon the petition of James Richardson of Stonington representing to this Assembly that he had a controversy with Benjamin Bancroft of Suffield, relating to their book-accounts, charter of the sloop Gull, and also some goods and merchandize said to be received by said petitioner to sell for said Bancroft in the Havanna, in the year 1762, which controversie was referred to the arbitrament of Jonathan Trumble, Ebenezer Backus and Joseph Chew, Esq^{rs}, who awarded said petitioner to pay said Bancroft the sum of £467 10s. 0d. lawful money; that a recovery was had in favour of said Bancroft against said petitioner for the sum of £493 13s. 10d.; that upon an execution granted on said judgment, said petitioner was then held in prison &c.; further representing that since the time of giving said award said petitioner had found new evidence &c. material to the matters submitted &c.; praying for relief &c.: it was resolved, that John Chester and Jabez Hamlin, Esq^{rs}, and Mr. Jonathan Wells of Glastonbury, be appointed a committee to enquire and examine into all the matters submitted to said arbitrators as aforesaid, and to settle and adjust the same between said parties in equity, and make return of their doings to this Assembly at their present sessions: And whereas the aforesaid committee, on account of the absence of one of their witnesses proposed to be used by said Bancroft, at his request omitted to proceed and make their return to this Assembly at [178] their present sessions; || and whereas said parties now appear and request that said committee might be reappointed to do the service aforesaid: It is thereupon resolved by this Assembly, that John Chester, Jabez Hamlin, Esq^{rs}, and Mr. Jonathan Wells of Glastonbury, be and they are hereby appointed a committee to enquire and examine into all the matters submitted to said arbitrators as aforesaid, and to settle and adjust the same between said parties in equity, and make return of their doings to this Assembly at their sessions in May next.

Upon the petition of Joseph Denison, Esq^r, of Stonington, representing to this Assembly that he recovered a final judgment before the adjourned county court held at New London on the first Tuesday of February, A.D. 1763, against Robert Allyn and Nathan Allyn, both of Groton in said county, for the sum of £204 4 8, lawful money, in the whole, debt and cost; that in order to respond said judgment he had by his original writ of attachment in said action attached two tracts of land in said Groton as the estate of the said Robert Allyn, but the said Robert had defeated the said Denison of one of the said tracts of land by giving back his deed thereof to the grantor unrecorded, and the said Robert had conveyed the other tract of land to one Park Allyn by deed executed and kept unrecorded until after the same land was attached by the petitioner; that said last mentioned deed was executed on no other consideration than only as a pledge to secure and indemnifie the said Park Allyn on account of his giving bail for the said Robert in three several actions commenced by the petitioner for his aforesaid debt and other debts due to him from said Robert; that said Park never suffered on account of his giving said bail, but was wholly acquitted therefrom; that said lands by the agreement of said Robert and Park Allyn ought to have been released to said Robert and holden by the petitioner to answer and satisfie his aforesaid final judgment, but contrary to said agreement and against right the said Robert and Park with one Joseph Allyn, combining and contriving wholly to defeat the petitioner of his said debt, the said Park hath executed a deed of said land to the said Joseph, and the said Joseph received the same with intent and design to defeat the petitioner of his said debt, and the said Joseph now holds said last-mentioned tract of land against the petitioner, who having levied his execution thereon hath wholly lost his said debt, and the estate of said Robert Allyn is so held and concealed that none can be come at by the petitioner; and praying for relief &c., as per petition on file: Resolved by this Assembly, that Hezekiah Huntington, Shubael Conant and Joseph Spencer, Esq^{rs}, be and they are hereby appointed a committee to call before them the petitioner and the said Joseph Allyn and any evidences relative to the matters aforesaid, at such time and place as they shall appoint, and examine into the actions and transactions of the said Joseph Allyn relative to the matters contained in said petition and his receiving said deed and holding and transacting with the estate of said Robert, and all matters relative thereto, and make report to this Assembly at their sessions in May next of what they shall find, together with their opinion thereon.

Upon the petition of Ebenezer Benton, of Hartford in Hartford county, representing to this Assembly that the south society in said Hartford, sometime in A.D. 1756, voted and agreed to raise by way of tax on themselves the sum of about £200 0s. 0d. toward defraying the expences of finishing their meeting-house, and appointed Ebenezer Benton jun^r, the son of the petitioner, then being in full life, a collector to collect a part of said rate, and that the committee of said society soon after made out and delivered to said collector a rate-bill amounting to about the sum of £119 0s. 0d. being part of said £200 0s. 0d., and that said Ebenezer jun^r proceeded forthwith to collect and pay into the hands of said committee about £27 0s. 0d., and that soon after great and unexpected difficulties arising in said society respecting the collecting said rate, and that thereupon said committee ordered said collector to cease any further collection of the residue of said rate until he should be ordered again to proceed, which was not done till sometime in A.D. 1760, when said committee anew ordered said collector to proceed to collect said rate, and that before he could have opportunity to do anything towards it he was by sickness disabled, and continued disabled from collecting said rate by his said sickness until his death, which happened sometime in A.D. 1764, and that said committee, said sickness notwithstanding, a little before the death of said collector took out a warrant of distress against said col-
[179] lector, for to compel him himself to pay the residue of said || rate, though he had been unable to collect any of it, and that the sheriff of said county, into whose hands said warrant had been delivered when said collector lay at the point of death, applied to him to demand the payment of the residue of said rate; the petitioner at that time being present, and being thereat greatly grieved and hurt was out [of] compassion to his said distressed son, (who soon after dyed,) induced to satisfy the demand of said warrant, on being assured that he might have liberty to make use of said rate-bill to reimburse himself, and that he has collected on said rate-bill about the sum of £13 0s. 0d. only since that time, and that said society soon after appointed and authorized a new collector to collect in all the residue of said rate and to pay it to the society committee, altho they had been paid the whole of it before, and that the petitioner is thereby wronged by said society out of a large sum of money, and they absolutely refuse to do him right in the matter; thereupon praying that a committee may be appointed to enquire the matters in said petition complained of, and report make: Resolved by this Assembly, that Erastus Wolcott, Esqr, Capt. applied to the discharge of the debt for which said petitioner now stands committed. It is also further resolved by this Assembly, that liberty and power is hereby granted to said petitioner to make sale of so much of the real estate of said deceased as shall be sufficient to raise said sum of £134 4s. 10d. with the incident charges arising on such sale; taking the particular direction of the court of probate for the district of New London therein: upon condition that said Jeremiah Miller, Esq^r, shall for the space of one month next after the rising of this Assembly neglect to make sale of so much of the real estate of said deceased as shall be sufficient to raise said sum or secure the payment of said sum of 134 4s. 10d. to be paid towards the discharge of the said debt for which said petitioner now stands committed, as aforesaid.

counter-bond to reconvey to the petitioners upon their paying to him the said sum with the interest at or before the first day of July, 1763; further shewing, that the petitioners not having paid the whole of said monies, the said Ebenezer White hath instituted a suit in the law for the recovery of the said land; praying to have liberty to redeem the said premises, paying the remaining borrowed monies yet due and charges, as by the petition on file: Resolved by this Assembly, that upon the petitioners paying to the petitionee the sum of £118 16s. 5½d. lawful money, within one month from the 17th day of instant October, together with the lawful interest of that sum from said 17th day until the said sum shall be paid, and the sum of £1 16s. 4d. lawful money, for the petitionee's cost at this Assembly, the petitionee, the said Ebenezer White, is hereby ordered by proper deed to reconvey to the petitioners the farm of land aforesaid, on the penalty of forfeiting the sum of four hundred pounds, lawful money. Ex. granted for the cost aforesaid October 31st, 1765.

D. 1761, it was agreed conditionally between Enos Allyn and Thomas Howel, merchants in company, and the said William Clark, that the said Clark should purchase of the said Alling and Howel a quantity of salt, which they then had stored in a warehouse in said Derby, if they could not otherwise dispose of the same, and that about the 25th day of December, 1761, at the instance and upon the proposal of the said Alling, the said agreement and bargain was relinquished and mutually released by the said parties to each other, and that sometime in February or March following the whole of said salt was washed out of said store by a flood, and totally destroyed and lost, and that the said Alling and Howel having sometime after commenced a suit at law against said Clark, demanding payment for said salt, the matter was submitted to the arbitrament of arbitrators, who awarded that the said Clark should pay half the value of said salt, for which he then gave his note to the said Alling and Howel, upon which note judgment has since been recovered in law against the petitioners, and that the said Clark at the time of giving said note was indisposed and incapable of recollecting the evidence of said release, and consequently could not produce it before said arbitrators, but that since that time the petitioners have found sufficient evidence to prove and establish that point; thereupon praying that a committee may be appointed to enquire into the matters complained of and report make, as by said petition on file may more fully appear: Resolved by this Assembly. that Messrs. Roger Sherman, Samuel Bishop junr, both of New Haven, and Mr. Daniel Bennet of Stratford, be and they are hereby appointed a committee with full power to enquire into all the matters complained of in said petition, and make report of what they find with their opinion thereon to this or the next General Assembly to be holden at Hartford in May next.

And the said petition is hereby continued to the sessions of this Assembly at Hartford in May next.

* The Earl of Halifax, to whom in May, 1765, it had been proposed to dedicate the map, had been succeeded in office in July by Conway. Two copies of the map were prepared: one to be preserved in the Secretary's office, where the editor has seen it within twenty years, though it is not now to be found. Search in the Public Record Office, London, failed to discover the copy sent to England.

An Act for recovering in the Excise Monies and appropriating the same for the Benefit of Schools.

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That the selectmen in each town in this Colony for the time being shall, and they are hereby authorized and empowered to receive, collect, sue for and recover of all or any of the collectors or retailers of the same town, their heirs, executors or administrators, any sum or sums of money that are yet due and unpaid, which such collector or collectors have already or might have collected by the several acts and laws of this Colony for excise on liquors, tea, &c.; and all the monies that shall be recovered by virtue of this act for and on account of the excise &c., as above mentioned, shall be paid to the several committees in each town where they are recovered, who are appointed to receive the money granted by the Colony for the encouragement of schools, and shall by said committee be let out and the interest thereof improved for the support of the respective schools aforesaid forever, and for no other use.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That all the monies that have been paid into the treasury of this Colony by any town for and on account of the excise as above-mentioned, the interest thereof at the rate of five per centum per annum shall be annually paid out of the treasury of this Colony to the several towns, in proportion to the sums paid in by them, and the same shall by said towns be laid out and improved for the benefit and support of the school or schools in such town, in the same manner as the other monies drawn out of the Colony treasury are ordered and directed.

An Act in further Addition to one Law of this Colony entitled An Act for collecting and paying of Rates or Taxes.

Whereas it is provided in and by the seventh paragraph of said act, that when and so often as it shall so happen that any constable chosen by any town to collect the Colony rates or taxes prove insolvent or shall not be able to pay the Colony tax or any part thereof in his hands, in such case the Treasurer of the Colony is ordered and impowered to grant and sign a writ or warrant directed to one of the sheriffs of the Colony, requiring him to levy and collect of the selectmen, or any one of them, of that town in which such insolvent constable was chosen, such rate or part thereof as shall then be in the hands of such insolvent constable &c., but no provision is made in said act, nor in the act made in addition thereto, for any town or selectmen in case of the failing circumstances of their respective collectors, to avail themselves of any part of the rate-bills in the hands of their collectors, or of their estates, whereby the towns are exposed to loss: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That when and so often as any collector of the Colony rate shall neglect to make up and settle his accounts with the Treasurer by the time appointed by law for settling the same, it shall be lawful for the selectmen of such town for the time being, to bring their action against such negligent collector for the recovery of such sum or sums as shall remain unpaid, and to attach and secure the person and estate of such collector for the same; and the whole of the estate which such collector shall be seized or possessed of at the time of the selectmen's bringing their action as aforesaid shall be subject to the payment of said rate or tax, any disposition of said collector or any demand of any creditor notwithstanding. Provided also, that if any such collector shall deliver up his rate-bill into the hands of the selectmen, they are hereby impowered to depute some meet person to collect the remaining part of said bill, and the same shall be accounted for in favour of said collector.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That when and so often as any town shall have brought their action against any collector, pursuant to this act, the Treasurer of this Colony may grant out his warrant against the selectmen of that town for non-payment of said tax or taxes, as in case of a return of a non est inventus against the collector, as is provided by said recited statute, without first sending such warrant.

[200] An Act in Addition to an Act of this Colony entituled An Act for regulating Gaols and Gaolers.

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That no person or persons that shall be committed to prison in any civil matter or action shall be admitted or allowed to take the oath provided in said act for poor prisoners, until the creditor or creditors of such prisoner, if inhabitants within this Colony, otherwise the attorney of such creditor or creditors, has been notified to appear at time and place of such prisoner's taking said oath, and a reasonable time allowed after such notice given for the creditor or his attorney to appear and shew reasons, if any he hath, why such prisoner or prisoners shall not be allowed to take the oath by said act provided; any law, usage or custom to the contrary notwithstanding.

An Act for preventing trivial and vexatious Suits.

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That in all actions of trespass, assault and battery, and trespass upon the case, which shall be hereafter commenced or prosecuted in any county or superior court in this Colony, (except only where the title or inheritance or interest of lands or freehold estate is the principal matter in question on the tryal of such case,) if the damage is therein found by verdict of a jury or otherways to be under forty shillings, lawful money, the plaintiff shall recover no more costs than damages; any law, usage or custom to the contrary notwithstanding.

Provided nevertheless, That when the defendant in any of the actions aforesaid shall remove such action by appeal from an Assistant or justice of the peace to the county court, or from the county court to the superior court, the plaintiff on his recovering final judgment against the defendant shall recover his full costs of suit; anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding.

An Act in Addition to an Act entituled An Act for preventing, punishing and removing Nuisances in Creeks, Rivers and Water Courses.

Whereas the drawing of seines near and at the mouth of the river called Windsor Ferry River prevents the fish and turns them from going in their natural course, which prevents their being taken and caught up said river in the spring season, as usual,

It is therefore enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That no person or persons whatsoever shall be allowed to draw any seine or use any fish-craft for the taking and catching fish in the months of April and May annually, within a quarter of a mile below where the said river empties itself into Connecticut River, nor at the mouth of said Ferry River, or within a quarter of a mile up said river, at any time. Nor shall any person or persons in the night season in said months, between the setting and rising of the sun, draw any seines or use any other fish-crafts to prevent the fish going up said river. And every person or persons that shall be convicted of the breach of this act shall forfeit the sum of ten pounds, the one half to the complainer who shall prosecute to effect, the other half to the county treasurer where the offence is committed; any law, usage or custom to the contrary notwithstanding.

†Friday, May 23d, was the day appointed. The morning was ushered in by the ringing of bells—the shipping in the river displayed their colors—at noon 21 cannon were discharged, and preparations were making for a general illumination in the evening, when accidentally fire was communicated to a quantity of powder, put in one of the lower rooms of the new brick school-house, (which stood where the American Hall is now,) to be delivered out to the military and used on this joyful occasion. In an instant the building was reduced to a heap of rubbish. A number of young gentlemen had met to make sky rockets in the chamber over the room where the powder was deposited. About thirty were buried in the ruins, of whom six died. Both the Hartford ministers were sick, but Rev. John Devotion, of Saybrook, who happened to be present, preached a sermon on the occasion the following Sunday, which was printed. A repeated attempt was unsuccessfully made in behalf of the proprietors, to obtain from the General Assembly compensation for the loss of the building.

Whereas Mr. Samuel Kirtland about one year and half ago travelled from this Colony into the country belonging to the Indians of the Six Nations, and has since resided great part of his time among the Seneca Tribe, on purpose to learn their language, in which he hath made great proficiency, thereby to furnish himself for future useful improvement, who is lately returned on a visit to his friends, and with him has come an Indian who is called a head warrior among the Indians and hath shewed himself a great friend to the person and design of said Mr. Kirtland, by whose friendship and influence the good ends and purposes of civilizing, instructing and christianizing of such Indians will be promoted: Therefore, to encourage the good design of said Mr. Kirtland and to make a grateful return to his Indian friend, this Assembly do grant to said Mr. Samuel Kirtland the sum of twelve pounds in lawful money, to furnish him with suitable cloathes for said service, and also the sum of eight pounds to be laid out in cloathing agreeable to the Indian who came in company with him, and presented to him in the name of this Assembly. And the Treasurer of this Colony is hereby ordered to pay to said Mr. Samuel Kirtland the whole of said two sums, being twenty pounds, lawful money, for the purposes mentioned.

Upon the petition of Samuel Butler of Weathersfield, representing to this Assembly that he brought his action against Jonathan Hills of Hartford before John Chester, Esqr, Assistant, on the 17th day of September, A. D. 1762, by his writ dated the 9th day of August, A. D. 1762, therein charging the said Hills with entering upon the petitioner's lot of land lying in said Weathersfield, bounded and described [202] || in said writ, and cutting four of the petitioner's trees or poles under the dimensions of one foot diameter, to which action the said Hills pleaded by way of demurrer to the petitioner's title, and said action by legal removes came to the superior court held at Hartford the first Tuesday of March, A. D. 1764, when and where said parties were joined in a general demurrer to the said Hills's plea aforesaid, on which demurrer said superior court rendered judgment that the aforesaid plea of the defendant, said Hills, was sufficient, and that he should recover his cost, as per files and records of said superior court &c.; and further complaining that in proceeding to and rendering said final judgment manifest error hath intervened; and praying this Assembly to reverse and set aside said final judgment and grant him, the petitioner, a new tryal in said action at the superior court to be held at said Hartford on the first Tuesday of September next, and that all cost may follow the final judgment in said action &c., as per petition on file: Resolved by this Assembly, that the aforesaid final judgment is manifestly erroneous, and that the said judgment be and the same is hereby reversed and set aside, and made null and void; and liberty is hereby granted the petitioner of a new tryal in said action at the superior court to be held at Hartford within and for said county of Hartford on the first Tuesday of September next, and that all the cost follow the final judgment that shall be rendered in said action.

Upon the petition of Samuel Smith, of Suffield in the county of Hartford, against Ebenezer Moulton, of Brimfield in the Province of the Massachusetts Bay, representing that on the 3d day of January, A. D. 1763, he made and executed to the said Ebenezer Moulton one certain note for the sum of forty-two pounds, lawful money, payable at or before the 25th day of January. 1761, and interest afterwards till paid; that the said Ebenezer Moulton brought his suit on the said note against the petitioner before the adjourned county court held at Hartford in the county of Hartford on the 3d Tuesday of January, 1763, and thereon obtained judgment and execution against the petitioner for £45 19s. 9d. damages, and £1 10s. 7d. costs of suit; that said note was given only for certain rights of land within said Province pretended to be conveyed by a certain Indian, called by the name of Motockson, (otherwise called Johannes Motockson,) of Stockbridge in said Province; that said Indian had no right to sell and convey any such rights of land, and all his pretensions thereto are nothing but a subtle delusion and a cheat, and that the petitioner had therefore no consideration for his giving of said note; praying for relief in the premises &c.: It is therefore resolved and decreed by this Assembly, that the said note by the petitioner given to the said Ebenezer Moulton, and the judgment thereon recovered, and everything relative thereto, shall be and the same is hereby annulled and made wholly void.

Whereas upon the petition of Joseph Denison, Esq^r, of Stonington, exhibited to this Assembly at their sessions in October last, representing to this Assembly that said petitioner recovered final judgment before the adjourned county court held at New London on the first Tuesday of February, 1763, against Robert Allen and Nathan Allen, both of Groton, for the sum of £204 4s. 8d. lawful money; that execution was granted on said judgment and duly levied on certain lands in Groton supposed to belong to said Robert; that on account of passing sundry deeds of part of said land from said Robert to Park Allen, and from said Park to Joseph Allen, the title by virtue of said execution to thirty-eight acres and forty rods of said land upon which said execution was levied was defeated &c.:

Hezekiah Huntington, Shubael Conant and Joseph Spencer, Esq^{rs}, were appointed a committee to take into consideration the matters contained in said petition and report thereon with their opinion to this Assembly at their present sessions: [203] And whereas said committee have || reported to this Assembly that said Robert by his deed dated the 19th of May, 1762, conveyed said thirty-eight acres and forty rods of land with other lands to said Park Allen as a pledge &c., and that said Park Allen by his deed dated the 14th of October, 1762, conveyed the same to said Joseph, the petitionee, and that on the 22d of June, 1763, said execution was levied on said thirty-eight acres and forty rods of land as the law directs, which was appraised at the sum of £153 0s. 0d. lawful money, &c., and that said petitioner has since brought his action to recover said thirty-eight acres and forty rods of land, and that on a final tryal said petitioner's title by virtue of said execution has been adjudged against him &c., and that the said Park in executing said deed to said Joseph and said Robert's receiving the payments, and said Joseph in all his acting and transacting thereabout, was with a design to defeat said petitioner of his debt, and that the estate of said Robert is so held and concealed that nothing thereof is to be found to satisfie said debt, and that in equity said Joseph ought to convey to said petitioner said thirty-eight acres and forty rods of land or pay to said petitioner the sum of £153 0s. 0d. lawful money, with the interest thereon arising from the 16th of August, 1763, to the 8th day of May, 1766, as per petition and report on file, which report is approved and the same is hereby approved and accepted: And thereupon it is resolved by this Assembly, that the said petitioner shall have and recover of the said Joseph Allen the sum of £177 4s. 0d. lawful money, with cost, or in lieu thereof that said Joseph Allen make and execute to said petitioner a good authentick deed of said thirty-eight acres and forty rods of land bounded and described as in the return of said execution appears; and that in case the aforesaid Joseph Allen shall not by the first day of July, A. Upon the petition of Stephen Jorden, representing to this Assembly that he, when he was about ten months old, was left fatherless, and had left him by his father twenty-five acres of land in said Voluntown, which land was under improvement and was by the guardian of said Stephen leased to one person and another till the said Stephen arrived to the age of twenty-one years, and that said Stephen was of low education, but little acquainted with men or things, that the last five years before he arrived to age he was in the King's service, that in the year 1764, he, said Stephen, lived in York government, that while said Stephen lived there came to him one Samuel Dorrance the 3d of said Voluntown, with whom said Stephen was acquainted and whom he took to be his friend, and informed said Stephen that every person to whom said Stephen was indebted was about to attach said land and to ruin said Stephen, and that he, said Samuel, came to him altogether for his relief, help and assistance, and advised and insisted that said Stephen should give to said Samuel a deed of said land, and that on said Stephen's return to said Voluntown [he] should have said deed, and that said Samuel would leave with said Stephen a certain horse, saddle, and one dollar, and endorse an execution against said Stephen for £3 0s. 0d. lawful money, satisfied, to which the said Stephen complied; that said Dorrance, contrary to agreement, kept said deed and land, and refused to make any settlement thereabout; praying for the interposition of this Assembly, that a committee be appointed to enquire into the matters in said petition, examine witnesses, parties &c., as by said petition &c.: Resolved by this Assembly, that Nathaniel Brown, Esqr, of Preston, Mr. Boaz Stearns of Killingly, and Mr. Hough Wylee of Voluntown, be and they are hereby appointed a committee to enquire into and examine the matters in said petition set forth, to hear the parties, their evidences, and then examine under oath as they shall see best, hear their pleas, allegations, &c., relative to all matters in said petition mentioned, to consider said land, the improvements, betterments and value thereof, and everything relative thereto, and their judgment and opinion to make and report to this Assembly in October next.

Upon the petition of Hannah Clark and Shelden Clark, executors of the last will and testament of William Clark late of Derby, deceased, representing to the General Assembly in October last that, sometime in September, A. D. 1761, it was agreed conditionally between Enos Alling and Thomas Howel, merchants in company, and the said William Clark, that the said Clark should purchase of the said Alling & Howel a quantity of salt, which they then had stored in a warehouse in said Derby, if they could not otherwise better dispose of the same, and that about the 25th day of December, A. D. 1761, at the instance and upon the proposal of the said Alling, the said agreement and bargain was relinquished and mutually released by the said parties to each other, and that sometime in February or March following the whole of said salt washed out of said store by a flood and totally [204] || destroyed and lost, and that the said Alling & Howel having some time after commenced a suit at law against the said Clark demanding payment for said salt, the matter was submitted to the arbitrament of arbitrators, who awarded that said Clark should pay half the value of said salt, for which he then gave his note to the said Alling & Howel, upon which note judgment has since been recovered against the petitioners; and that the said Clark at the time of giving said note was indisposed and incapable of recollecting the evidence of said release, and consequently could not produce it before the arbitrators, but that since that time the petitioners have found sufficient evidence to prove and establish that point; thereupon praying that a committee may be appointed to enquire into the matter in said petition complained of, and report make, as by said petition on file may more fully appear: upon which petition Messrs. Roger Sherman, Samuel Bishop junr, both of Newhaven, and Mr. Daniel Bennet of Stratford, were appointed by the General Assembly at their sessions in October last a committee with full power to enquire into all the matters complained of in said petition and make report of what they should find with their opinion thereon to that or the present Assembly; which committee not having made their report, by reason of the absence of some material witnesses: Resolved by this Assembly, that the said Roger Sherman, Esqr, Messrs. Samuel Bishop junr and Daniel Bennet, be and they are hereby reappointed a committee with full power to enquire into all the matters in said petition complained of, and make report of what they shall find with their opinion thereon to this or the next General Assembly to be holden at Newhaven in October next.

Whereas upon the petition of Mortimer Stoddard of Groton, exhibited to this Assembly at their sessions in October last, representing that with the advice and consent of the selectmen of said Groton, purchased of Daniel Edwards of Groton about forty-six acres of land, for which said petitioner gave to said selectmen for the use of said Edwards a note payable for eighty pounds, and also paid sundry charges and discounted debts &c. to the amount of seventy pounds, lawful money; that on account of some circumstances attending the executing said deed the same has been adjudged void &c. Hezekiah Huntington, Shubael Conant and Joseph Spencer, Esq^{rs}, were appointed a committee to take into consideration the original debt mentioned in said petition, with the costs and charges thereon arisen, and examine and consider all matters relative thereto, and report thereon with their opinion to this Assembly at their present sessions. And whereas said committee have reported that the original debt mentioned in said petition, together with the necessary costs and charges thereon arisen, amounts in the whole to the sum of forty-three pounds thirteen shillings, and that the same ought to be paid back to the said petitioner with interest thereon from the 3d day of December, 1765, till the 8th day of May, 1766, as per petition and report on file, which report is hereby accepted and approved: It is thereupon resolved by this Assembly, that said petitioner shall have and recover of the said Daniel Edwards the sum of forty-four pounds fourteen shillings and nine pence, with cost, and that execution be granted accordingly. Ex. granted May 30th, 1766.

Upon the petition of Ebenezer Benton, of Hartford in Hartford county, exhibited to the General Assembly at their sessions in October last, therein representing that the south society in said Hartford some time in the year 1756, voted and agreed to raise by way of tax on themselves the sum of about two hundred pounds towards defraying the expence of finishing their meeting-house, and appointed Ebenezer Benton jun^r, the son of the petitioner, then being in full life, a collector to collect a part of said rate; that the committee of said society soon after made out a rate-bill, amounting to about the sum of one hundred and nineteen pounds, being part of said two hundred pounds, and the same delivered to the said Ebenezer jun^r, who received the same and proceeded forthwith to collect and pay into the hands of said societies committee about twenty-seven pounds; that soon after great and unexpected difficulties arose in said society respecting the collecting said rate, and that thereupon said committee ordered said collector to cease any further collection of the residue of said rate until he should be ordered again to proceed, which was not done until some time anno Dom. 1760, when said committee anew ordered to proceed to collect said rate; and that before he could have opportunity to do anything towards it he was by sickness disabled, and continued disabled from collecting said rate by his said sickness until his death, which happened sometime in the year 1764; and that said committee, said sickness notwithstanding, a little before the death of said collector took out a warrant of distress against said collector, to compel him himself to pay the residue of said rate, though he had been unable to collect any of it, and that the sheriff of said county, into whose hands said warrant had been delivered, when said collector lay at the point of death, applied to him to demand the same. The petitioner at that time being present and greatly grieved and hurt, out of compassion to his said distressed son, (who soon after dyed,) was induced to [205] satisfy the demand of said || warrant, on being assured that he might have liberty to make use of said rate-bill to reimburse himself, and that he has collected on said rate about the sum of thirteen pounds only since that time, and that said society appointed and authorized a new collector to collect in all the residue of said rate and to pay it to the society committee, although they had been paid the whole of it before, and that the petitioner had been thereby wronged by said society out of a large sum of money, and that they wholly refuse to do him right in the premises; thereupon praying that a committee may be appointed to enquire into the matter in said petition complained of and report make; whereupon said Assembly at their said sessions in October, 1765, did resolve that Erastus Wolcott, Esq^r, Capt. Ebenezer Grant and Capt. Stephen Upson junr and Mr. Joseph Hull junr were appointed by the General Assembly of this Colony held at Newhaven in October last a committee to lay out a highway from the court-house in Newhaven through the society of Oxford to the meeting-house in the society of Southberry in the town of Woodberry, and particularly mark out and bound the same in all those places where it should [be] found needful to alter or vary from the highways before laid out, and to lay out the same as near as might be with conveniency agreeable to the description contained in a resolve of the General Assembly passed on the memorial of John Rose and others in May, 1765 ; which committee have reported to this Assembly that they have laid out said highway as follows, viz : Beginning at a heap of stones in the north line of Ebenezer Brownson's land in said society of Southberry by the south side of a highway that leads from said Brownson's dwelling-house to Southberry meeting-house, and from thence run south thirty-six degrees east twenty-two rods on said Brownson's land to a heap of stones in the east line of his land ; from thence south thirty-three degrees east seventeen rods to a heap of stones ; then east thirty-eight degrees south one hundred and six rods to a heap of stones in the east line of Stephen Curtis's land ; then south thirty-three degrees east ten rods to a white-oak tree with stones laid to it, which is a bounds of Capt. Benjamin Stiles's land : said highway is laid four rods wide on the northeasterly side of the lines and boundaries aforesaid ; then from said white-oak tree in a highway formerly laid out between Capt. Timothy Hinman's land and John Towner's land to the highway leading by said Towner's dwelling-house ; then southwesterly in the last mentioned highway to the line between the towns of Woodberry and Derby, a little southward of Joseph Towner's dwelling-house ; from thence east forty-one degrees south sixty-four rods on said Joseph Towner's land ; then south thirty-eight degrees east one hundred thirty-six rods on Capt. Joseph Osborn's land ; then east twenty-one degrees south twenty-five rods on said Osborn's land to Nathan Buckingham's land ; then east forty degrees south thirty-three rods on said Buckingham's land, bounded on each side at every turn or angle by a heap of stones, it being four rods wide ; then east twenty-eight degrees south fifty-two rods through said Buckingham's meadow, three rods wide, running a little southward of said Buckingham's dwelling-house, to the old highway leading to the meeting-house in said Oxford society ; then in said old highway by said meeting-house to the upper bridge in Derby over Nagatuck River ; and that the owners of the lands through which said highway is laid in said Woodbury and Derby have been satisfied for their several damages sustained thereby by said towns respectively ; and that from said bridge there is a highway open and used for travelling by Bladen's Brook and Isaac Ford's dwelling-house to the court-house in said Newhaven, which might be altered in some places so as to shorten the travel about one hundred and eighty rods and make it much better, but that they did not make said alterations, because they were informed by a committee of the town of Newhaven that there might be a highway made from said bridge to pass by the meeting-house in the society of Amity to said court-house, which would be a mile shorter than the other way and as good for travelling &c., and therefore thought it might be best for the public and most satisfactory to the parties concerned that a committee be appointed to view both places and lay out said highway where they shall judge best &c., as by said report on file appears; which report is accepted and approved by this Assembly: And it is thereupon resolved by this Assembly, that the highway from said Ebenezer Brownson's dwelling-house to said bridge as the same is laid out and described by said committee aforesaid shall be and remain a public highway and be laid open and all fences and incumbrances removed from off the same by the first day of October next, and all fences and other incumbrances continued on said highway after the time aforesaid shall be deemed a common nuisance, and it shall and may be lawful for any person to remove the same as such. And it is further resolved, that Daniel Sherman and Benjamin Hinman, Esq^{rs}, and Capt. Benjamin Stiles be and they are hereby appointed a committee to lay out a highway from the aforesaid bridge in Derby to the court [house] in Newhaven; and they are hereby directed first to give notice thereof to one or more of the selectmen of each of the towns in which the same may be laid out, and carefully view the several places proposed, and hear all parties concerned, and lay out said highway where they shall judge best to accommodate the public, and particularly mark out and bound the same by some suitable monuments in all those places where they shall find it needful to vary from the highways already laid out; and that the cost of laying out the same shall be paid by the respective towns within whose bounds the same shall be laid out, and also the damages that any particular person may sustain in their lands or property thereby shall be paid by the respective towns in which such lands are situate, as the selectmen of such towns and the persons interested may agree, or as the same shall be appraised by [209] said committee, who are hereby authorized (if need be) to appraise the same; and that the said committee make report of their doings in the premises to the General Assembly to be holden at Newhaven in October next.

[213] Upon the memorial of Joseph Hopkins of Waterbury, shewing to this Assembly that one Isaac Frazier, a transient person, did feloniously break open the shop of the memorialist in said Waterbury in the night between the 5th and 6th days of October last, and did steal and carry away a large quantity of goldsmith's wares with some monies, and that said memorialist employed sundry men and horses in pursuing said fellow, who found him at South Kingston in the Colony of Rhode Island and from thence brought him to said Waterbury, from whence he was committed to prison at Newhaven, where he was convicted at the suit of the King before the superior court and punished, and that the cost of pursuing, taking and bringing to justice said felon amounted to £32 4 8½, for the payment of which said felon was bound by said superior court to the memorialist, but continued in service but four days and then absconded; and praying for relief by the payment of said £32 4 8½, or any part thereof, as per memorial on file: Resolved by this Assembly, that the Treasurer of this Colony pay out of the public treasury to the said Joseph Hopkins the sum of £9 2 7, lawful money or bills of this Colony, (being the sum he expended after he had taken said felon and recovered his goods,) in bringing said felon to justice.

Upon the memorial of the Reverend Ebenezer Wheelock of Lebanon, representing to this Assembly that the Assembly at their sessions in May, A. D. 1763, granted said memorialist the benefit of a Brief throughout this Colony, for the support and encouragement of the Indian Charity School under his care; that before said brief was generally read in the several congregations to which it was directed, it was thought prudent to suspend the further reading the same, on account of some hostilities committed by the Indians, until a more favourable opportunity; that said school is yet continued and the numbers and expences greatly increased in supporting a number of missionaries and school-masters among the Indians &c., and praying that said brief may be again revived and properly encouraged, as per memorial on file : This Assembly do thereupon grant and order a Brief throughout this Colony, recommending it to all persons charitably and liberally to contribute to such pious and important design ; and that the monies so collected be by the persons therewith intrusted in the several congregations delivered as soon as may be to the said Mr. Wheelock, taking his receipt therefor, to be by him applied for the use and benefit of said school, as prayed for. And it is further resolved, that printed copies of this act be seasonably delivered to the several ministers of the gospel in this Colony, who are hereby also directed to read the same in their several congregations, and thereon appoint a time for making such contributions.

This Assembly do appoint Hezekiah Huntington and Jabez Huntington, Esqrs, a committee to repair to the town of Groton, enquire into the condition and circumstances of the Indians in said town and their lands, and what is necessary to be done for their relief and help, to civilize, instruct and christianize them, with full power and authority to give order and direction for doing whatever they shall find necessary presently to be done for their relief, for schooling and preaching among them, and to draw on the Treasurer of this Colony for money to discharge the expences arising thereby, not exceeding the sum of twenty pounds, lawful money ; and that said committee report what they find to be [the] condition of the Indians and circumstances of the land belonging to them in said town, their doings in pursuance hereof, and their opinion on the whole subject matter, to the General Assembly of this Colony to be holden at Newhaven on the 2d Thursday of October next.

On the petition of George Olcott, of Hartford in the county of Hartford, vs. Joseph Olcott of Hartford aforesaid, as on file : The question was put, whether the prayer of said petition should be granted : Resolved by this Assembly in the negative.

Cost allowed to Moses Meach, of Stonington in the county of New London, for attendance &c. to answer the petition of Roger Gale, late of Groton in the county of New London, and Benjamin Appleton, of New London in the county of New London, by them brought against him, the said Meach, to this Assembly and withdrawn, is £3 10 6, lawful money. Ex. granted June 9th, 1766.

This Assembly grants to his Honour the Governor the sum of one hundred and fifty pounds, for the first half of his current year's salary.

[214] Resolved and ordered by this Assembly, That the Treasurer of this Colony pay to the Honorable William Pitkin, Esq^r, Governor of this Colony, the sum of one hundred and fifty pounds, for the first half of his salary for the current year.

This Assembly grants to his Honour the Deputy Governor the sum of fifty pounds, for the first half of his current year's salary.

Resolved and ordered by this Assembly, That the Treasurer of this Colony pay to the Hon^{ble} Jonathan Trumbull, Esq^r, Deputy Governor of this Colony, the sum of fifty pounds, for the first half of his salary the current year.

This Assembly grants to Joseph Talcott, Esq^r, Treasurer of this Colony, the sum of one hundred and sixty pounds, for his salary the year passed.

This Assembly grants to Mr. Secretary Wyllys the sum of twenty pounds, for his last year's salary.

Resolved and ordered by this Assembly, That the Treasurer of this Colony pay to George Wyllys, Esq^r, Secretary of this Colony, the sum of twenty pounds, for his salary the year passed.

Ordered by this Assembly, That the Treasurer of this Colony pay out of the public treasury unto Timothy Green, printer, the sum of ten pounds nine shillings and six pence, lawful money, being the full of an account exhibited by said Green to this Assembly for his service in printing, and for several disbursements made by him for and on account of this Colony since October last.

This Assembly is adjourned until the Governor, or in his absence the Deputy Governor, shall see cause to call it to meet again.

GEORGE WYLLYS, Secret'y.

[217] An Act for publishing the Oaths of Allegiance and Supremacy, Declaration against Popery, and Oath of Abjuration, as the same are to be administered agreeable to Act of Parliament.

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That the oaths provided by act of Parliament instead of the oaths of allegiance and supremacy, the Declaration against Popery, and also the Oath of Abjuration, agreeable to the form prescribed by a late act of Parliament, passed in the sixth year of his present Majesty's reign, be printed with the acts of this Assembly; which are as follow, viz:

I, A. B. do sincerely promise and swear, that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to his Majesty King George the third: So help me God.

I, A. B. do swear that I do from my heart abhor, detest and abjure, as impious and heretical, that damnable doctrine and position, that princes excommunicated or deprived by the Pope, or any authority of the See of Rome, may be deposed or murdered by their subjects, or any other whatsoever. And I do declare, that no foreign prince, person, prelate, state or potentate, hath or ought to have any jurisdiction, power, superiority, preeminence or authority, ecclesiastical or spiritual within the Realm of Great Britain: So help me God.

I, A. B. do solemnly and sincerely in the presence of God profess, testify and declare, that I do believe that in the sacrament of the Lord's Supper there is not any transubstantiation of the elements of bread and wine into the body and blood of Christ, at or after the consecration thereof by any person whatsoever; and that the invocation or adoration of the Virgin Mary or any other saint, and the sacrifice of the mass, as they are now used in the Church of Rome, are superstitious and idolatrous. And I do solemnly, in the presence of God, profess, testify and declare, that I do make this declaration and every part thereof in the plain and ordinary sense of the words read unto me, as they are commonly understood by English Protestants, without any evasion, equivocation, or mental reservation whatsoever, and without any dispensation already granted me for this purpose by the Pope or any authority or person whatsoever, and without any hope of any such dispensation from any authority or person whatsoever, or without thinking that I am or can be acquitted before God or man, or absolved of this declaration or any part thereof, although the Pope or any other person or persons or power whatsoever should dispence with or annul the same, or declare that it was null and void from the beginning.

I, A. B. do truly and sincerely acknowledge, profess, testify and declare in my conscience, before God and the world, that our Sovereign Lord King George is lawful and rightful King of this Realm and all other his Majesty's Dominions and countries thereunto belonging. And I do solemnly and sincerely declare, that I do believe in my conscience that not any of the descendants of the person who pretended to be Prince of Wales during the life of the late King James the second, and since his decease pretended to be and took upon himself the stile and title of King of England, by the name of James the third, or of Scotland by the name of James the eighth, or the stile and title of King of Great Britain, hath any right or title whatsoever to the crown of this realm, or any other the dominions thereunto belonging. And I do renounce, refuse and abjure any allegiance or obedience to any of them. And I do swear that I will bear faith and true allegiance to his Majesty King George, and him will defend to the utmost of my power against all traitorous conspiracies and attempts whatsoever which shall be made against his person, crown or dignity; and I will do my utmost endeavour to disclose and make known to his Majesty and his successors all treasons and traitorous conspiracies which I shall know to be against him, or any of them. And I do faithfully promise, to the utmost of my power, to support, maintain and defend, the succession of the crown against the descendants of the said James, and against all other persons whatsoever; which succession by an act intituled An act for the further limitation of the crown and better securing the rights and liberties of the subject, is and stands limited to the Princess Sophia, Electoress and Duchess Dowager of Hanover, and the heirs of her body being Protestants. And all these things I do plainly and sincerely acknowledge and swear according to these express words by me spoken, and according to the plain common sense and understanding of the same words, without any equivocation, mental evasion, or secret reservation whatsoever. And I do make this recognition, acknowledgment, abjuration, renunciation, and promise, heartily, willingly, and truly, upon the true faith of a Christian.

An Act for making and naming a District for a Court of Probate in the Southeast Part of this Colony and erecting a Court of Probate therein.

[218] Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That the towns of Stonington and Groton shall be one district of or for a court of probate, and shall be called and known by the name of the district of Stonington; and that in the same district there shall be a court of probate held by one judge, to be appointed and commissioned for that purpose according to law, who shall have a clerk, by him to be appointed and sworn to that office; which court shall have and exercise the same powers, authorities and privileges, that the other courts of probate in this Colony by law have and are respectively vested with. And all appeals from said court of probate shall be regulated and governed according to the order and directions of the law respecting appeals from the courts of probate in this Colony. Provided nevertheless, that all matters and business that hath begun, entered, or are depending in the court of probate in the district of New London shall be issued and finished in said court as though this act had not been made; anything therein contained notwithstanding.

An Act for the further Alteration of one certain Act of this Colony intituled An Act for appointing, encouraging and supporting Schools.

Whereas the provision for and regulation of schools in said act provided is found to be insufficient to answer the important design of educating and instructing children as was intended by said act: Therefore, for the further providing for the same,

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That from and after the first day of January, one thousand seven hundred and sixty-seven, there shall be annually paid out of the treasury of this Colony to the several towns and societies in this Colony the sum of twenty shillings, lawful money, upon every thousand pounds of the list of such towns and societies, instead of ten shillings, lawful money, on a thousand pounds, provided for by an act of this Colony, intituled An act for the alteration of one certain paragraph of the same act, passed in the General Assembly on the second Thursday of October, one thousand seven hundred and fifty-four, and so in proportion for any lesser sum or sums; which monies so raised shall be paid by the Treasurer of this Colony, annually as aforesaid, to the several school-committees of the several towns and societies, and by them to be paid out for the use and benefit of the schools therein, as is hereafter provided.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That each town and society shall have full power and authority to divide themselves into proper and necessary districts for keeping their schools, and to alter and regulate the same from time to time as they shall have occasion; which districts so made shall draw their equal proportion of said monies, as well as all other public monies for the support of schools belonging to such respective towns or societies, according to the lists of each respective district therein.

Provided nevertheless, That nothing in this act shall extend to alter, controul or supersede anything contained in the proviso of the ast paragraph of said act for appointing, encouraging and supporting schools, above referred to.

An Act in Addition to a Law of this Colony intituled An Act for constituting Judges and Justices of the Peace in this Colony, and for empowering and directing them in their respective Offices.

Whereas it may often happen, that when complaints are made to any justices of the peace within this Colony for the breach of penal laws and statutes, and the person or persons so complained of may belong or escape to some other county than where such justice dwells, whereby the execution of such laws and the good designs thereof may often be frustrated, by reason that such justice hath not power and authority to issue and sign any writ or process for the apprehending such person or persons so complained of, as aforesaid: Which inconveniences to remedy,

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, [219] || That for the future, whenever any complaint shall be legally made to any justice of the peace within this Colony, in any criminal matter on which the person or persons so complained of ought to be brought before such justice for tryal or examination, that such writ or process, as well as all summons for witnesses to appear in said cause, signed by such justice to whom such complaint may be made, shall be of as full force and authority in any and every county within this Colony as if the same had been signed by an Assistant; any law, usage or custom to the contrary notwithstanding.

An Act in Alteration of the second Paragraph of the Statute Law of this Colony intituled An Act for preventing, punishing and removing Nuisances in Creeks, Rivers and other Water-Courses.

Where in said paragraph it stands enacted, if any person or persons whatsoever shall by wears, hedges, seines, or any other incumbrances or way or means whatsoever, without lycence from the county court of that county wherein the said wear, hedge or other obstruction is set and made, disturb, hinder or anyways obstruct the natural, common or usual course or passage of the fish in the spring, or proper season of the year, up or in any of the aforesaid rivers, streams, cove, or creeks, the same shall be deemed a common nuisance &c.; which lycence given by the county court, as by said paragraph, is often found to prove mischievous, and many persons having obtained the same have thereby almost wholly stopt and obstructed the natural course of the fish passing up and down in many of said rivers, streams, cove

&c., in their proper season, and thereby have greatly destroyed the common priviledge and benefit of taking and catching the fish in and up said rivers, cove &c.: Therefore, to prevent the same,

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That the whole of said paragraph, so far as it respects the county courts in their respective counties giving and granting lycence to any person or persons to set up any wears, hedges, seines or other incumbrances, to the stopping or obstructing of the fish in their seasons passing up or in any of the aforesaid rivers, cove &c., shall be repealed and utterly void, and the same with such lycence relative thereto as have heretofore been given by the county courts is hereby made null and void, and of no effect.

An Act in Addition to and Alteration of one Act of this Colony intituled An Act for directing and regulating the Levying and Serving Executions.

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That whensoever any execution shall be levyed upon lands, the same shall be apprizd by three indifferent freeholders of the same town where such lands lye, to be nominated and appointed by the creditors choosing one, the debtor another, and in case the parties cannot agree on the third man, or either of the parties neglecting to choose, then and in that case the officer shall apply to the next Assistant or justice of the peace who by law may judge between the parties in civil cases, which authority shall nominate and appoint one or more apprizers, as the case may require; which apprizers shall be sworn according to law.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That it shall be the duty of the officer that levies such execution on lands, to cause such execution with his endorsements thereon to be entered of record on the town-clerk's records of such town where the lands lye, before he returns the same into the office to which it is returnable by law. And the officer shall have two shillings for causing the same to be recorded, with his additional fees for his travel; any law, usage or custom to the contrary notwithstanding.

An Act for the Regulating of Deputy Sheriffs and limiting their Number in the several Counties in this Colony.

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That the sheriff of the county of Hartford for the future shall not nominate or appoint more than ten deputies or under-sheriffs within or for said county, to act under him at the same time. And that the sheriff of the county of Newhaven shall not nominate or appoint more than six deputy or under-sheriffs within and for said county, to act under him at the [220] same time. || And that the sheriff of the county of New London shall not nominate or appoint more than five deputy or under-sheriffs within and for said county, to act under him at the same time. And that the sheriff of the county of Fairfield shall not nominate or appoint more than four deputy or under-sheriffs within and for said county, to act under him at the same time. And that the sheriff of the county of Windham shall not nominate or appoint more than four deputy or under-sheriffs within and for said county, to act under him at the same time. And that the sheriff of the county of Litchfield shall not nominate or appoint more than four deputy or under-sheriffs within and for said county, to act under him at the same time.

Provided nevertheless, That the sheriffs of the respective counties in this Colony shall have liberty on special occasions to depute any meet person to serve and execute any particular writ or process, which deputation shall appear entered on the back of such writ or process; anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding.

And it is further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That all writs and processes that shall be served or executed by any deputy or under-sheriff not qualified as aforesaid shall be void and abate.

Provided also, That this act shall not extend to prohibit the sheriffs in their respective counties of deputing each other to serve as deputies in their respective counties, nor to hinder or restrain the now deputy-sheriffs from legally acting in their offices until the sitting of the county court in the county where they are appointed; any law, usage or custom to the contrary notwithstanding.

An Act for the Preservation of Oysters and Clams and regulating the Fishery thereof.

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That the towns of Newhaven, Fairfield, and all and every town in this Colony bordering on the sea, sound or river, having oysters or clams growing and lying in any river, harbour, cove, creek, or flats, within the bounds of such towns respectively, or adjoining or appertaining thereto, shall have power, and power and authority is hereby granted to such towns respectively, in their town-meetings to make rules and ordinances respecting the preserving such oysters and clams and catching and taking the same, and to lay such restrictions and prohibitions against taking such oysters and clams in improper seasons, and to impose such penalties as shall be thought proper by such towns for the breach of such ordinances and rules : provided no such penalty shall exceed the sum of five pounds, money.

This Assembly do appoint Eliphalet Dyer, Esq^r, a Special Agent for this Colony, to repair as soon as conveniently may be to Great Britain, there to assist Mr. Agent Jackson in preparing, soliciting and managing for and in behalf of said Colony the case of the Mohegan Indians, lying by appeal of Mason in behalf of said Indians, before the King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

This Assembly do appoint William Samuel Johnson, Esq^r, a Special Agent for this Colony, to repair to Great Britain with all convenient expedition, there to assist Mr. Agent Jackson in preparing, soliciting and managing for and in behalf of said Colony the case of the Mohegan Indians, lying by appeal of Mason in behalf of said Indians, before the King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.*

Resolved by this Assembly, That William Samuel Johnson, Esq^r, be allowed one hundred and fifty pounds sterling for his service as Agent for this Colony at the Court of Great Britain ; and if he continue in said service longer than one year, then after that rate per annum, exclusive of his expences [221] for || agency and for his extraordinary cloathing, and that he be allowed for his expences and his cloathing as aforesaid ; and that he be allowed fifty pounds sterling to be paid him out of the Colony treasury in part towards the payment of his said expences, and the Treasurer is hereby ordered to pay the same accordingly ; and that his Honour

* A summons, dated July 8th, 1766, had been received, giving notice that the appeal would be heard in February then next. Indians, II. 276. Mr. Johnson sailed from New York on the day before Christmas, 1766, and did not return from England until the autumn of 1771.

the Governor be and he is hereby desired to order Mr. Agent Jackson to furnish said William Samuel Johnson, Esq^r, with such sum or sums of money as he shall have occasion for while in England, and that he account with this Colony for the same.

Decem. 10th, 1766, three executions in favour of the petitioners pursuant to this decree.

Upon the petition of Hannah Clark and Sheldon Clark, executors of the last will and testament of William Clark late of Derby, deceased, representing a conditional agreement made in September, A.D. 1761, between Enos Alling and Thomas Howel and the said William Clark, that he should purchase of them a quantity of salt which they had stored in said Derby, and that said bargain on or about the 25th day of December, 1761, was mutually released by said parties to each other; that sometime in February or March, A.D. 1762, the whole of said salt was washed out of a store by a flood and lost, and that said Allyn and Howel having commenced a suit at law against said Clark demanding payment for said salt, the matter was submitted to the arbitrament of arbitrators, who awarded that said Clark should pay half the value of said salt, who thereupon gave his note therefor, upon which note judgment hath been recovered against said administrators, and that sufficient evidence had been found by the said Hannah and Sheldon Clark to prove the release of said bargain; as per petition on file: whereupon the Hon^{ble} Roger Sherman, Esqr, Messrs. Samuel Bishop jun^r and Daniel Bennet, were by this Assembly at their sessions in October last appointed, and in their sessions in May last re-appointed, a committee with full power to enquire into all the matters complained of in said petition and report make; which committee having enquired into said matters have reported to this present Assembly, that having taken into consideration said case with the evidences produced therein, they are of opinion that the evidence is sufficient to prove that said agreement was released by the parties, and the said Alling and Howel ought not to recover anything of the said Hannah and Sheldon Clark by virtue of said judgment; the said report being by this Assembly accepted: Therefore, resolved by this Assembly, that the note on which the said judgment was recovered by said Alling and Howel against the said Hannah Clark and Sheldon Clark be and the same is hereby declared to be null and void, and said judgment on said note be reversed and set aside, and the same is hereby reversed and set aside, and all the doings thereon are hereby made void.

Upon the petition of the selectmen of Woodberry in Litchfield county, representing that John Smith, late of Derby in Newhaven county now of said Woodberry, is now with his estate in their care, and is chargeable to said Woodberry; that said Smith in March, 1750, made and executed a note of hand for three hundred pounds, bills of credit, to Moses Hawkins late of said Derby, deceased, being one of the committee of the proprietors of Quakers Farm purchase, with a condition that said Smith should remove his fence which was on the highway on the west side of that land that he bought of the [227] heirs of Colo. Johnson, and place his fence in his just || line; that soon after the giving said note said Smith with his estate were taken into the care of the selectmen of Derby aforesaid, (said Smith then being an inhabitant of said Derby;) that Abraham Hawkins and Eli Hawkins, executors of the last will of said deceased Moses, at the instigation and for the benefit of the proprietors of said purchase, brought their action against said Smith to the county court held at said Newhaven in November, 1761, on said note, and the said selectmen of said Derby, being at the time of said suit interested in the said propriety of Quakers Farm, refused to admit any defence by the said Smith against said note, although said Smith might well have been defended in said action, as he had not injured said proprietors or encroached on their bounds, whereupon judgment was by said county court rendered in said action against said Smith for the sum of £30 0s. 0d. lawful money, debt, and £1 2s. 4d. cost, and that said selectmen of Derby having in their hands no personal estate of the said Smith wherewith to satisfy said execution applied to the General Assembly at their sessions at Hartford in May, 1762, for liberty, and obtained the same, to sell so much of the real estate of the said Smith as would amount to £36 12s. 0d. with the incident charges, and in pursuance of said lycence the said selectmen did actually sell so much of the realestate of the said Smith as did amount to the sum of £40 0s. 0d. lawful money, to John Smith jun^r of said Derby, and executed a deed accordingly; as by the petition on file may at large appear: Resolved by this Assembly, that the said judgment of said county court so had and recovered by the said executors of the said Moses Hawkins, deceased, against said John Smith, and all the doings thereon, be and the same are hereby declared to be reversed, set aside and made null and void; and liberty is hereby granted for a new tryal of the said case at the county court to be holden at Newhaven within and for the county of Newhaven on the 2d Tuesday of November, A. D. 1766.

William Wolcott, Jonathan Welles and Josiah Bissel, be and they are hereby appointed a committee with full power to look into the several matters set forth in the petition, and make report of what they shall find with their opinion thereon to this Assembly in May next.

[228] On the memorial of the President and Fellows of Yale College in Newhaven, shewing the necessity of sufficient funds to enable them to support the officers needful for the instruction, government and well-being of that society; praying for such aid and assistance as will enable them to support that important interest, so as to answer the true and great ends of its institution: a committee appointed to take the affairs into consideration &c. have reported that they find the want of sufficient funds complained of is occasioned by the payment of considerable sums out of the college treasury towards building the chapel, finishing a house for a professor of divinity and for his support, also by the inability of the tenants, the great decrease of the number of students, and the withdraw of the usual annual grant from this Assembly; that they are of opinion that it is necessary the college be furnished with the following officers, supported with the salaries to their offices severally annexed, viz:

laws be revised and printed in English as well as Latin, and one book of their laws lodged in the Secretary's office; and that the government of said college be as near like parental, and as few pecuniary mulcts as the circumstances thereof will admit; and that the steward in making up his quarter bills insert the punishments of each scholar with the offence for which the same was imposed, for the parents information; and that in order for the continual support of college their accounts be annually laid before the General Assembly of this Colony in the October sessions:

Resolved by this Assembly, That the matters and things hereinbefore mentioned to be reported by said committee be accepted and approved, saving that there be but two junior tutors, and that the salary provided for the third, viz: £57 1s. 4d. be deducted out of the said sum of £159 12s. 0d. And the naval officer of the port of Newhaven is hereby accordingly ordered to pay to the treasurer of said college the remaining sum, being £102 10s. 8d. out of said duty on rum, or so much thereof as he hath money arising thereon in his hands. An Act relating to Quarters for some of his Majesty's Forces in this Colony.

Whereas his Excellency Thomas Gage, Commander-in-Chief of his Majesty's forces in North America, by his letter dated at New York the 8th of January instant,* hath acquainted his Honour the Governor that a vessel is just arrived there with one hundred and eighty-eight recruits from Germany for his Majesty's two battalions of the Royal American Regiment, and that the situation of those battalions renders it impracticable for these recruits to joyn them this winter: therefore signifying his request that quarters be provided at Stamford, Norwalk and Fairfield, or which shall be judged best of those towns, for two officers and one hundred thirty-four of his Majesty's troops, till April next: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That the said two officers and one hundred and thirty-four men be quartered and billeted in this Colony during this [244] winter season and until || April or May next, if needful before their march to their respective corps.

And whereas such soldiers cannot be quartered here at the several rates stated and fixed for their subsistence: Therefore,

Be it further enacted, That any person or persons on whom such soldiers shall be quartered shall be allowed and paid out of the treasury of this Colony so much more than is allowed by his Majesty for their subsistence as to make the same equal to five shillings, lawful money, per week, for each soldier so quartered and billeted on him or them.

And whereas it hath been found by experience, that private soldiers carrying their arms when not on duty hath been the occasion of notorious breaches of the peace, to the terror and disquiet of his Majesty's good subjects: For remedy whereof, sioned officer or soldier [is] quartered and billeted in pursuance of this act, as a reward for such entertainment and billeting over and above the allowance abovementioned shall be allowed three pence lawful money per diem, to be paid out of the treasury of this Colony.

And it is further enacted, That if the occupier of any such public licenced house shall refuse to receive and victual any such officer or soldier so quartered and billeted upon him according to the directions of this act, and be thereof duly convicted before any Assistant and justice of the peace, or two justices of the same county one being of the quorum, every person so offending shall forfeit to and for the use of this Colony the sum of forty shillings, lawful money, to be levied [245] by distress || and sale of the goods of the person so offending, by warrant under the hands of said authority before whom such conviction shall be, to be directed to the sheriff of said county, his deputy, or constable of the town wherein such offender shall dwell. Always provided, that no recruiting officer or party shall be billeted or quartered on any one place for more than seven days at a time; anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding.

[259] Resolved by this Assembly, That Colo. John Chester, Colo. Jabez Hamlin, Mr. John Ledyard, Mr. Richard Alsop, Major William Williams and Capt. John Lawrence be appointed Auditors, to settle and adjust all outstanding accounts and debts, of what nature soever, with the Treasurer, agents, King's attornies, and all other persons who may have the Colony's monies or security in their hands, and make report how they find all such outstanding accounts, and of all other their proceedings, unto the General Assembly at their sessions in October next.

Resolved by this Assembly, That the Treasurer of this Colony pay unto Capt. Titus Hurlburt of New London the sum of four pounds six shillings and eight pence, lawful money, out of the public treasury, in full of his account now exhibited for his services and monies expended in the year past in taking care of the Battery in New London.

Upon the petition of Benjamin Jacobs and Solomon Jacobs, of Mansfield in Windham county, children of Samuel Jacobs and Desire his wife late of said Mansfield, deceased, representing to this Assembly that their uncle Joseph Jacobs, now of Mansfield aforesaid, before the adjourned superior court held at Windham in Windham county on the third Tuesday of January A. D. 1767, recovered judgment against the petitioners for the seisin and possession of about fifty acres of land with buildings &c., situate in said Mansfield, with damages and cost, and evicted the petitioners thereof, whereby great injustice is done to the petitioners &c., for that their grandfather, Joseph Jacobs, deceased, in his life time made a settlement of his estate to and among his children by deeds, giving to the petitionee a large portion, and to the said Samuel, the petitioners' father, the land aforesaid with other lands, and afterwards the said Samuel reconveyed said fifty acres to his father, said Joseph deceased, in consideration whereof said Joseph, deceased, executed a deed thereof to the petitioners &c., the children of the said Samuel, for their use and benefit, to have and hold the same as an estate in fee, excepting what the said Joseph their grandfather should need for the support of himself and wife in their life time ; that soon after the petitionee obtained a deed of said fifty acres &c., and became bound to said Joseph, deceased, to maintain and support him and pay his debts &c., and to reconvey said fifty acres to the petitioners &c., in case they should pay to the petitionee what sums of money he should expend for said Joseph deceased, &c. ; that in expectation of holding and enjoying said lands, the petitioners with their said mother supported the said Joseph, deceased, and his wife for many years &c. ; that the petitionee never expended anything considerable for his said father and mother ; that the petitionee had procured to be endorsed on said bond by him executed upwards of two thousand pounds, in order to defeat the petitioners' claim to said fifty acres &c. and prevent their holding the same by force of their deed &c. ; and praying that the said Joseph, the petitionee, may be holden to render an account of what sums he hath expended in support of his said father and mother, and in payment of his debts &c., and to reconvey to the petitioners &c. the said fifty acres of land and appurtenances, or a part thereof as should appear just and reasonable ; praying for a committee &c., as per petition on file: Resolved by this Assembly, that William Pitkin jun. of Hartford, Esq^r, Josiah Bissel of Windsor, Esq^r, and Mr. Jonathan Welles of Glastonbury, be and they are hereby appointed a committee with full power to call before them the parties, at such time and place as they shall appoint, and fully examine into all matters in said petition contained by the oath of the parties or otherwise, and all circumstances relative thereto ; and of what they shall find, with their opinion thereon, to make report to this Assembly at their session in October next.

Upon the petition of James Marshal and others, the children and heirs of David Marshal late of Greenwich, deceased, which David was one of the children and heirs of John Marshal the elder, formerly of the same Greenwich, deceased, against John Marshal of said Greenwich, one of the children of said deceased John, and administrator on his estate, and others claimants by purchase or otherwise to some parts of said deceased's estate, shewing to this Assembly that upon a petition formerly preferred to this Assembly by the said administrator John Marshal, in May, 1760, representing certain difficulties attending the settling of the said estate in the ordinary course of the law, persons had been appointed to take an account of what and how much had been advanced to the several children of said deceased by the said administrator, and [260] which || being done, the said estate so far as then appeared had been distributed to and among the heirs and assignees of said estate pursuant to orders given by this Assembly for that purpose, and under the care and inspection of the court of probate; in which distribution was set by mistake to the petitioners as children and heirs of their said father, David Marshal, on account of his right to said estate as assignee of Zacheus Marshal, one of the children and heirs of the said deceased John, a certain piece of land part of said estate, viz: about twenty acres of land at Quakers Ridge, so called, in said Greenwich, which about twenty acres had been before purchased and paid for by the said David of the said John the administrator, and so not to have been distributed as portion; further shewing, that there still remains other and further lands and estate of the said deceased John, which has not ever been inventoried or distributed, sufficient to make up said loss to the petitioners, and more; praying to have the said remaining estate distributed to and among the said several heirs to the same or their assigns: first of all allowing and setting out to the petitioner out of said John's part of said remaining lands so much of said remaining lands and estate in the best and most convenient place and manner as shall be sufficient to compensate said loss occasioned by the mistake aforesaid; as by the petition on file: Resolved by this Assembly and it is hereby ordered and decreed, that the judge of the court of probate for the district of Fairfield do issue the necessary orders and give proper directions for the full and compleat settlement and distribution of the said estate as aforesaid, allowing and setting off for the petitionee, being the several children and heirs of the said deceased David, out of the said John's part of said remaining lands in the best and most convenient manner, such part of said remaining estate as shall be equal and sufficient to compensate for the said about twenty acres of land so by mistake set to the said David's heirs, as aforesaid.

Upon the petition of Josiah Gilman and John Bidwell, both of Hartford in the county of Hartford, administrators of John Gilman late of said Hartford, deceased, representing that having undertook to administer on said estate they made an inventory thereof, amounting to £913 0s. 3d.; that they had paid debts due from said estate to the amount of £621 0s. 11*d.*, and had been allowed by the court of probate for costs and charges of administration £66 8s. 5*d.*; that afterwards doubting whether said estate would be sufficient to answer all the debts due from said estate, they represented the same insolvent, and thereupon received orders from the court of probate to sell the whole personal and real estate of said deceased, which being done in a prudent and discreet manner, the sales amounted to the sum of £736 7s. 2*d.* and the sum of the debts due from said estate was returned by the commissioners appointed to examine the claims of the creditors £714 8s. 6*d.*, before which return of said commissioners was accepted or any average decreed on said estate the executors of Peter Mallet, late of Stratford in the county of Fairfield, deceased, brought their action against them and recovered judgment against them, notwithstanding their pleading the said facts in abatement, whereby they are subjected to pay debts of the said deceased when they have not any estate of the said deceased in their hands; praying for relief: Resolved by this Assembly, that John Ledyard, William Wolcott and John Pitkin, Esq^{rs}, be and they are hereby appointed a committee to enquire what debts are now due from the estate of the said deceased, and what estate of the said deceased remains for the payment thereof, and whether anything and what sum ought to be paid in equity by the petitioners to the said Mallet's executors, and generally of the matters referred to in said petition, and such as may help and conduce to a just and equitable settlement of the said deceased's estate, and to report what they shall find to this or the next General Assembly, together with their opinion thereon.

Upon the petition of Messrs. Richard Wait, Joseph Mather, Dan Marvin and others, committees for managing the school money in the several societies in the town of Lyme in New London county, representing to this Assembly that one Gamaliel Whiting and Mary Gillet, executors of the last will and testament of John Gillet, late of Canaan in Litchfield county, deceased, did upon the 26th day of August last make sale of most of the lands belonging to the estate of said deceased Gillet, lying in said Canaan, to James Fanning of said Canaan, at public vendue; complaining of the unfairness of said sale and disadvantages they, said committees, were under for want of seasonable notice of the time of said sale, and that great loss would be brought upon the memorialists unless relieved [261] by this Assembly: || Whereupon it appearing to this Assembly that the orders of the judge of probate for the district of Sharon for the sale of said lands were not duly attended, it is therefore resolved by this Assembly, that the whole proceedings on the sale of said land be void and of none effect, and that the deed given by said executors to said Fanning, purporting a conveyance of said lands and describing them to be and lye in two pieces, the one to lye south of Norfolk road and to contain one hundred and nine acres and two quarters and nineteen rods with a dwelling-house thereon, the other piece to contain nine acres and thirty-one rods lying north of said road and opposite to said house : both said pieces of land lye in said Canaan, and said deed is dated the 17th day of September, A. D. 1766, and recorded in Canaan town records, is hereby vacated and made void. And it is hereby resolved, that the same shall never be given in evidence before any court. And this Assembly order and decree, that there shall be a new sale of said lands. And it appearing to this Assembly that said Whiting is insolvent and gone out of this Colony, and the said Mary Gillet, the other executrix on the said estate, is by age and other bodily infirmities rendered incapable to transact and conduct said sale without manifest disadvantage : This Assembly do therefore appoint and authorize Benjamin Stephens of said Canaan to make sale of all the lands mentioned and described in said vacated deed, in such way and manner as shall be directed by the court of probate in the district of Sharon. And when the said Stephens shall have made sale of said lands, he is hereby ordered to account with the judge of the probate for said district for the avails of said sale ; and said judge is hereby impowered so to order the disposition of said avails and profits arising on said sale as he shall judge proper and legal, for the benefit of the creditors of the said John Gillet, deceased.

Upon the petition of Asa Hopkins, Harris Hopkins and Abigail Hopkins, (the said Abigail being a minor,) all of Litchfield in the county of Litchfield, against Isaac Baldwin, Esq^r, of said Litchfield, and others, representing and shewing to this Assembly, that their mother, Abigail Hopkins of said Litchfield, late deceased, as the only child and heiress of her father, Joseph Harris formerly of said Litchfield, deceased, became seized in her own right of a very considerable real estate in Litchfield aforesaid, consisting of about seven hundred acres of land, and so being seized afterwards married the petitioners' late father, Asa Hopkins of said Litchfield, late deceased ; and after having lived with him several years, and until after the birth of the said Asa first named, the petitioners' said father (for whatever reasons) began to importune and urge your petitioners' said mother to join with him in passing away her said real estate to some third person, in order to obtain a reconveyance and fix the title in himself; to which the petitioners' said mother would by no means consent, alledging that there was no necessity therefor &c.; that the said Asa, the father, still pursued the said Abigail, the petitioners' said mother, with repeated and causeless importunity, with some mixture and degree of intimidation, until wearied out she at last, against her will and not without tears of grief, yield to and joined with her said husband in executing a deed to one Stephen Sedgwick of Farmington of all her said lands and real estate except the half of a certain dwelling-house and home-lot and a piece of land called the west hundred acres, and fifty acres by Waterbury River, said deed bearing date the 27th of December, 1744; that said Stephen Sedgwick afterwards on the same 27th of December aforesaid, by his deed of that date did reconvey the same land and premises back to the said Asa, the petitioners' said father, both of said deeds being acknowledged and recorded and pretending and counting upon a large sum of money as a consideration, when in fact and in truth no consideration was ever paid or received &c. And further shewing, that the said Asa, so having gotten to himself the legal title to said lands, afterwards by his deeds sold and conveyed unto James Bird of Salisbury certain twenty acres, part of said lands, which by mean conveyances is now vested in Alexander McNiel of said Litchfield, and certain four acres, part of said premises, to one Thomas Grant, now derived down to Solomon Marsh of said Litchfield, and also certain seventeen acres and an half, part of said premises, to one Isaac Bissel of said Litchfield, which he still holds, and also of certain ten acres and an half of said lands to Moses Stoddard of said Litchfield, which he still holds, and also of certain four acres of said lands to one James Landon, now derived to Solomon Marsh of said Litchfield, and also [262] other four acres of said land || to Isaac Marsh of said Litchfield, and which he yet holds, and that the residue of said lands remained undisposed of until the death of the petitioners' said mother, which happened on the second day of February, 1758, and until his, the said Asa's, death, which happened on the 18th day of September last past; that the said Asa dying much in debt, the whole of said remaining land and real estate is now likely to be taken away from the petitioners &c.; praying that upon their, the petitioners, quieting the aforesaid purchasers in the enjoyment of those lands so by them bought of their said father, as aforesaid, in some reasonable way and manner, that the aforesaid deed given by the said Asa and Abigail Hopkins to said Stephen Sedgwick, and also the said deed so given by the said Sedgwick back to the said Asa Hopkins, as aforesaid, may be decreed null and void and of no effect: Resolved by this Assembly, that the said deed from the said Asa Hopkins and Abigail his wife to said Stephen Sedgwick, and also the said deed from the said Stephen Sedgwick to the said Asa Hopkins were unduly obtained as is aforesaid, and the same are therefore hereby vacated and declared to be null and void: provided nevertheless, and it is hereby further decreed and enacted, that the said several persons to whom the said Asa Hopkins made conveyances of the aforesaid parcels of the said lands shall be quieted in the full enjoyment of their said lands; and the several and respective heirs of the said Asa Hopkins, deceased, are accordingly hereby ordered and directed to make and execute proper quit-claims to them respectively for that purpose, as soon as the same can be conveniently done.

Upon the petition of Robert Cromeline and Mary Verplank of New York, and Nathaniel Shaw and Daniel Coit both of New London, shewing to this Assembly that James Tilley late of New London, deceased, for the consideration of six hundred pounds Connecticut old tenor bills, in the year 1748 mortgaged to John Richards, Esqr, late of said New London, deceased, the house in which said Tilley lived with two pieces of land and a rope-walk, all in New London aforesaid, which mortgaged premises were of much greater value than the consideration aforesaid; that said Tilley died greatly insolvent, and largely indebted to said petitioners and other creditors; praying for liberty to redeem said mortgaged premises for the benefit of all said creditors &c., as per petition on file: Resolved by this Assembly, that said petitioners have, and they are hereby granted, the liberty to redeem said mortgaged premises for the use and benefit of all said creditors; and that upon the payment of the sum of one hundred fifty-one pounds one shilling, lawful money, to the executors of the said John Richards, deceased, that then the said executors of the said John Richards, deceased, release to the administratrix of the said James Tilley, deceased, all the right that accrued to the aforesaid John Richards, deceased, by virtue of the deed to him from said Tilley of said mortgaged premises, for the use and benefit of all the creditors of said Tilley, in proportion to the debts to them respectively due, or that the said executors of the said John Richards, deceased, pay to the said administratrix the sum of four hundred pounds, lawful money, over and above the aforesaid sum herein ordered to be paid by said petitioners for the redemption of said mortgaged premises as aforesaid: the same to be applied to the use of the creditors of said Tilley, as aforesaid.

Upon the petition of Josiah Mead of Greenwich, preferred to this Assembly in October last, against John Marshal of the same Greenwich, and also against the children and heirs of Justus Bush late of said Greenwich, deceased, as assignee of the said John, representing to this Assembly that the said John Marshal obtained a judgment at Fairfield county court, April 3d Tuesday, 1750, for the sum of four hundred pounds current money against Jehu Marshal then of said Greenwich, the said Jehu being since dead and the said Josiah succeeding by will to his estate; said judgment being on a certain bond given by the said Jehu and one Micajah Marshal to the said John as administrator on the estate of his and their father then deceased, to save him, the said John, harmless in the matter of the claim of their sister Elizabeth Lyon to her portion in said estate; on which judgment the said John had levied execution upon certain lands called Elisha lot, How's lot, and Gate-land, in Greenwich aforesaid, which were and had been set off to the said Micajah and Jehu by the said [263] John as their portion in their said father's estate; || further representing that the said John had never been any ways harmed by the claim of said Elizabeth in the matter aforesaid, and charging that the said judgment was obtained by default and by surprize, without any just cause or foundation; praying to have the same vacated and set aside as well as the levy of said execution &c., as by the petition on file: upon which petition a committee being appointed in October last, to enquire into the said several matters and make their report &c., and now having reported the said several matters in favour of the petitioner with their opinion that said judgment and all the proceedings with and upon the said execution ought to be vacated and set aside, as by the report on file may more fully appear, which report is accepted: Whereupon it is resolved by this Assembly, that the said judgment of the said county court and all the proceedings with and upon the said execution be and the same are hereby vacated, set aside and made null and void, and not allowed, or any copies thereof, to be given in evidence upon any tryal. Cost allowed pet'r is £13 Os. 10d. Ex. granted Oct. 30, 1767.

Upon the petition of John Tanner, now living on a country

REASONS &c.

BY the Constitution, Government and Laws of Great Britain, the English are a Free People. Their Freedom consists principally, if not wholly, in this general Privilege, that "No LAWS CAN BE MADE OR ABROGATED, WITHOUT THEIR CONSENT, BY THEIR REPRESENTATIVES IN PARLIAMENT."

By the Common Law of England, every Commoner hath a Right not to be subjected to Laws made without his Consent, and because such Consent (by Reason of the great Inconvenience and Confusion attending Numbers, in such Transactions) cannot be given by every individual Man in Person, therefore is the Power of rendering such Consent, lodged in the Hands of Representatives, by them elected and chosen, for that Purpose. Their Subjection, then, to their Laws, is not forced, but voluntary.

As the chief Excellency of the British Constitution consists in the Subject's being bound only by such Laws to which they themselves Consent, as aforesaid ; and as, in order to their enjoying that Right, they are (agreeable to the Constitution) necessarily vested with the Power of electing their Representatives ; so this Right or Power is a fundamental Privilege, and so essential a Part of the Constitution, that, without it, the Subject cannot be said to be free : Therefore, if he be hindered from voting in such Election, or obstructed in the lawful Use of that real Right or Privilege, a Suit will lie for him at Common Law.

None of the Privileges included in those general Rights (which in an especial Manner, denominate the British Subjects a free People) is maintained with greater Care and Circumspection, and of which they are more jealous, than this particular, known, approved and fixed one, that No Tax, Loan or Benevolence can be imposed on them, but with their own Consent, by their Representatives in Parliament. This Privilege is of ancient Date, and whenever it hath been encroached upon, has been claimed, struggled for, and recovered, as being essential for the Preservation of the Liberty, Property, and Freedom of the Subject : For if the Privilege of not being taxed without their Consent, be once taken from them, Liberty and Freedom are certainly gone with it. That Power which can tax as it shall think proper, may govern as it pleases ; and those subjected to such Taxations and Government, must be far, very far from being a free People : They cannot, indeed, be said to enjoy even so much as the Shadow of English Liberties.

Upon these general and fundamental Principles, it is conceived that the Parliament (althô it hath a general Authority, a supreme Jurisdiction over all his Majesty's Subjects; yet, as it is also the high and safe Guardian of their Liberties) doth not extend its Taxations to such Parts of the British Dominions, as are not represented in that grand Legislature of the Nation; nor is it to be presumed that this wise and vigilant Body will permit such an essential Right, which is as the very Basis of the Constitution, in any Instance, ever to be violated. And upon the same Principles (as is apprehended) those subordinate Jurisdictions or Governments, which, by Distance, are so separated from Great Britain, that they are not and cannot be represented in Parliament, have always been permitted to have and enjoy Privileges similar to those of their Fellow-Subjects in the Mother Country, that is, of being subjected only to Taxations laid by the particular Legislatures, wherein they are or may be represented by Persons, by them elected for that purpose, and, consequently of not being taxed without their Consent. Thus, in Ireland, Taxes are laid by the Parliament of that Kingdom; and, in the Colonies or Plantations in America, by the several Assemblies or Legislatures therein.

These being the essential Rights and Privileges of the British Constitution, founded on the Principles of the common Law, thô, in diverse Respects, particularly regulated by sundry Statutes, The King's Subjects in the Plantations, claim a general Right to the Substance and constitutional Part of them, as their Birthright and Inheritance. This claim is founded on such considerations as follow, viz :

1st. The People in the Colonies and Plantations in America, are really, truly, and in every Respect, as much the King's Subjects, as those born and living in Great Britain are. "All Persons born in any Part of the King's Dominions, and within his Protection, are his Subjects; as all those born in Ireland, Scotland, Wales, the King's Plantations, or on the English Seas; who, by their Birth, owe such an inseparable Allegiance to the King, that they cannot, by any Act of theirs, renounce or transfer their Subjection to any foreign Prince." 4 Bac. 166.

2dly. All the King's Subjects, both in Great Britain and in the Colonies and Plantations in America, have Right to the same general and essential Privileges of the British Constitution, or those Privileges which denominate them to be a free People.

As Protection necessarily demands and binds to Subjection and Obedience to that Authority and those Laws whereby a People are protected; so Subjection and Obedience as necessarily and justly intitle to Protection: These mutually imply, require, and support each other. The King, as political Head of his Subjects, stands equally related to them, in that Capacity, and is as really obligated to protect one Subject as well as another; and as he has an Interest in all his Subjects, so they have an Interest in him, regulated according to the political Constitution. Though the particular and formal Parts of the Governments of the Colonies may be various one from another, and diverse from that of Great Britain, and such Diversity of Forms or Establishments necessarily arise from their different Situations and Circumstances; yet both Law and Equity agree, in this general Principle that All the King's Subjects ought to be supported and protected in their Rights and Liberties, and especially in such as are fundamental and essential to their Freedom. The Subjects in Great Britain are under no greater or stronger Obligations of Submission and Obedience to the Crown, than those in the Colonies are; and, surely, if the Colonists are under the same Obligations to Submission and Obedience with other their Fellow Subjects, it will not be easy to shew, that they have not the same Right to be protected and secured in the Enjoyment of every just and legal Privilege.

Though the Subjects, in the Colonies, are situate at a great Distance from their Mother Country, and, for that Reason, cannot participate in the general Legislature of the Nation. nor enjoy some particular formal Immunities possessed by those at Home; yet, as they settled, at this Distance, by Royal Licence and under national Encouragements, and thereby enlarged the British Dominions and Commerce, which add Riches and Strength to the Nation; and as they brought with them, and constantly claimed, the general Principles, those fundamental Principles, which contain the Essence and Spirit of the common Law of the Nation; it may not be justly said they have lost their Birth-Right, by such their Removal into America; for to suppose that those Settlements, that the Performance of such important and public Services, should be prejudicial to the Claim of the Colonies to the general Privileges of British Subjects, would be inconsistent both with Law and Reason, would naturally lead to unjust and absurd Conclusions, inasmuch as those public national Advantages would not have been promoted, unless some of the King's Subjects had planted, settled and dwelt in his Colonies abroad: And yet, that such planting, settling and living, should subject the Inhabitants to the Loss of their essential Rights as Englishmen, would be to reward great, public and meritorious Services with great and unspeakable Losses and Disadvantages: And how inconsistent such Measures and Principles are with the Honour and Justice of the British Crown and Government, may well deserve Consideration. It therefore seems apparent that the King's Subjects in the Plantations have a Right, and that it is for the Honour of the Crown and the Law, that they should have a Right, to the general and essential Privileges of the British Constitution, as well as the rest of their Fellow-Subjects. And with regard to the Colony of Connecticut, in particular, there can be no Question of its having such Right, as these general Privileges and Immunities are fully and explicitly granted and declared to belong to them, by the Royal Charter of Incorporation given to the said Colony by King Charles the Second, in the fourteenth Year of his Reign, in which is contained this Paragraph, viz. "And further

Our Will and Pleasure is, and We do for Us, Our Heirs and Successors, Ordain, Declare and Grant, unto the said Governor and Company, and their Successors, that all and every the Subjects of Us, Our Heirs or Successors, which shall go to inhabit within the said Colony; and every of their Children which shall happen to be born there, or on the Seas in going thither or returning from thence, shall have and enjoy all Liberties and Immunities of free and natural Subjects, within any of the Dominions of Us, Our Heirs or Successors, to all Intents, Constructions and Purposes whatsoever, as if they, and every of them, were born within the Realm of England." Now, whether these Words are to be understood only as declarative of the Principles of the ancient Common Law of England, and of the common Rights of Englishmen, settled by Royal Licence, and under the Protection of the Crown, in a Colony or Plantation abroad, and so evidential of the Rights and Immunities belonging to all the King's Subjects in America; or whether they are to be considered as a Grant and Confirmation of such Privileges and Immunities to His Majesty's Subjects of the Colony of Connecticut in particular, they equally evince (as far as a Royal Declaration and Grant can operate to that Purpose) the Truth of what is here pleaded for, so far as respects the People of the said Colony. Indeed these Words (on the general Principles of the Common Law) ought (as is apprehend) to be construed as containing a full Declaration of the Rights of the Subject, and, in order to remove all Doubts about the same, a Confirmation of them is annexed to or joined therewith. It may also be further observed, that by this Paragraph can't be meant or intended that the King's Subjects, within all his Dominions, should have or be governed by the same particular and formal Laws or Regulations, because their Situations are in distant Parts of the World, and their Circumstances are so widely different, that the same particular Establishments and formal Regulations, which in one Place might be good and wholesome for the People, in another would be unwholesome, prejudicial, and by no means answer the End of Laws: But this Declaration and Confirmation denotes and imports (as is conceived) that all those general and essential Rights which the free and natural Subjects in the Mother Country are possessed of, and vested with, by Virtue of the main, leading, and fundamental Principles of the Common Law or Constitution of the Realm, the King's Subjects, in the said Colony of Connecticut, shall have and enjoy, to all Intents, Constructions and Purposes whatsoever, that is, in such Plenitude as always to be, and ever to be treated as, free and natural Subjects.

3dly. In order that the King's Subjects in the Colonies and Plantations in America, might have and enjoy the like Liberties and Immunities as other their Fellow-Subjects are favoured with, it was and is necessary the Colonies should be vested with the Authority and Power of Legislation; and this they have accordingly assumed and exercised, from their first regular Settlement, down to this Time, and have been constantly owned and acknowledged therein, treated as having such Authority, and protected in the same by the Crown and the supreme Legislature of the Nation. Those Corporations, which by their Situation and Circumstances, are privileged with the Right of electing their Representatives to bear a proportionable Part in the general Legislature of the Nation, altho they may be vested with Authority to make By Laws and Regulations, within their own Jurisdictions, agreeable to the Bounds and Limits of the Charters which institute and give them Existence, indeed are, and ought to be, immediately subject to the Laws, Orders, and Taxes of such general Legislature, as well as others, and that even without being expressly named, for this obvious and solid Reason, because they are legally represented therein: But with regard to those Corporations or Governments, which, by their Distance and Situation, have no possible Opportunity of such a Representation, the Case is far otherwise. Whenever, therefore, Acts are formed by the supreme Legislature, that are, in any Respect, to extend to the Governments abroad, they are made to be so extended by express Words; and even such as are so extended to Subjects who are not admitted a Representation, or to bear a Part in the Legislation, may not improperly be said to be sovereign Acts, or Acts supported by the sovereign Dominion of the Makers of them. And as the Exercise of such sovereign Authority may be said (as is humbly conceived) to be, in some Measure an Exception from the general Rule by which British Subjects (according to the Constitution) are governed, it is most justly to be presumed and relied upon that the supreme Guardians of the Liberties of the Subjects, will never extend that Authority further than may be done without depriving any of the King's Subjects of those Privileges which are essential to their Liberty and Freedom, or leave them in Possession of such Rights and Liberties. It is a clear Point that the Colonies may not, they cannot, be represented in Parliament; and if they are not vested with legislative Authority within themselves, where they may be represented by Persons of their own electing, it is plain they will not be represented in any Legislature at all, and, consequently, if they are subjected to any Laws, it must be to such as they have never consented to either by themselves or any Representatives, which will be directly contrary to that before-mentioned fundamental Principle of the British Constitution, that "NO LAWS CAN BE MADE OR ABROGATED, WITHOUT THE CONSENT OF THE PEOPLE, BY THEIR REPRESENTATIVES." It therefore appears that for the Crown to govern the Colonies and Plantations abroad, by and with the consent of the People represented in Assemblies or legislative Bodies, is properly and truly to govern them agreeable to the British Constitution of Government; and altho this may not, in every Form and Manner, be exactly similar to the Government at Home, yet, as near as the different Situation and Circumstances admit, will it agree with the fundamental Principles thereof. That the Colony of Connecticut (agreeable to these general Principles) is vested with such a legislative Authority, appears by their Charter, full to that effect. By this Charter the Colony are impowered to meet in a General Assembly, consisting of a Governor or Deputy Governor, Assistants and Deputies, annually to be chosen by the Freemen: And such Assembly is vested with Authority, from time to time, to make, ordain and establish all Manner of wholesome and reasonable Laws, Statutes and Ordinances, Directions and Instructions, not contrary to the Laws of the Realm of England; and every Officer, appointed for putting such Laws, Ordinances &c. from Time to Time, into due Execution, is sufficiently warranted and discharged against the King's Majesty, his Heirs and Successors, by a special Clause, in the same Charter, express to that Purpose. By this Royal Patent it is therefore evident, that a full Power of Legislation is granted to the Colony, limited with a Restriction that they conform, or are not to act contrary to the General Principles of the Laws of the Nation, and consequently, as when they exceed the Bounds and Limits, prescribed in the Charter, their Acts will be void, so, when they conform and regulate their Acts agreeable to the Intent and Meaning of it, their Acts may properly be said to have the Royal Approbation and Assent. And these Powers, Rights and Privileges the Colony has been in Possession of for more than a Century past. This Power of Legislation necessarily includes in it, an Authority to impose Taxes or Duties upon the People for the Support of Government and for the Protection and Defence of the Inhabitants; as, without such Authority, the general Right of Legislation would be of no Avail to them. These Privileges and Immunities, these Powers and Authorities, the Colony claims, not only in Vertue of their Right to the general Principles of the British Constitution, and by Force of the Royal Declaration and Grant in their Favour, but also as having been in the Possession, Enjoyment and Exercise of them for so long a Time, and constantly owned, acknowledged and allowed to be just in the Claim and Use thereof, by the Crown, the Ministry, and the Parliament; as may evidently be shown by Royal Instructions, many Letters and Acts of Parliament, all supposing and being predicated upon the Colony's having and justly exercising these Privileges, Powers and Authorities: And what better Foundation for, or greater Evidence of, such Rights can be demanded or produced, is certainly difficult to be imagined.

These points being thus rendered so clear and evident, may it not thence be very justly inferred, 4thly. That charging Stamp Duties, or other internal Taxes on the Colonies in America, by parliamentary Authority, will be an Infringement of the forementioned Rights and Privileges, and deprive the Colonists of their Freedom and Inheritance, so far as such Taxations extend? The charging a Tax on any particular Part of the Subject's Estates in the Plantations, by Authority of Parliament, will doubtless be found nothing less than taking from them a Part of their Estates on the sole Consideration of their being able to bear it, or of having a sufficiency left notwithstanding. It must certainly be admitted that the People thus charged, do not consent, nor have any Opportunity so to do. An express Consent, either by themselves or Representatives, can by no Means be pretended, neither can their Consent be argued from Implication, as their Subjection and Allegiance to the Crown, are supposed to be according to the Tenor of the Laws of the Nation, for altho the King is stiled the Head of the Common Wealth, Supreme Governor, Parens Patriæ, &c. yet is he still to make the Law of the Land the Rule of his Government, that being the Measure as well of his Power as of the Subjects Obedience; for as the Law asserts, maintains and provides for the Safety of the King's Royal Person, Crown and Dignity, and all his just Rights, Revenues, Powers and Prerogatives, so it likewise declares and asserts the Rights and Liberties of the Subject. [4 Bac. 149.] Therefore, in this Case, as there can be no other implied Consent than what the general Principles of the Law or Constitution implies, or what is included in the Obligations to Submission and Obedience to Laws. And as the general, fundamental Principles of the British Constitution or Laws, which the Americans claim the Privilege of, are quite the Reverse of such Implications, and really imply and suppose the Contrary, it follows that charging such Taxes will be to take Part of their Estates from the People without their Consent, either expressed or implied; it can't be said such Charging would be founded on Contract, as it might be where the Subjects are represented in the Legislature; neither may it be founded on a Forfeiture, as there is no pretence of that Kind in these Cases; surely, then, there can be no Right either to demand or receive a Man's Estate, where both these are wanting.

If these internal Taxations take Place, and the Principles upon which they must be founded, are adopted and carried into Execution, the Colonies will have no more than a Shew of Legislation left, nor the King's Subjects in them, any more than the Shadow of true English Liberty; for the same Principles which will justify such a Tax of a Penny, will warrant a Tax of a Pound, an hundred, or a thousand Pounds, and so on without Limitation; and if they will warrant a Tax on one Article, they will support one on as many Particulars as shall be thought necessary to raise any Sum proposed. And all such Subjections, Burthens, and Deprivations, if they take Place with Respect to the King's Subjects abroad, will be without their Consent, without their having Opportunity to be Represented, or to shew their Ability, Disability, or Circumstances. They will no longer enjoy that fundamental Privilege of Englishmen, whereby, in special, they are denominated a free People. The legislative Authority of the Colonies, will, in Part, actually be cut off, a Part of the same will be taken out of their own Assemblies, even such Part as they have enjoyed so long, and esteem most dear; nay, may it not be truly said, in this Case, that the Assemblies in the Colonies will have left no other Power or Authority, and the People no other Freedom, Estates, or Privileges, than what may be called a Tenancy at Will? that they have exchanged, or rather lost, those Privileges and Rights, which, according to the national Constitution, were their Birth-Right and Inheritance, for such a disagreeable Tenancy? Will not such Determinations amount to plain Declarations, to the Colonies, that altho they have enjoyed those Immunities and Privileges heretofore, and been acknowledged and encouraged in the Possession and Use of them, yet now they must expect, for Reasons of State, for some public Utility, to part with them, and be brought under a kind of Subjection not far from the very Reverse of that Freedom they justly claim and so highly value? May it not be enquired what Reasons are or may be assigned for so different Treatment of the Subjects of the same Most Gracious King, of the same general State or Community? May it not, upon the whole, be concluded, that charging Stamp Duties, or other internal Duties, by Authority of Parliament, as has been mentioned, will be such an Infringement of the Rights, Privileges and Authorities of the Colonies, that it may be humbly and firmly trusted, and even relied upon, that the supreme Guardians of the Liberties of the Subject, will not suffer the same to be done, and will not only protect them in the Enjoyment of their just Rights, but treat them with great Tenderness, Indulgence and Favour?

OBJECTION.

Perhaps it may be here objected, that these Principles, if allowed, will prove too much, as the Parliament, by its supreme Dominion, has a Superintendency over all the Colonies and Plantations abroad, and Right to govern and controul them as shall be thought best, and most conducive to the general Good of the Whole; and, accordingly hath passed divers Acts for regulating their Trade and Navigation, and, in other Respects, directed their Conduct, limited the Exercise of their Authorities, &c.

ANSWER.

To Objections and Observations of this Kind, it may be answered, that as the Parliament of Great Britain is most certainly vested with the supreme Authority of the Nation, and its Jurisdiction and Power most capacious and transcendent, the Colonies will be far, very far from urging or even attempting any Thing in Derogation of the Power or Authority of that august Assembly, or pretending to prescribe Bounds or Limits to the Exercise of their Dominion; nothing in the foregoing Observations be sure, is intended, by way of Objection, but that the Crown by its Prerogative, or the Parliament by its supreme and general Jurisdiction, may justly order and do some Things, which may affect the Property of the American Subjects, in a Way which, in some Sense, may be said to be independent upon or without the Will or Consent of the People, as by Regulations of Trade and Commerce and the like; and by general Orders relative to and Restrictions of their Conduct for the Good of the Whole: For as the Colonies are so many Governments independent on each other, or not subjected the one to the other, they can only establish Regulations within and for themselves respectively; and as they are all subordinate to and dependent upon the Mother Country, and Propriety, Conveniency and even Necessity require that they should be subject to some General Superintendency and Controul, in order that the general Course of their Trade and Business should be so uniform as to center in some general national Interest, it becomes plainly expedient that there should be some supreme Director over all His Majesty's Dominions; and this Character and Authority, all Men must acknowledge and allow, properly belong to the British Parliament. Against the Exercise of such general Jurisdiction, for the common Interest and Advantage of the Mother Country and of the Plantations, collectively taken, the before mentioned Observations are in no Measure intended; for it is humbly conceived, that the Subjects in the Colonies may enjoy their Rights, Privileges and Properties, as Englishmen, and yet, for political Reasons, be restrained from some particular Correspondence or Branches of Trade and Commerce, or may be subjected therein to such Duties, Charges and Regulations, as the supreme Power may judge proper to establish as so many Conditions of enjoying such Trade. Reasons of State may render it expedient to prohibit some Branches of Trade and to burden others as aforesaid. And as such Regulations will doubtless appear, upon Examination, rather to be a preventing the Subject from acquiring Property, than taking it from him, after it is legally become his own, the Objections relative to such Establishment, ought to be only against those that may be supposed unequal, unprofitable, or not expedient, the Determination of which must nevertheless be left to the supreme Authority of the Nation. What therefore is designed to be urged from these general Principles of the British Constitution, is, that the Legislatures of the Colonies ought to be left entire, and that His Majesty's good Subjects in them should be permitted the continued Enjoyment of their essential Rights, Immunities and Privileges, which will not, as is supposed, by any Means be the Case, if the internal Taxations before mentioned should take Place. But if Restrictions on Navigation, Commerce, or other external Regulations only are established, the internal Government, Powers of taxing for its Support, an Exemption from being taxed without Consent, and other Immunities, which legally belong to the Subjects of each Colony, agreeable to their own particular Constitutions, will be and continue in the Substance of them whole and entire; Life, Liberty and Property, in the True use of the Terms, will then remain secure and untouched.

OBJECTION.

On this Distinction it may perhaps be further said, by Way of Objection, that a Stamp Duty differs from a Tax, as it will oblige the Subjects only to pay for Paper, Parchment, &c. which they are at Liberty to use or not to use, at Pleasure; and so, if they chuse to make use of it, they voluntarily submit to the Charge, and can't be said to be taxed without their Consent.

ANSWER.

This by no Means will obviate the Arguments; for a Regulation which necessarily obliges a Man to part with any certain Portion of his Estate, amounts to the same Thing as the actual taking such Portion from him. It must be supposed that the People in America will buy and sell their Lands, nay, in a Multitude of Instances, they would not know how to subsist without such Dispositions: They will also be necessitated to give and take Obligations, and to use Paper for various other Purposes, or there will be of Course, so great a Stagnation of Business as almost to bring on a Dissolution of their civil and political Existence. These things will be found as necessary as the Use of Agriculture itself. They will therefore be as certainly taxed by a Duty charged on the Transfer of their Lands, as by a Tax laid directly on the Land itself. If Lands were to be taxed, it might as well be said, People are not obliged to have Lands (and indeed some have none) so that such as do acquire them, voluntarily submit to the Charge, which is really saying Nothing to the Purpose, for the Use and Improvement of Lands, Barter, and Transmutation of Property are as necessary in civilized Countries, as Food and Raiment are to the Body natural. Indeed the Supposition of the Necessity and certain Use of the Articles to be charged, can be the only Foundation to render a Revenue arising therefrom worthy of Notice, as otherwise the Effect would be altogether precarious.

5thly. Another Reason offered as an Objection against charging Stamp Duties, &c. in the Colonies, may be drawn from the Consequence of such a Measure, as it is most probable, if not certain, it will, in the Event, prove prejudicial to Great Britain itself. The Colonies and Plantations in America are, indeed, of great Importance to their Mother Country and an Interest worthy of her most tender Regard: The more they prosper and increase in Number, Riches and Commerce, the greater will be the Advantage not only to them but also to the Nation at Home. In the Colonies there is a Vent for and a Consumption of almost all Sorts of British Manufactures, and of many and various Kinds of Goods of the Produce of other Countries, first imported into Britain and from thence brought into the Plantations, whereby the Revenue of the Crown and Wealth of the Nation are much encreased, at the Expence of the Colonies; for these Goods the Colonies make Remittances with what Monies they are able to collect, in a Variety of their own Produce, and by circular Trade; and taking the whole Trade together, it amounts to a very great Sum, the Profits of which in general center in Great Britain. If the Plantations are encouraged and prosper, this will be an increasing Interest and become more and more of Importance; but if Measures should be taken, which, in Regard to them, would have a natural Tendency to abate their Vigour, Spirit and Industry, or to turn them into some other Channel to supply the Necessaries of Life, what can be expected but a Decrease of the Colonies Wealth and Prosperity, and consequently a Decay of an important national Interest. And as, on the one Hand, depriving the Colonies of Part of their Powers and Privileges and rendering the Tenures of them and of their Liberties and Properties precarious, as by charging Stamp Duties or other internal Taxes upon them by Act of Parliament, &c. will naturally produce that unhappy Effect of causing the Colonies to languish and decrease; so, on the other Hand, upholding and continuing the Freedom of their Governments, maintaining their Authority, their Laws, securing their Properties, considering and treating their Privileges and Immunities as Matters too sacred to be violated, will naturally tend to invigorate, enliven and encourage the People, and keep up in them a Spirit of Industry in all Kinds of Dealing and Business, and of Emulation in the Service of their Mother Country, whereby they will become more able and zealous to promote the national Interest. This will doubtless be found almost universally to be the Case of a People where they enjoy Liberty, and their Lives, Properties and Privileges are secure, and the Reverse of it as generally to be the Consequence of a contrary Treatment; for what Encouragement hath the Merchant to expose his Interest to Chances and Dangers, the Farmer, the Mechanic and the common Labourer to weary themselves in their fatiguing toilsome Employments, if, after all, Part of their Estates (and how great a Part is to them altogether uncertain) may be taken from them, and in such Ways and Manner as they have heretofore been led to think are inconsistent with their essential Rights and Liberties? Surely then, if subjecting the Colonies to Burdens which will discourage and abate their Industry, will eventually prove disadvantageous to the Mother Country, and the charging of Stamp Duties or other internal Taxes on them, will, in the End, have that Effect (as has been endeavoured to be shewn and evinced) the taking such a Measure must be inconsistent with good Policy and the true Interest of the Nation.

6thly. Furthermore to enforce the Objections against Stamp Duties or other internal Taxations, it is conceived that a summary Representation of the Settlement, special Services and Circumstances of the Colony of Connecticut, may be here, with great Propriety adduced, from whence very cogent Reasons may be drawn in their Favour.

The first Settlers of the Colony, who were derived from England, their native Country, planted here in the Year 1636, and having purchased their Lands, or rather a Right of Pre-emption of the Crown, or the King's Patentees, they were obliged to purchase the greatest Part of them again of the native Claimers, Possessors, and Proprietors of the Country, and some other Part was obtained at a much dearer Rate, which was by Conquest; for the People of these new Settlements, scarce of one Year's Date, and very small, were forced, for the Defence of their Lives and those Settlements, which in a fair and equitable Manner they had made, to enter into a War with the principal Tribe of Indians, then in this Part of the Country, who rose with all their barbarous, insidious, crafty Force and Cruelty to rout these new Settlers out of the Country, as the first Effort of their set and declared Design to break up and prevent the Settlement of New England. Against this numerous and powerful Tribe, enraged with Jealousy at the English, these Planters, who were able to raise but about four-score Men, took up Arms, and, by the Smiles of Heaven, in sundry severe Conflicts, overthrew, conquered and effectually subdued these their crafty, bloody and inveterate Enemies. And as this was the first Indian War in New-England, and issued so successfully on the Part of the English, whose Courage, Force and Conduct in War now became the Dread and Terror of the Natives throughout the Land, it laid a Foundation for Tranquility in general for almost forty Years after, which gave a most favourable Opportunity for the Settlements in the Country to multiply and increase in Strength and Vigour.

The Plantation and Settlement of the Colony, by the year 1661, being considerably increased, they made Application to the Crown for a Charter of Incorporation, with Powers of Government, founded on the general Principles of the English, now British Constitution, that is to say, that they might be governed with the Consent of the People represented in an Assembly composed of Members elected for that Purpose; and, in Consequence of such Application, King Charles the Second, in the 14th Year of his Reign, granted his Royal Charter to the said Colony, the Preamble of which is worthy of special Notice, as in it are these words, viz.

Whereas, by the several Navigations, Discoveries, and successful Plantations, diverse of our loving Subjects of this our Realm of England, several Lands, Islands, Places, Colonies, and Plantations have been obtained and settled in that Part of the Continent of America called New England, and thereby the Trade and Commerce there hath been of late Years much increased: And whereas we have been informed, by the humble Petition of our trusty and well-beloved John Winthrop, John Mason, &c. being Persons principally interested in our Colony or Plantation of Connecticut in New-England, that the same Colony, or the greatest Part thereof, was purchased and obtained for great and valuable Considerations, and some other Part thereof gained by Conquest and with much Difficulty and at the only Endeavours, Expence and Charges of them and their Associates and those under whom they claim, subdued and improved, and thereby become a considerable Enlargement and Addition to our Dominions and Interest there: Now, know ye, that in Consideration thereof," &c.

Hereby it appears that this Charter was granted upon valuable Considerations, which adds Weight and Strength to the Title on which the Claim of the Colony to the Rights, Immunities, and Franchises therein granted and confirmed are founded, for here are the Considerations of large Sums of Money advanced, Conquest made at the Expence of the Blood and Treasure of the Planters, eminent publick national Services performed and to be performed, and all to the Enlargement of the King's Dominions and for the Increase of the national Commerce, which the Charter is a clear and full Evidence of. The Powers and Privileges granted by this Charter were properly the Purchase of the People, and the granting was an Instance of Royal Justice to them, tho' the Grace and Favour of the Crown assuredly ought to be and hath been at all Times humbly and gratefully acknowledged therein. Therefore as there really were valuable Considerations which were proper Foundations for such a Grant, it was doubtless judged to be for the Honour of the Crown to grant the Powers of Government with such ample and beneficial Immunities and Privileges as are allowed and given in and by the Charter aforesaid; and these the People indeed look upon as the Purchase of their Ancestors, as a gracious and royal Reward of the Merit and Services of their Forefathers, and as one of the best Inheritances they left to their Children; whether therefore it can be consistent with Law or Equity they should be deprived of such an Inheritance, or any Part thereof, may be worthy of serious Consideration: For if the Right of a single Person to vote in the Election of a Member of Parliament be so sacred in the Eye of the Law, that to deprive him of it, entitles to an Action at Common Law for his Damages and the Violation of his Privileges, as was adjudged in the House of Lords in the Case of Ashby and White, how sacred then ought the Powers, Privileges and Immunities of a whole Colony of Loyal People, of all the Freemen in it, to be look'd upon and considered? And of what Importance is it they should be defended and protected therein? As the Enjoyment of such Privileges and Liberties, of such a free Constitution of Government naturally tends to promote Loyalty and Obedience in a People, so the Inhabitants of the Colony of Connecticut (without arrogating) may, with the strictest Veracity, say and insist, that none of the Colonies in the British Dominions, have approved themselves more loyal and obedient to the King's Majesty, or more forward and zealous for promoting his Service, than they have constantly done. These Principles of Loyalty and Zeal, the natural Result of Liberty and Freedom, have influenced the Colony to exert itself with a becoming vigorous Spirit and Resolution in public and benevolent Services, whenever they have been called upon or applied to for that Purpose. It hath not only defended itself in its infant State against the violent Insurrections of the Indians who formerly lived near or dwelt among them, and at all Times down to the present Day, against all its Enemies, but also, as it increased in Numbers and Strength, hath from Time to Time, afforded Aid, Succour and Relief to the neighbouring Colonies. It is found, by ancient Memorials, that the Colony of Connecticut united with, and at large Expence and to most remarkable Effect, assisted the other Colonies in carrying on the famous Indian War called the Narraganset War, which raged about the Year 1675, when (after a shocking Destruction of the English People, their infant Towns and Settlements) those Barbarians were totally subdued, and the distressed Country thereby saved from impending Ruin.

From the Year 1688 to about 1695, Connecticut at sundry Times and as Occasions required, furnished expeditious Aid and Succour to the Province of New-York, for the Defence and Protection of Albany and other Places, then exposed to frequent Irruptions of the French and Indians; in which Service, at the several Times of their Distress, were employ'd about five Hundred Men, at the Charge and Expence of the Colony, the Amount whereof appears to be about five Thousand Pounds. Within the same Times, Help and Relief were repeatedly raised and sent forward, with great Expedition, for the Defence of the Frontiers in the County of Hampshire, in the Province of the Massachusetts-Bay, which often happily tended to the Safety, Encouragement and Support of the People there, and was gratefully acknowledged and certified by some of the principal Men in those Parts. The Expence of these Services to the Colony of Connecticut (besides the Loss of Lives in several Encounters) amounted to near two Thousand Pounds.

It appears also that the Colony of Connecticut, in the Years 1703, 4, 5, and 6, on repeated Alarms, occasioned by Irruptions of the Enemy, on the Frontier Towns and Places in the Province of the Massachusetts-Bay, raised and sent Numbers of Men for the Relief, Succour and Defence of the Inhabitants in those Parts. These Men were generally sent on Horseback for the Sake of Expedition, the Occasions being urgent, tho' at some Times on Foot. And as those Alarms were frequent, the Succours were sent in about twenty several Parties succeeding one another. The Number of Men employed in those Services was about seventeen Hundred and of Horse near nine Hundred. And the total Expence occasioned thereby to the Colony (as may be still shewn by the Accounts thereof) amounted to near eleven Thousand Pounds. The Currency in those Times was about three-fourths the Value of Sterling Money. All these Services were voluntarily performed by the small Colony of Connecticut, for the Relief and Protection of their Fellow-Subjects in the other Colonies (one of which in particular was under the immediate Government of the Crown) without receiving either Money or any other Aid from the Crown, or from the neighbouring Provinces.

In the Expedition in 1710 against Port-Royal, now Annapolis, when it was taken from the French, and the costly disastrous Expeditions set on Foot against Canada in 1709 and 1711, the Colony of Connecticut bore a full Proportion of Expence and sustained a very great Loss of Men. And the Colony failed not likewise of bearing a large Share in that memorable Expedition formed by the New-England Governments against Cape-Breton, in 1745, when it was reduced to the Obedience of the British Crown. This was a seasonable an important Conquest, and will not be forgotten, while the principal Articles which served as a Basis for restoring the Peace to Europe that followed it, are had in Remembrance.

But the more recent Instances of the Loyalty, Zeal and Serviceableness of the Colony of Connecticut are such as follow.

In the Year 1755, when Forces were raised by the Northern Colonies for removing Encroachments made on His Majesty's Territories in America, by the French, Connecticut raised a Thousand Men for that Service, and also two Thousand more the same Year to reinforce the Army at Lake George, then apprehended too weak to withstand the Enemy. This Number was two or three Times the proportion of Connecticut compared with some other Colonies concerned in that Expedition. In 1756 it raised two Thousand five Hundred Men, which was double the Number proposed by the King's Commander in Chief for the Colony's Proportion in the Service of that Year. This was done by the Colony as it was supposed the southern Colonies would fail of the Proportion allotted for them to raise; and lest the Service should suffer, it exerted itself in such duplicate Proportion. In 1757, the Proportion demanded by His Majesty's Commander in Chief, for the Service of that Year, being fourteen Hundred Men, the Colony not only raised that Number, but also, on Intelligence of the Attack on Fort William Henry, speedily sent forward about five Thousand of the Militia, for the Relief of that Fortress and Protection of the Country, then in great Consternation in those Parts. And in 1758 an Expedition was set on Foot for the Reduction of Canada, and the Colonies being called upon by the Crown, to raise as many Men as the Number of their Inhabitants would admit of; and as it was apprehended that in Case of Success, an End would be put to the War in these Parts by that Year's Campaign, Connecticut exerted itself beyond all former Efforts, in Hopes of its being the finishing Stroke, and accordingly agreed to raise five Thousand Men, and actually had but few short of that Number in the Field. But as this important Design failed of Accomplishment at that Time, the Colony, by Royal Direction, was called upon strenuously to exert itself in the like Service, in 1759, and even until the End of the War. And as what hath been done by the Colonies, on that extraordinary Occasion, in 1758, seem'd constantly to be made the Rule of Demand upon them afterwards, the annual Requisition of the Crown proved exceeding heavy upon the Colony of Connecticut, for it had indeed exerted itself vastly beyond its Ability, and any just Proportion in that Year; yet nevertheless they agreed to raise the Number demanded in every succeeding Year of the War, being spirited, as far as possible to yield the strictest Obedience to the King's Com mands, and determined to persevere in his Service with the utmost Efforts. And in the present Year 1764, the Colony hath raised upwards of two Hundred and fifty Men for the Annoyance of the Indians and Protection of His Majesty's Subjects in other Governments. These Troops are now out on Service at the Direction of the King's Commander in Chief in North-America.

In these Services, from the Year 1755 to the Year 1762 inclusive, the Expences of the Colony, over and above the parliamentary Grants (which have been received with the most sensible and humble Gratitude) amounts to upwards of four hundred thousand Pounds; the large Arrears of which Sum will remain a heavy distressing Burden upon the People for many Years to come. Moreover several Thousands of the hardest and most able young Men, the Hope and Strength of the Farmers, have been destroyed, lost, and enervated in the many distant arduous Campaigns, during the Course of this terrible War. The Husbandry of the Country (its only Resource) has suffered and still suffers extremely hereby; and the Colony will not recover itself from these Disadvantages in a long Tract of Time. And altho, by the Success of the military Operations in America, large, extensive and most valuable Acquisitions have been made to the British Dominions, yet the Colony of Connecticut gains Nothing thereby, further than as it may be said to be concerned in the common Cause and general Interest of the Whole. It had no Lands to recover or even to secure from the Enemy, as some other Governments had; it hath no immediate Trade with the Indians, nor will its Situation admit of any but what may, by some Individuals, be carried on through and so subject to the Controul of other Colonies. The Profits of this Trade have ever been mostly in the Hands of those whose Proximity gave them peculiar Advantages for it. Nay, instead of receiving particular Benefit by these Events, the Colony will rather suffer Disadvantages thereby; in the Emigration of its Inhabitants, already thinned, for Settlement of the vacant Lands in other Provinces, which are now secure from the Enemy who formerly annoyed them. Therefore Principles of Loyalty and Zeal for the King's Service, Principles of Benevolence, Humanity and Compassion for their Fellow-Subjects in Danger and Distress and the agreeable Prospect, a laudable Desire of enjoying Quiet and Peace, in Consequence of a general Tranquility in the Land, must be considered as the genuine Motives and Springs inducing the Colony of Connecticut, to exert itself in the Manner and to the Degrees before mentioned.

And now, when all these Things are duly considered and viewed in a proper Light, will it not be thought that the Colony has good Reason to hope and expect, in Return for and in Consequence of such Services, if not to be indulged with greater and more extensive Favours from the Crown and Nation, at least to be protected and secured in the full Enjoyment of the Rights and Privileges essential to the Freedom of Englishmen, instead of having those Rights curtailed or infringed, by charging on them a Stamp Duty, as proposed, or any other the like new and unprecedented Taxation.

OBJECTION.

Perhaps, after all that hath been offered, it will be objected by some that America ought, and is able to bear a just Proportion of the American Expence; and that as the Duty already charged will, they suppose, not be sufficient to defray that Expence, it becomes necessary to make Additions to the Duties already laid.

ANSWER.

1st. In order to obviate and answer this Objection it may be necessary to enter a little into a Consideration of the Occasion and Nature of those Charges which, by some are denominated American Expences. That Expence which is occasioned merely for the Defence and Protection of the new Governments and Acquisitions, it is conceived ought not to be charged upon the Colonies in general, as it is truly no other than a national Interest, or an Interest of the particular new Governments or Acquisitions, and consequently ought, where it is not purely national, to be laid on those whose immediate Profit is advanced thereby. The old Colonies, especially New-England, were at the sole Charge of settling and defending themselves, and that they should now be compelled to contribute towards settling others, under much better Advantages in that Regard than they were, will not fail of being esteemed hard and injurious. If the Expence arises in defending and securing the Fur Trade and the Out-Posts requisite for carrying on the same, to oblige these Colonies which receive no immediate Advantage by it, to bear a proportionable Part of the Burden, will also be hard and unequal, and especially if that Trade is sufficiently profitable to support itself, if otherwise, why is there so much Care and mighty Attention constantly exercised towards it. If the Expence occurs in holding and protecting the new and large Acquisitions, wherefore should the Colonies bear that, when they have no Interest in them? they do indeed properly belong to the Crown, and will finally be disposed of and settled for the Benefit of the Crown and the Nation in general, and not for the Advantage of the Colonies in particular. But,

2dly. What America's proportionable Part in the American Expence will be, is somewhat uncertain and difficult to determine: And in order to form any tolerable Judgment in the Case, it will be necessary to consider the Wealth of the Colonies, compared with the Mother Country; their Number of Inhabitants, compared with the Extent of their own Country; the Nature of their Climates, in some of which the Cold Seasons are of such long Continuance, as to occasion a Consumption of the greatest Part of their Produce, their Trade and Commerce, the Profits of which in general center in Great Britain; their Business, Advantages and Disadvantages and other Circumstances, such as their being, in a general Way, obliged to spend so great a Proportion of their Labour in clearing, fencing and preparing their Lands for Improvement; and that the Surplus of their Labour, in many Instances, is but very little and in some Nothing at all. The clear Profits therefore to the Colonies being so very inconsiderable, it must surely be found, on a just and reasonable Computation, that their Proportion of any general national Expence, if any Thing, will be very small. But, 3dly. If, notwithstanding, it shall be judged necessary (which is even a difficult Supposition) to make an Addition to the Charges on America, yet it is humbly conceived, for the Reasons already offered, it will not by any Means ever be thought proper or just in order to effect that Purpose, it should be done in a Way that shall be an Infringement on the Constitutions of the Colonies, or that will deprive the Subjects in them of some of those important Liberties and Privileges, which, as Englishmen and Freemen they so justly value, and have a legal and equitable Right to, as well as the Rest of their Fellow-Subjects. Revenues are never raised in Great Britain by a Violation of the Constitution or any Part of it, but the Liberties and Privileges of the Subjects are always saved and maintained in those Cases; and why the Americans should not value their Privileges at as high a Rate as their Fellow-Subjects in Great-Britain do theirs, and wherefore the same Justice is not due to the one as to the other, what sufficient Reasons can possibly be assigned? Therefore whatever may be done in this Matter, it is humbly trusted will surely be effected in such Manner as to leave the Legislatures of the Colonies entire, and the People in the full Possession and Enjoyment of their just Rights and Immunities. This, it is conceived, might be effected by a Duty (if thought necessary and proper) on the Importation of Negroes, and on the Fur Trade, &c. for altho that on Slaves may and doubtless will fall with most Weight where the greatest Numbers are imported, yet will none be charged thereby but such as voluntarily submit to it; and was such Importation lessened, which might indeed be some Disadvantage to a few individuals, yet probably it would be attended with many salutary Effects, both with Respect to Great Britain and her Colonies in general. And as a principle Article of the Expence in America must be for protecting and securing the Fur Trade, what good Reasons can be adduced wherefore that Trade should not be so charged as to support itself? for (as hath been already hinted) if it will not bear this Charge, why is it still held and maintained at such great Expence?

Having thus shewn that the English are a free People; that their Freedom consists in these general Privileges, that No Laws can be made or abrogated without their Consent by Representatives, and for that Purpose have Right to elect their Representatives; that the American Colonists are as really the King's Subjects, as loyal, and have as much Right to the general and fundamental Privileges of the British Constitution, and to Protection in the Enjoyment thereof, as the Rest of their Fellow Subjects in the Mother Country; that, in Consequence hereof the Colonies and Plantations in America, according to the general Principles of the national Constitution, are vested with Authority of Legislation, and have Right to be represented in their Assemblies, in whom that Authority is lodged, and with whose Consent they are to be governed by the Crown; that for the Crown to govern these Colonies and Plantations by and with the Consent of the People in such legislative Assemblies, is properly and truly to govern them agreeable to the national Constitution, or that it is as conformable to the fundamental Principles of the British Government that the Subjects in the Colonies should be represented in Assemblies or legislative Bodies, as that the Subjects in Great Britain should be represented in Parliament or the supreme Legislature of the Nation, and that the Government of the Subjects, with the Consent of their respective Representatives, is founded on the same general and essential Principles of Liberty: That charging Stamp Duties, or internal Taxes on the Colony by Authority of Parliament, will be inconsistent with those Authorities and Privileges which the Colonies and the People in them legally enjoy, and have, with the Approbation of the supreme Power of the Nation, been in the Use and Possession of for a long Course of Years; as also the Probability that such Measures will, in the Event, prove prejudicial to the national Interest as well as hurtful to the Colonies, together with some Matters and Circumstances more directly and peculiarly in Favour of the Colony of Connecticut, and the especial public and benevolent Services performed by it on many Occasions, which may justly merit some favourable Considerations; and answered such Objections as might probably be made against the Tenor of the Reasonings and Representations herein offered and laid down; it is now concluded, that on the Account of these and such other weighty Reasons as may occur, a British Parliament whose Design is to keep up that Constitution, support the Honour and Prerogative of the Crown, and maintain the Privileges of the People, will have a tender Regard for the Rights and Immunities of the King's Subjects in the American Colonies, and charge no internal Taxations upon them without their Consent.
